U.N. Rejects Nikita Demand On U-2 Debate

Premier Threatens Red Boycott Of Disarm Discussions

COMBINED AP & UPI

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly delivered another major diplomatic defeat to Premier Nikita Khrushchev today despite his threat of a Communist boycott if he did not get his way on disarmament and other issues.

The Assembly ignored new Communist threats aaginst the United States and Khrushchev's impassioned oratory to vote against his demand for floor debate on his charges of U.S. aggression against Russia through the U-2 and RB-47 flights. The vote was 54 to 10 with 33 abstentions.

TELLS DEMANDS

Before the vote on the aggression issue Khrushchev said the Communists would boycott all disarmament negotiations until the assembly adopts a Russian disarmament resolution and agrees to reorganize the U.N. secretariat along the lines he demanded.

The Soviet leader tossed the resolution into the 99-nation assembly in the midst of a debate on his own move to get a direct assembly debate on U.S. spy plane flights.

He said he was making his move because he was returning to Moscow tonight.

'WON'T WORK'

"Until this resolution is adopted," he said, "we won't work in the first (political) committee, the 10-nation committee, or a 15-nation committee either."

The 10-nation committee is the East-West disarmament group which met in Geneva before the Soviet bloc walked out last summer.

Khrushchev has proposed that it be increased to 15 members with the addition of five neutral countries.

He declared today the United States brought the world beyond the brink of war with U-2 spy flights. He asserted President Eisenhower had lied about the flights and that the United

DOOR-TO-DOOR DRIVE

Crusade Enters Homes Tomorrow

Three thousand volunteers will start a door-to-door campaign tomorrow as the United Bay Area Crusade launches its residential campaign in Marin County.

This year's goal in the residential campaign is $40,000, announced Aubrey Burns, Marin United Crusade manager. The overall goal for the county in the entire campaign is $159,329.

The drive will begin after two special radio broadcasts over radio station KTIM. The volunteers will begin their campaign after "kaffee klatches" in neighboring homes Burns said.

The volunteers will watch special telecasts at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. over their coffee cups. These television shows are aimed at the entire corps of 24,000 residential volunteers in the Bay Area, Burns reported. Specific instructions for the Marin group will be given over KTIM after the telecasts.

Mrs. Leigh J. Abell Jr., residential division chairman and Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon, president of the United Crusade in Marin will conduct the broadcast, along with himself, Burns related.

The campaign is slated to last for a 10-day period, Burns noted.

A residential block assignment system will be used in greater Mill Valley, San Rafael, San Anselmo and Sleepy Hollow.

The system "that makes it easier for the volunteer" by supplying each crewman with a printed instruction sheet was inaugurated in Mill Valley last year, Burns stated.

In the other Marin communities, local chairmen are encouraging and organizing the campaign, Burns said.

Mazeroski's Homer Cinches Championship

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bill Mazeroski's home run in the ninth inning today gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a sensational 10-9 victory over the New York Yankees and their first World Series championship in 35 years.

Mazeroski's leadoff homer in the bottom of the ninth on the second pitch by relief pitcher Ralph Terry soared over the left field wall and touched off wild scenes of celebration in Forbes Field.

The winning blow came just after the Yankees had scored two runs in their half of the ninth to tie the thrilling series finale, 9-9.

The seventh and deciding game provided one thrill after another for the 36,683 fans at the ball park and the millions more watching and listening on television and radio.

The Pirates had taken a 4-0 lead after two innings on Rocky Nelson's two-run homer in the first inning off Bob Turley and Bill Virdon's two-run single in the second off rookie Bill Stafford. The Yanks finally broke through starter Vernon Law for a run on Moose Skowron's homer in the fifth.

When the Yanks erupted for four runs in the sixth and a 5-4 lead on Law and relief ace Elroy Face. Yogi Berra's three-run homer climaxed the big rally.

The Yanks rapped Face for two more runs on three hits in the eighth inning for a 7-4 advantage and it appeared the Pirates were dead. But nobody told that to the Bucs.

They came ripping and tearing back with five runs in the eighth inning, climaxed by Hal Smith's long three run homer.

Face had gone out for a pinch-hitter in the ninth and the Pirates called on Bob Friend, a two-game loser. Friend didn't last long.

Bobby Richardson, a menace to the Pirates right through the series, singled to start the ninth. Pinch-hitter Dale Long singled to right, sending Richardson to second and finished Friend.

Lefty Harvey Haddix came in and rubbed out Roger Maris on a foul to the catcher. Mickey Mantle lined a single to right center scoring Richardson and sending Long to third.

Gil McDougald ran for Long. Berra's sharp grounder inside first base was grabbed by Rocky Nelson who stepped on first to retire the batter. But Mantle, in a brilliant move, slid back and regained first base, evading Nelson's tag. Since Nelson had retired Berra, he had to tag Mantle to put him out. McDougald scored on the play to tie the score at 9-9.

Bill Skowron then forced Mantle at second on a grounder to Dick Groat. That set it all up for Mazeroski.

U.S. Rockets 3 Mice In Space, Recovers Them Alive At Sea

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Three mice named Sally, Amy and Moe rocketed 700 miles into space today and were recovered alive and in good condition from the South Atlantic, 5,000 miles away.

The Air Force said that a brief announcement from the recovery ship reported all three mice were alive when removed from a special sealed container which rode in the nose cone of an Atlas missile. They were the first living animals returned from this far in space.

Just how well the black mice survived the 18,000-mile-an-hour trip through the lower level of the Van Allen radiation belt probably won't be known until they have been studied for several days, perhaps weeks.

The tiny travelers made the radiation ride in a minature model of a man-in-space cabin. The experiment is another step toward manned space travel.

The Atlas roared away from this test center at 4:35 a.m. and 25 minutes later plunked the one and one-half-ton cone on a bullseye north of Ascension Island. Within 20 minutes the range recovery vessel Coastal Crusader spotted the cone.

90% VOTE TURNOUT SEEN FOR COUNTY

The Nov. 8 general election will bring a record turnout of Marin voters, County Clerk George S. Jones predicted today.

On the basis of the number of applications thus far for absentee ballots, Jones estimated the voter turnout will be about 90 per cent, or about 65,000 voters.

During the 1956 presidential election, a total of 1,481 applied for absentee ballots. This year, with several weeks still to go, more than 1,300 have applied for absentee ballots.

"There is little question this will be the heaviest turnout thus far," said Jones.

Marin voters who will be out of the county on Nov. 8 may apply for absentee ballots now, and pick them up between Oct. 19 and Nov. 3. During that period, absentee voters may turn in sealed ballots at the county clerk's office or take out ballots for mailing to the county clerk.

The county clerk will begin mailing out absentee ballots on Oct. 19 for those who apply but do not pick up the ballots in person.

Auto Crash Injures Boy, Jails Woman

A two-car collision in front of the Greyhound bus depot in San Rafael today sent a youth to the hospital, a woman to county jail, and her pet dog to the Marin County Humane Society shelter.

Police Officer Raymond Bleasdale booked Mrs. Grace May Colvin, 62, of 22 Upper Toyon Drive, San Rafael, on suspicion of drunken driving.

Police said Mrs. Colvin drove to the bus station about 8:30 a.m. to pick up her maid. As she drove off, her car hit a railroad wig-wag signal. She put the car in reverse, and the

Belvedere Chief Nabs Suspected Burglar

Belvedere Police Chief William Woodington nabbed a San Francisco man in the act of trying to tear down a service station door in Tiburon this morning.

Sheriff's deputies, called to Lou and Ray's Service Station at Tiburon Boulevard and Beach Road about 5:30, identified the suspected burglar as Robert John Glover, 24, San Francisco. Officers said the car used by Glover appears to have been stolen from Paul J. Murray of 5940 California Street, San Francisco.

Deputies Boyd Burnham and Charles Prandi found a screwdriver lying on the ground next to the car, and a flashlight in Glover's pocket. The suspect at first gave another name, but Sgt. Sidney Weber recognized him.

Aubrey David Olsen of Building B, Apartment 16, Hilarita Housing, was on his way to work at the post office shortly after 5 a.m. when he spotted Glover trying to kick in the service station door. He called Chief Woodington.

Woodington handcuffed the suspect and turned him over to sheriff's deputies.

Glover has a long record of burglaries in Marin and an armed robbery in San Francisco, according to sheriff's office records. Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert said Glover is also believed to be an escapee from Napa State Hospital, and the state parole office also wants him.

Gasoline War Just About Vaporizes

San Rafael's little gasoline price war all but vanished today.

"I was under the impression the dealers wanted lower prices, but I guess they don't," said Fred Pape, operator of the Boulevard Service Center at 200 Francisco Boulevard, who had cut prices to 29.9 cents for regular and 35 cents for ethyl gasoline. He said he planned to return to the standard prices of 33.9 and 38.9 cents.

Bob Harper, operator of the Third and Irwin Streets Shell station, said however he planned to stick to the lower prices. "I'm competing with San Francisco," he said.

One other station, across the street from Harper's, had the lower prices today. Other operators indicated no plan to cut from the regular Marin prices, which are customarily 2 cents above those in San Francisco.

Stinson-Bolinas School Union Vote Set Dec. 13

Residents of Stinson Beach and Bolinas will vote Dec. 13 on unionization of their school districts.

Trustees of Stinson Beach and Bolinas Schools set the election date at a joint meeting last night at the Stinson Beach School.

The two schools are in their second year of joint operation with first, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades being taught at Bolinas and second, third and fourth grades at Stinson Beach.

If unionization is voted, permanent merger could not be effective until next July, said Arthur E. Carpenter, clerk of the Bolinas district.

There will be two public meetings prior to the election, one at Bolinas and one at Stinson Beach, to answer questions on the pros and cons of the election, said Carpenter. Dates have not been set for the meetings. Polling places will be at both schools, he said.

The election date must be approved by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis. The trustees declared again last night that they are strongly in favor of a "yes" vote on the subject of unionization.

The joint boards also allotted funds for a beginning library of 200 books in American and English literature, to cost about $500, for the upper grades.

The boards voted a "gag rule," resolving that information about the boards must be given out only by Carpenter and Mrs. Blanche Eustis, clerk of the Stinson Beach board.

U.N. Assembly Adjourns In Wild Disorder

Nikita Unshoes Himself, Boland Breaks The Gavel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly, swept with disorder by Communist insults and the wildest scenes in its history, tensely awaited more flareups today as delegates prepared to debate on colonialism.

The chaos raised some doubts whether Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would fly home to Moscow tonight, but he anounced he has not changed his plans.

He may thus depart before the assembly comes to grips with one of his favorite topics —a charge that the United States committed aggression with spy flights over the Soviet Union.

The Assembly was delayed yesterday by:

1. Three Khrushchev trips to the rostrum to speak, during one of which he called Sen. Lorenzo Sumulong, a Philippine delegate, "this jerk" or "this joker" and a "stooge" or "boot licker."

2. Communist fury that exploded when Sumulong, speaking on the question of colonialism, said the debate should be expanded to include nations of Eastern Europe that have been deprived of their freedom by the Soviets.

3. Repeated and stormy interruptions by Romanian delegate Eduard Mezincescu and Khrushchev on what they called points of order. They used the device to accuse Assembly president Frederick H. Boland of Ireland of partiality toward the West in his rulings.

4. The final climatic moment when Boland, beet-red and glaring, began banging his gavel and suddenly adjourned the session "in view of the scene we have just witnessed."

Boland wielded the gavel with such force that it broke.

For an instant, the hundreds of delegates sat in startled silence. Then wild applause for Boland swelled through the great hall. It lasted five minutes, reaching the dimensions of an ovation. The Communists did not join in.

All of this arose out of a procedural question — whether to put the Soviet call for a declaration against colonialism before the full Assembly or whether to consider it first in the political committee, the usual U. N. procedure.

Khrushchev battled savagely to get it before the Assembly first.

Mezincescu's last interruption — before Boland broke the gavel in cutting off the session — came after U. S. delegate Francis O. Wilcox said: "Everyone here in this assembly hall is fully aware of the sad fact that there are a number of states in Eastern Europe which do not have complete independence."

At that point the Romanian took the rostrum on a point of order and denounced Wilcox. Then, as he began a remark about Ireland, Boland threw the switch on the public address system, cut off the sound and began smiting with the gavel.

There was complete pandemonium. Finally, Boland's voice, usually cool and measured but crackling now, said the session was adjourned. It was the most tumultuous session in U. N. history.

Khrushchev outdid all previous performances.

At one point, he had his shoe off, waving it over his head. Then he used it instead of his fists to bang the desk in his customary gesture of disapproval.

In his first trip to the rostrum he read a prepared speech.

He took some cracks at the treatment of Negroes in the United States and accused Britain of sending troops and arms, instead of "bread, medicine and teachers." to the colonial regions.

Then he urged people in colonial regimes to take up arms in the fight for independence.

"If the United Nations fails to adopt the proposals," he said, "the peoples of the colonial countries will have no alternative but to take to arms."

And he said the Soviet Union will help them.

New Gavel Needed For U.N. President

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—First unofficial item of business for today at the U.N. General Assembly is getting President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland a new gavel to replace the one he broke in yesterday's tumultuous session.

Wags said he might send home to Ireland for a shillelagh as a replacement.

Congo Foes Tighten Guard On Lumumba

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — The Congolese Army will not try to take by force deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba from United Nations troops guarding him, Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu said today.

But if Lumumba tries to leave his house, as he did last Sunday for a tour of bars in an effort to whip up public sentiment, Mobuto warned that Congolese troops will arrest him immediately.

Mobutu's declaration was expected to ease the tension which has built up with Mobutu's troops posed in a ring around the U.N. forces stationed in the gardens of Lumumba's residence for his protection.

Lumumba has ben ordered arrested for trying to impose his dictatorship on the Congo with the help of "other countries," a veiled reference to the Soviet Union and other Communist bloc nations.

Mobutu has sought to implement the arrest order, but the U.N. has refused to permit Lumumba's seizure because he has parliamentary immunity.

When, as and if parliament lifts that immunity by a free and public vote, it might be another matter.

But the U.N. refusal to permit action by Mobutu and his 28-man commission of technicians which is running the government has brought an impasse.

Mobutu's troops have laid virtual siege to Lumumba's house. Last night information commissioner Albert Bolela said that in reprisal for U.N. actions, the Congolese were cutting off U.N. programs on the national radio.

Argentina's Crisis Ends In Compromise

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentina's latest military crisis appeared today to have ended in a compromise amounting to victory for President Arturo Frondizi.

A "white house" announcement revealed Frondizi had yielded to some of the "suggestions" made by a group of "rebel" generals, but indicated he stood firm against demands for the dismissal of key cabinet ministers and revision of "pro-foreign" economic policies.

ALERT ENDS

The defense ministry announced at midnight it had revoked orders alerting thousands of soldiers, sailors, marines and police which were issued when it appeared the crisis might erupt into major violence.

Gen. Rodolfo Larcher, who resigned as army secretary Tuesday night, was reinstated last night. Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero, army commander and chief of the "rebels," also retained his job.

"I am exercising full constitutional authority," Frondizi told newsmen when he emerged from a conference with the chiefs of Argentina's armed forces. "Having definitely clarified this, I am returning to my home."

LIST OF 'SUGGESTIONS'

The crisis came to a head Tuesday when the generals drafted a list of "suggestions" for new revisions in his policies.

The suggestions were said to include a demand for the dismissal of economy minister Alvaro Alsogaray, architect of Argentina's current austerity and recovery programs, who was touring the United States.

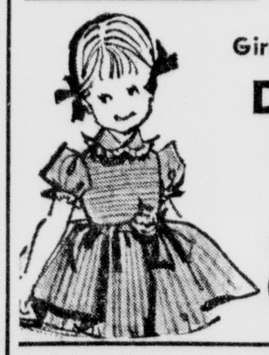

The generals also called for a crackdown on corrupt officials and officials with links to the Communist or Peronist parties and demanded revision of government oil policies which they said gave undue advantages to foreign firms.

U.N. Assembly Adjourns In Wild Disorder

Nikita Unshoes Himself, Boland Breaks The Gavel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly, swept with disorder by Communist insults and the wildest scenes in its history, tensely awaited more flareups today as delegates prepared to debate on colonialism.

The chaos raised some doubts whether Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would fly home to Moscow tonight, but he anounced he has not changed his plans.

He may thus depart before the assembly comes to grips with one of his favorite topics —a charge that the United States committed aggression with spy flights over the Soviet Union.

The Assembly was delayed yesterday by:

1. Three Khrushchev trips to the rostrum to speak, during one of which he called Sen. Lorenzo Sumulong, a Philippine delegate, "this jerk" or "this joker" and a "stooge" or "boot licker."

2. Communist fury that exploded when Sumulong, speaking on the question of colonialism, said the debate should be expanded to include nations of Eastern Europe that have been deprived of their freedom by the Soviets.

3. Repeated and stormy interruptions by Romanian delegate Eduard Mezincescu and Khrushchev on what they called points of order. They used the device to accuse Assembly president Frederick H. Boland of Ireland of partiality toward the West in his rulings.

4. The final climatic moment when Boland, beet-red and glaring, began banging his gavel and suddenly adjourned the session "in view of the scene we have just witnessed."

Boland wielded the gavel with such force that it broke.

For an instant, the hundreds of delegates sat in startled silence. Then wild applause for Boland swelled through the great hall. It lasted five minutes, reaching the dimensions of an ovation. The Communists did not join in.

All of this arose out of a procedural question — whether to put the Soviet call for a declaration against colonialism before the full Assembly or whether to consider it first in the political committee, the usual U. N. procedure.

Khrushchev battled savagely to get it before the Assembly first.

Mezincescu's last interruption — before Boland broke the gavel in cutting off the session — came after U. S. delegate Francis O. Wilcox said: "Everyone here in this assembly hall is fully aware of the sad fact that there are a number of states in Eastern Europe which do not have complete independence."

At that point the Romanian took the rostrum on a point of order and denounced Wilcox. Then, as he began a remark about Ireland, Boland threw the switch on the public address system, cut off the sound and began smiting with the gavel.

There was complete pandemonium. Finally, Boland's voice, usually cool and measured but crackling now, said the session was adjourned. It was the most tumultuous session in U. N. history.

Khrushchev outdid all previous performances.

At one point, he had his shoe off, waving it over his head. Then he used it instead of his fists to bang the desk in his customary gesture of disapproval.

In his first trip to the rostrum he read a prepared speech.

He took some cracks at the treatment of Negroes in the United States and accused Britain of sending troops and arms, instead of "bread, medicine and teachers." to the colonial regions.

Then he urged people in colonial regimes to take up arms in the fight for independence.

"If the United Nations fails to adopt the proposals," he said, "the peoples of the colonial countries will have no alternative but to take to arms."

And he said the Soviet Union will help them.

New Gavel Needed For U.N. President

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—First unofficial item of business for today at the U.N. General Assembly is getting President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland a new gavel to replace the one he broke in yesterday's tumultuous session.

Wags said he might send home to Ireland for a shillelagh as a replacement.

Congo Foes Tighten Guard On Lumumba

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — The Congolese Army will not try to take by force deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba from United Nations troops guarding him, Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu said today.

But if Lumumba tries to leave his house, as he did last Sunday for a tour of bars in an effort to whip up public sentiment, Mobutu warned that Congolese troops will arrest him immediately.

Mobutu's declaration was expected to ease the tension which has built up with Mobutu's troops posed in a ring around the U.N. forces stationed in the gardens of Lumumba's residence for his protection.

Lumumba has ben ordered arrested for trying to impose his dictatorship on the Congo with the help of "other counties," a veiled reference to the Soviet Union and other Communist bloc nations.

Yank Adventurer Executed In Cuba For Invasion Plot

HAVANA (AP) — A young American adventurer and 12 Cubans were executed today for plotting to overthrow Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The American, first to be executed by the Castro regime, was Anthony Zabra of Somerville, Mass. He went before a firing squad in Santiago with seven Cuban companions. Havana radio stations reported five other Cubans were executed in Santa Clara.

Zarba and his companions had been convicted only hours before by a revolutionary military court of staging a Castro-style invasion to set up a guerrilla front in Cuba.

The eight prisoners were led before four different firing squads near Santiago, two at a time. The reports of the first rifles cracked down the San Juan Valley firing range at 4:50 a.m.

Havana radio stations said another firing squad in the provincial capital of Santa Clara, in central Cuba, executed five insurgents captured in the Escambray Mountains. Two were reported to have been rebel leaders.

MILITIAMEN FIRED

Radio VOZ in Havana said the firing squads were composed of militiamen. The duty officer at Santa Clara military headquarters said he had no immediate information on executions there, but the government-controlled stations usually are well informed.

Zarba, a 27-year-old adventurer who landed on the northeast coast of Cuba with a small party of invaders last week, was the first U.S. citizen to die before a Castro firing squad. Another American, Alan Robert Nye of Whiting, Ind., was given a death sentence last year for plotting to kill Castro, but the sentence was suspended, and he was expelled from the country.

PLEA IGNORED

The U.S. embassy appealed to Castro's government last night for a stay of execution and clemency for Zabra, but this apparently was ignored.

A five-man military tribunal sentenced Zabra and seven of his Cuban invasion companies to death last night after convicting them of landing with a 27-man group on the northeast coast of Oriente province last week. A military appeals court quickly rejected defense attorneys' appeals from the death penalty.

Assassination Perils Japan Government

TOKYO (UPI) — Violent left-wing and Communist protests over the assassination of Socialist Party chairman Inejiro Asanuma forced the resignation of Japan's security chief today, and threatened the stability of the government itself.

Two thousands policemen armed with clubs and pistols and backed up by a dozen armored trucks scattered groups of fanatical Zengakuren students who tried to mount new demonstrations outside parliament and Premier Hayato Ikeda's home.

By threatening arrests and ordering the demonstrators to "keep moving" they hoped to head off a buildup to the type of massive bloody riots that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit last June and ultimately led to the resignation of Premier Nobusuke Kishi.

Ikeda, hoping to escape the same fate, met with his cabinet and accepted the resignation of his anti-Communist state police minister, Iwao Yamazaki.

Asanuma, an outspoken foe of the U.S.-Japan military pact and friendly toward Communist China, was stabbed to death during a political rally yesterday. His assassin was a 17-year-old ultra-nationalist student, Otaya Yamaguchi.

Storm Hampers Search For Missing Flier

WAKE ISLAND (UPI)—Rough seas and rain squalls today hampered the search for a North Dakota air national guardsman whose plane crashed at sea while he and a companion were attempting a non-stop record flight for lighter aircraft.

The missing man was Lt. Duane Stirling, 27, of Fargo, N.D. His plane crashed about three miles offshore, as he was attempting to reach this mid-Pacific island for an emergency landing.

Stirling's companion, Capt. Charles Finnegan, 30, also of Fargo, landed safely. The two men, flying identical planes, were attempting a 7,698-mile non-stop flight from Oakland to Manila.

Finnegan said he and Stirling were three miles northwest of Wake at an altitude of about 100 feet when Stirling reported his plane would not climb. The lieutenant radioed that he was ditching in the ocean.

Finnegan said he circled in the dark for a signal light, and then flew to Wake for assistance. A Navy crash boat found Stirling's plane drifting toward a reef about three hours later, but there was no sign of the pilot.

Early fall is the best time to plant a new lawn or reseed an older lawn. Temperatures then are moderate and there is generally enough moisture to cause germination and insure continued plant growth.

The American, first to be executed by the Castro regime, was Anthony Zabra of Somerville, Mass. He went before a firing squad in Santiago with seven Cuban companions. Havana radio stations reported five other Cubans were executed in Santa Clara.

Zarba and his companions had been convicted only hours before by a revolutionary military court of staging a Castro-style invasion to set up a guerrilla front in Cuba.

The eight prisoners were led before four different firing squads near Santiago, two at a time. The reports of the first rifles cracked down the San Juan Valley firing range at 4:50 a.m.

Havana radio stations said another firing squad in the provincial capital of Santa Clara, in central Cuba, executed five insurgents captured in the Escambray Mountains. Two were reported to have been rebel leaders.

MILITIAMEN FIRED

Radio VOZ in Havana said the firing squads were composed of militiamen. The duty officer at Santa Clara military headquarters said he had no immediate information on executions there, but the government-controlled stations usually are well informed.

Zarba, a 27-year-old adventurer who landed on the northeast coast of Cuba with a small party of invaders last week, was the first U.S. citizen to die before a Castro firing squad. Another American, Alan Robert Nye of Whiting, Ind., was given a death sentence last year for plotting to kill Castro, but the sentence was suspended, and he was expelled from the country.

PLEA IGNORED

The U.S. embassy appealed to Castro's government last night for a stay of execution and clemency for Zabra, but this apparently was ignored.

A five-man military tribunal sentenced Zabra and seven of his Cuban invasion companies to death last night after convicting them of landing with a 27-man group on the northeast coast of Oriente province last week. A military appeals court quickly rejected defense attorneys' appeals from the death penalty.

Assassination Perils Japan Government

TOKYO (UPI) — Violent left-wing and Communist protests over the assassination of Socialist Party chairman Inejiro Asanuma forced the resignation of Japan's security chief today, and threatened the stability of the government itself.

Two thousands policemen armed with clubs and pistols and backed up by a dozen armored trucks scattered groups of fanatical Zengakuren students who tried to mount new demonstrations outside parliament and Premier Hayato Ikeda's home.

By threatening arrests and ordering the demonstrators to "keep moving" they hoped to head off a buildup to the type of massive bloody riots that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit last June and ultimately led to the resignation of Premier Nobusuke Kishi.

Ikeda, hoping to escape the same fate, met with his cabinet and accepted the resignation of his anti-Communist state police minister, Iwao Yamazaki.

Asanuma, an outspoken foe of the U.S.-Japan military pact and friendly toward Communist China, was stabbed to death during a political rally yesterday. His assassin was a 17-year-old ultra-nationalist student, Otaya Yamaguchi.

Storm Hampers Search For Missing Flier

WAKE ISLAND (UPI)—Rough seas and rain squalls today hampered the search for a North Dakota air national guardsman whose plane crashed at sea while he and a companion were attempting a non-stop record flight for lighter aircraft.

The missing man was Lt. Duane Stirling, 27, of Fargo, N.D. His plane crashed about three miles offshore, as he was attempting to reach this mid-Pacific island for an emergency landing.

Stirling's companion, Capt. Charles Finnegan, 30, also of Fargo, landed safely. The two men, flying identical planes, were attempting a 7,698-mile non-stop flight from Oakland to Manila.

Finnegan said he and Stirling were three miles northwest of Wake at an altitude of about 100 feet when Stirling reported his plane would not climb. The lieutenant radioed that he was ditching in the ocean.

Finnegan said he circled in the dark for a signal light, and then flew to Wake for assistance. A Navy crash boat found Stirling's plane drifting toward a reef about three hours later, but there was no sign of the pilot.

Dixie School Board Awards Site Contract

Wise and McGinty Co. of Sonoma was awarded a contract by Dixie School District trustees last night to develop the site of the Don Timoteo Murphy School in Terra Linda. The firm's low bid was $41,931.

Six other bids ranged up to $87,000.

The Sonoma firm will grade and provide drainage at the school site on Trellis Drive. Award of the contract is subject to the approval of the State Allocation Board.

The trustees voted to use any money available from federal funds to construct a multi-use room at the Mary E. Silveira School in Marinwood. Willis said there will be about $100,000 available from the federal sources.

The board also adopted a class size policy that sets the limits of kindergarten classes at 31 students and the first and second grades at 30 pupils, Supt. Dennie B. Willis announced.

The employment of Mrs. Helen L. Schwab of San Rafael as secretary and clerk for the district librarian and curriculum consultant was confirmed by the board. Mrs. Schwab will received an annual salary of $2,258.

The board raised the salary of one bus driver $245 to compensate for increased hours caused by additional stops and routes and authorized a change in the approved application for National Defense Education Act funds stating $600 of the $1,100 approved equipment fund would be used for books, Willis said.

E. E. Lenander, chairman, was absent from last night's meeting.

$620,000 Suit Filed In Office Plan Dispute

Novato real estate agent Robert B. Campbell, who had hopes of operating a 30-unit office building in town, is suing landowner George Schilling for $620,000 damages in Marin Superior Court.

Schilling's property is at Diablo Avenue and Court Road, Novato.

Campbell contends that last June Schilling agreed to sell him about one acre on which an office building was to be erected. The land, originally zoned residential, was rezoned to professional and administrative office use.

Then last Sept. 20, Schilling refused to go ahead with the agreement, Campbell alleges. Campbell says the land and structure would have been worth $350,000, and profit from ownership and use of the building would have come to $270,000.

Campbell says he suffered $620,000 damages because of the owner's failure to live up to the agreement.

Chamber Hits Water, Solons Vote Measures

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce has turned thumbs down on only two of the California state propositions on the November ballot.

The chamber announced today it recommends a "no" vote on Propositions 1 and 15.

Proposition 1 calls for a $1,750,000,000 bond issue to be used by the Department of Water Resources for the development of water resources in the state.

Chamber of commerce manager Richard L. Shirley said the group "feels this is not in the best interests of the state."

Proposition 15 provides for a constitutional amendment that would establish 40 senatorial districts, divided half-and-half between north and south.

Harry Glassman, chairman of the chamber's legislative affairs committee, said that this proposition would "eliminate regional representation" and could be a "ruinous measure."

The chamber endorsed all other propositions on the ballot.

Owner Drives Long Way For Cat

BUFFALO, Wyo. (AP)—The Tom Wardall family of Wichita, Kan., must like its pet cat.

When Wardall stopped at a Buffalo service station, the cat strayed away and couldn't be found.

Wardall asked radio station KBBS to broadcast an alert for the pet and to instruct the finder to wire him in Wichita.

The cat was found and Wardall was notified. He drove nearly 1,000 miles back to Buffalo to retrieve the pet—and gave the finder a $40 reward.

The Air Force emphasized the main purposes of the flight were to test the new cone and general performance of the Convair-made missile. The mice and other experiments were placed aboard because there was extra room in the area of the cone which in wartime could be occupied by a nuclear warhead.

This was the third test for the cone, designated RVX-2A. The previous two sank after successful Atlas flights because of failure of recovery gear.

All three mice are 12 weeks old. They rode in separate compartments in a 16-inch long, 6-inch diameter cylinder which was airtight to give the tiny passengers a self-contained, sealed environment.

Their initials—S.A.M.—stand for the School of Aviation Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, Tex.

The school is conducting extensive research of biomedical problems of space flight.

Dr. H. C. Clamman, the school's director of space medicine, described the mouse-carrying cylinder as "a small forerunner of a model of a man-in-space capsule." It was half-filled with oxygen containers and electronic devices to simulate an earth-like environment which may be necessary for manned-space travel.

Strapped to Amy like a saddle was an instrument package weighing one-fourth of an ounce, to radio information on heart beat, respiration and other reactions throughout most of the flight—during 10 minutes of which the mice were to be in a weightless state. No instruments were attached to Sally or Moe.

Applause rocked the hall when Wadsworth demanded that Khrushchev be instructed to "respect the dignity of this house."

This morning's session of the U.N. was calm in comparison to the uproarious scene in which it adjourned last night.

Khrushchev won a minor—and first—victory when the United States and Britain agreed to a Soviet resolution calling for the subject of colonialism and freedom of nations to be debated in the General Assembly rather than in the smaller political committee.

A unanimous decision to that effect was taken after Sekou Toure, the Communist-oriented president of Guinea, rebuked Red delegates for their rowdy performance last night and called for an end to acrimony.

NWP Offices To Be Merged Next Monday

Northwestern Pacific Railroad's San Rafael freight offices will be consolidated Monday with the passenger operations at Third Street and Tamalpais Avenue, it was announced today.

George L. Morrison, vice president and general manager, said the change will provide greater convenience for customers.

Traffic congestion has been increasing in the neighborhood of the present freight office at Second Street and Francisco Boulevard while the freight business has been dropping off, according to D. C. Kilborn, chief clerk.

He said "it will be handier for us not to run down to another office and better for the public to keep out of that traffic."

The freight agency at Tiburon is slated to be discontinued at the end of this month and its work will be handled in San Rafael.

Kilborn said the Tiburon agency has not dealt with the public but keeps records on interchange cars received by car ferry at Tiburon from the Santa Fe Railroad.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has asked views of the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce on the Tiburon discontinuance, but Kilborn said the railroad already ascertained there was no objection.

Mill Valley Boy Finds, Gets To Keep Instrument

A 16-year-old Mill Valley boy, who found a weather instrument while deer hunting in Calaveras County, was delighted last night when Lt. Paul M. Giffin Jr. of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Station on Mount Tamalpais said he could keep it.

Bill Hurley Jr., 16, Tamalpais High School senior of 191 Tamalpais Avenue, found the instrumetn with case and top of a balloon connected to it, hanging from a tree near San Andreas two weeks ago. He took it to the air station.

Lt. Col. Gus Weiser, commanding officer, said the instrument appeared to be a sonde, used to transmit signals back to the home station and then parachute free. "It was weather beaten and messed up," he said.

Young Hurley and his cousin, John Bowman, 16, of 199 Tamalpais Avenue, will probably take it apart and try to make it work again, said the finder's mother.

'LIL INKY IS JUST PLAIN STINKY TODAY

Inky is in the doghouse today.

Inky, a terrier type dog owned by Belvedere police officer Robert Scheiner, tangled with a skunk at 8 p.m. yesterday outside the door of the city hall.

Police Chief William S. Woodington, working inside, smelled a commotion through the window and ran to see "one of the biggest skunks I ever saw" waving his tail at Inky.

"Inky ran to his house screaming his head off," Worthington said. "The skunk wandered calmly off into the hills."

Epler To Tell Board Of Plan For Students

A student-help program under which students would work as part time assistants to instructors in 11 departments at College of Marin will be proposed to the board of trustees tonight by director Stephen E. Epler.

A report on gifted high school students attending the college will be given by dean of students Irwin P. Diamond. Dr. Duncan Greene, counsellor of women, who joined the college staff this year, will be formally introduced to the trustees.

In business matters, the trustees will be consider a proposal to increase mileage allowance for use of private cars on school business and will discuss authorization of travel expenses for school officials.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in Room 61 of the Arts Building.

Jerome's brother, Darryl, 16, who was just getting out of the car, complained of wrist and back pains. He went to San Rafael General Hospital for X-rays.

Mrs. Colvin's car was towed to D and S Garage, and her black and white dog was temporarily quartered at the humane society. Mrs. Colvin was jailed in lieu of $263 bail.

The maid, Janie Young, who came from San Francisco, stepped out of the damaged car, bewildered but unhurt. When her employer went to the county jail, she left for parts unknown.

carried a group of radiation study instruments.

The Air Force emphasized the main purposes of the flight were to test the new cone and general performance of the Convair-made missile. The mice and other experiments were placed aboard because there was extra room in the area of the cone which in wartime could be occupied by a nuclear warhead.

This was the third test for the cone, designated RVX-2A. The previous two sank after successful Atlas flights because of failure of recovery gear.

All three mice are 12 weeks old. They rode in separate compartments in a 16-inch long, 6-inch diameter cylinder which was airtight to give the tiny passengers a self-contained, sealed environment.

Their initials—S.A.M.—stand for the School of Aviation Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, Tex.

The school is conducting extensive research of biomedical problems of space flight.

Dr. H. C. Clamman, the school's director of space medicine, described the mouse-carrying cylinder as "a small forerunner of a model of a man-in-space capsule." It was half-filled with oxygen containers and electronic devices to simulate an earth-like environment which may be necessary for manned-space travel.

Strapped to Amy like a saddle was an instrument package weighing one-fourth of an ounce, to radio information on heart beat, respiration and other reactions throughout most of the flight—during 10 minutes of which the mice were to be in a weightless state. No instruments were attached to Sally or Moe.

NWP Offices To Be Merged Next Monday

Northwestern Pacific Railroad's San Rafael freight offices will be consolidated Monday with the passenger operations at Third Street and Tamalpais Avenue, it was announced today.

George L. Morrison, vice president and general manager, said the change will provide greater convenience for customers.

Traffic congestion has been increasing in the neighborhood of the present freight office at Second Street and Francisco Boulevard while the freight business has been dropping off, according to D. C. Kilborn, chief clerk.

He said "it will be handier for us not to run down to another office and better for the public to keep out of that traffic."

The freight agency at Tiburon is slated to be discontinued at the end of this month and its work will be handled in San Rafael.

Kilborn said the Tiburon agency has not dealt with the public but keeps records on interchange cars received by car ferry at Tiburon from the Santa Fe Railroad.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has asked views of the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce on the Tiburon discontinuance, but Kilborn said the railroad already ascertained there was no objection.

Mill Valley Boy Finds, Gets To Keep Instrument

A 16-year-old Mill Valley boy, who found a weather instrument while deer hunting in Calaveras County, was delighted last night when Lt. Paul M. Giffin Jr. of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Station on Mount Tamalpais said he could keep it.

Bill Hurley Jr., 16, Tamalpais High School senior of 191 Tamalpais Avenue, found the instrumetn with case and top of a balloon connected to it, hanging from a tree near San Andreas two weeks ago. He took it to the air station.

Lt. Col. Gus Weiser, commanding officer, said the instrument appeared to be a sonde, used to transmit signals back to the home station and then parachute free. "It was weather beaten and messed up," he said.

Young Hurley and his cousin, John Bowman, 16, of 199 Tamalpais Avenue, will probably take it apart and try to make it work again, said the finder's mother.

'LIL INKY IS JUST PLAIN STINKY TODAY

Inky is in the doghouse today.

Inky, a terrier type dog owned by Belvedere police officer Robert Scheiner, tangled with a skunk at 8 p.m. yesterday outside the door of the city hall.

Police Chief William S. Woodington, working inside, smelled a commotion through the window and ran to see "one of the biggest skunks I ever saw" waving his tail at Inky.

"Inky ran to his house screaming his head off," Worthington said. "The skunk wandered calmly off into the hills."

Epler To Tell Board Of Plan For Students

A student-help program under which students would work as part time assistants to instructors in 11 departments at College of Marin will be proposed to the board of trustees tonight by director Stephen E. Epler.

A report on gifted high school students attending the college will be given by dean of students Irwin P. Diamond. Dr. Duncan Greene, counsellor of women, who joined the college staff this year, will be formally introduced to the trustees.

In business matters, the trustees will be consider a proposal to increase mileage allowance for use of private cars on school business and will discuss authorization of travel expenses for school officials.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in Room 61 of the Arts Building.

vehicle rammed the parked car of Jerome Bellach of 32 Twain Harte Lane, San Rafael.

Jerome's brother, Darryl, 16, who was just getting out of the car, complained of wrist and back pains. He went to San Rafael General Hospital for X-rays.

Mrs. Colvin's car was towed to D and S Garage, and her black and white dog was temporarily quartered at the humane society. Mrs. Colvin was jailed in lieu of $263 bail.

The maid, Janie Young, who came from San Francisco, stepped out of the damaged car, bewildered but unhurt. When her employer went to the county jail, she left for parts unknown.

Teeners Sought In N.Y. Blast

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police combed hospital admittance lists today for two wounded teen-agers suspected of exploding a bomb in a crowded Times Square subway station, injuring 34 persons and causing panic among women and children.

The blast was the third in Manhattan in 10 days, and police said the two unidentified youths may be responsible for all the explosions—much like mad bomber George Metesky who exploded 31 homemade bombs, terrorizing the city until he was captured in 1957.

The bomb sent shattered glass, soot, smoke and debris swirling over a 15-foot area through yesterday's afternoon throng at the world's busiest subway station. Many of the persons in the station—an underground network of tracks, walking tunnels and stores — included mothers and their children returning from watching the city's Columbus Day parade.

Several persons reported seeing two crying youths covered with soot and burned clothing dashing from a coin-operated, automatic photo booth where the bomb went off. Subway motormen chased the teen-agers, but lost them in the smoke and confusion.

It was on this basis that police started a check of hospitals in case the youths were burned and sought medical aid. Authorities also pieced together fragments of the bomb and the photo booth in search of other clues.

Police said the black-powder bomb was put together much like the previous bombs which went off last Saturday at the public library, and the previous Sunday at the northern end of Times Square when six persons were hurt, one seriously. All of the bombs used paper or cardboard containers.

None of the injured in yesterday's explosion was hurt seriously. Most suffered cuts from glass and shock.

Debate Spotlight Turns Tonight To Islands Off China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The presidential candidates take to the voters tonight in the third television "great debate" their big and bitter fight over whose Quemoy-Matsu policy could plunge the nation into war.

Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon clash from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. PDT in a program complicated by the fact that Kennedy is in New York City and Nixon in Los Angeles.

The candidates' positions on Quemoy and Matsu, outlined in their second debate last Friday and battled over ever since, basically are these:

Kennedy feels the Nationalist isles close to the Communist-held Chinese mainland are indefensible. He wants them abandoned before any Red Chinese invasion drags this country into a war.

Nixon believes the islands are bastions of freedom that should be defended as a matter of principle. He says the Communists would use them as way stations to the Nationalist stronghold.

Kennedy charged in a New York speech last night that his GOP rival "invites war" by what he termed "trigger-happy leadership" on Quemoy-Matsu defense.

Nixon lashed back at this at an outdoor rally near Los Angeles. He challenged Kennedy to "name one Republican president who led the country into war" in the last 50 years. "And I can name three Democratic presidents who have done so."

Kennedy labeled Nixon's Quemoy-Matsu policy "a foolhardy and reckless decision."

"If he followed through on it, it could mean a tragic disaster. If he backed down on it, it would mean retreat under Communist pressure."

Nixon suggested that Kennedy also might consider Berlin indefensible.

The Democratic nominee insisted he would defend Berlin and Formosa and live up to the nation's other commitments.

"But I will not risk American lives in a nuclear war by permitting any other nation to drag us into the wrong war at the wrong place at the wrong time through an unwise commitment that is unsound militarily, unecessary to our security and unsupported by our allies."

Pentagon officials are worried that the campaign dispute will get the country committed one way or the other.

The State Department, in response to a query from Kenedy, denied yesterday that this country is negotiating for the withdrawal of Chinese Nationalist troops from the islands.

Nixon won support for his position from Republican Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Adm. Arthur W. Radford (ret.), former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

GOP presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge branded Kennedy's Quemoy - Matsu stand "rash, imprudent and dangerous."

Motel Operators To Hear Report

Marin's motel operators will hear representatives from the California Motel Assn. next Wednesday, as part of their final exploratory work in setting up a county motel operators organization.

Speakers, according to David Bellucci, temporary chairman of the local committee, will be Richard Beaumont, a director, and Fred Feiten of the California Motel Assn. staff in Los Angeles.

The meeting, open to all Marin motel-hotel operators, will be at noon, at the Wiltshire Towers Motel restaurant. Reservations may be made by notifying the Chamber of Commerce.

Lawyers Want Private Place For Goldfine

BOSTON (UPI)—Attorneys for Bernard Goldfine planned to urge key administration officials in Washington today to allow the wealthy industrialist psychiatric treatment in a private hospital rather than a federal institution.

Federal court Judge George C. Sweeney yesterday ruled the textile tycoon "mentally incompetent" to stand trial on charges of evading $791,000 in personal and corporate income taxes.

Defense counsel Edward Bennett Williams was scheduled to meet with U.S. Attorney General William P. Rogers to discuss "proper treatment for the defendant's acute manic depressive psychosis."

Judge Sweeney ordered Goldfine returned in custody of the attorney general to St. Elizabeth Hospital. The personal friend of former presidential assistant Sherman Adams will stay at St. Elizabeth's until transferred to another appropriate institution.

Three court appointed psychiatrists who examined Goldfine last week testified he often broke down in tears, crying "I might as well be dead."

Dr. Norris B. Flanagan described Goldfine's mental depression as manic depressive psychosis, adding that "suicidal thoughts are very prominent in a manic depressive, and he has an abundance of them."

Mermaid Caught; Wrong Species

MADISON, Conn. (AP) — Fisherman George M. Smith caught a mermaid the other day.

He says he and a friend were casting into Long Island Sound from shore when Smith got a big strike.

He reeled in a female skin diver, who had swum out of range of her diver warning flag. The line had wound around her waist.

Smith let her go. Wrong species.

$35 MILLION DEAL

S.P. Would Buy Western Pacific

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Southern Pacific Co., operators of more than 8,000 route miles of railroad from Oregon to Louisiana, applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday for permission to purchase the Western Pacific Railroad.

The price would be about 35 million dollars through an exchange or purchase of stock.

Southern Pacific, with headquarters in San Francisco, is one of the largest transportation systems in the West, with routes from New Orleans through Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada and California to Portland, Ore.

Western Pacific's main line runs from Oakland to Salt Lake City. It has some 1,200 route miles in California, Nevada and Utah.

Under the plan submitted to the ICC, Southern Pacific would issue 1,733,806 shares of its authorized but unused common stock in exchange for Western Pacific common stock at the going price on the New York Stock Exchange.

Western Pacific stock was listed at $18.75 as of September 30, 1960. The company's assets were estimated at $34,204,162 at the end of last year.

Southern Pacific already owns a 10 per cent interest in Western Pacific.

Southern Pacific President D. J. Russell said in San Francisco that when the control application is granted, Southern Pacific also will take over the Western Pacific stock which is now held by the Southern Pacific Land Co.

The population of Johannesburg, South Africa, is 1,052,000.

Navy Studies Way To Repel Sharks With Sea Cucumbers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy hopes research on a poison given off by the "sea cucumber" fish will lead to an improved shark repellent, it was reported today.

The sea cucumber, a marine creature related to the rear-fish that gets its name from its cucumber shape, secrets a toxic substance called "holothurin" to protect itself from its natural enemies.

The chemical is under investigation, spokesmen for the Office of Naval Research told a reporter, not only as a possible shark repellent but also as something that may prove of value in medicine.

They talked about it in amplifying on a brief report on the research in the current issue of Naval Research Reviews.

They stressed, however, that it remains to be determined whether the chemical is safe for use in man as a medicine—or as shark repellent that could be released by skin divers and others in the water.

Shoe Overstock Saves The Day

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) —When Lincoln's amateur opera company was searching for old high-button shoes for "Oklahoma!" a chorus member, Barbara Schmidt, came to the rescue with 17 pairs.

Her great-grandfather had overstocked them decades ago at the family's general merchandise store.

Worms From Logs

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Fishermen seeking worms have found a paradise in big cull peeler logs.

Crewmen bring in the huge logs that have sound, well-seasoned wood in their interiors, but the exterior sections are full of fishing worms.

Worms really begin to fly when the lathes start peeling off this worthless exterior to get down to the sound wood.

The happy fishermen go home with a canful every night.

Goldwater Tells Convention Formula

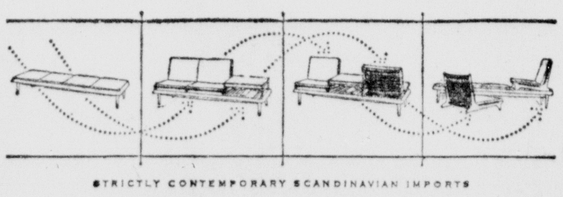

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) feels there's one good method of shortening political conventions.

"I would require that no nominating speech could contain the statement 'a great American' more than four times," he said.

Debate Spotlight Turns Tonight To Islands Off China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The presidential candidates take to the voters tonight in the third television "great debate" their big and bitter fight over whose Quemoy-Matsu policy could plunge the nation into war.

Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon clash from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. PDT in a program complicated by the fact that Kennedy is in New York City and Nixon in Los Angeles.

The candidates' positions on Quemoy and Matsu, outlined in their second debate last Friday and battled over ever since, basically are these:

Kennedy feels the Nationalist isles close to the Communist-held Chinese mainland are indefensible. He wants them abandoned before any Red Chinese invasion drags this country into a war.

Nixon believes the islands are bastions of freedom that should be defended as a matter of principle. He says the Communists would use them as way stations to the Nationalist stronghold.

Kennedy charged in a New York speech last night that his GOP rival "invites war" by what he termed "trigger-happy leadership" on Quemoy-Matsu defense.

Nixon lashed back at this at an outdoor rally near Los Angeles. He challenged Kennedy to "name one Republican president who led the country into war" in the last 50 years. "And I can name three Democratic presidents who have done so."

Kennedy labeled Nixon's Quemoy-Matsu policy "a foolhardy and reckless decision."

"If he followed through on it, it could mean a tragic disaster. If he backed down on it, it would mean retreat under Communist pressure."

Nixon suggested that Kennedy also might consider Berlin indefensible.

The Democratic nominee insisted he would defend Berlin and Formosa and live up to the nation's other commitments.

"But I will not risk American lives in a nuclear war by permitting any other nation to drag us into the wrong war at the wrong time through an unwise commitment that is unsound militarily, unecessary to our security and unsupported by our allies."

Pentagon officials are worried that the campaign dispute will get the country committed one way or the other.

The State Department, in response to a query from Kenedy, denied yesterday that this country is negotiating for the withdrawal of Chinese Nationalist troops from the islands.

Nixon won support for his position from Republican Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Adm. Arthur W. Radford (ret.), former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

GOP presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge branded Kennedy's Quemoy - Matsu stand "rash, imprudent and dangerous."

Motel Operators To Hear Report

Marin's motel operators will hear representatives from the California Motel Assn. next Wednesday, as part of their final exploratory work in setting up a county motel operators organization.

Speakers, according to David Bellucci, temporary chairman of the local committee, will be Richard Beaumont, a director, and Fred Feiten of the California Motel Assn. staff in Los Angeles.

The meeting, open to all Marin motel-hotel operators, will be at noon, at the Wiltshire Towers Motel restaurant. Reservations may be made by notifying the Chamber of Commerce.

Lawyers Want Private Place For Goldfine

BOSTON (UPI)—Attorneys for Bernard Goldfine planned to urge key administration officials in Washington today to allow the wealthy industrialist psychiatric treatment in a private hospital rather than a federal institution.

Federal court Judge George C. Sweeney yesterday ruled the textile tycoon "mentally incompetent" to stand trial on charges of evading $791,000 in personal and corporate income taxes.

Defense counsel Edward Bennett Williams was scheduled to meet with U.S. Attorney General William P. Rogers to discuss "proper treatment for the defendant's acute manic depressive psychosis."

Judge Sweeney ordered Goldfine returned in custody of the attorney general to St. Elizabeth Hospital. The personal friend of former presidential assistant Sherman Adams will stay at St. Elizabeth's until transferred to another appropriate institution.

Three court appointed psychiatrists who examined Goldfine last week testified he often broke down in tears, crying "I might as well be dead."

Dr. Norris B. Flanagan described Goldfine's mental depression as manic depressive psychosis, adding that "suicidal thoughts are very prominent in a manic depressive, and he has an abundance of them."

SOME NIGHT LIGHT IN KANSAS CITY

A father and his sons enjoy columns of water cascading over horsemen statues during a pleasant autumn evening at the new J. C. Nichols Memorial Foundation in Kansas City.

Chamber To Urge Terra Linda Link

The Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce has recommended building of a roadway linking the main section of San Rafael with the area around the Terra Linda High School.

The chamber voted to place the recommendation before the city council and request that it be turned over to consultant Daniel Coleman to study along with the Highway 101 widening program that is now under fire, announced Richard L. Shirley, secretary-manager.

Shirley said that the recommendation was prompted by the growth in the northern section including the "building of the Civic Center (in Santa Venetia), the Fairchild diode plant that will soon have over a thousand employees, and the planned commercial centers."

Shirley said that it would be feasible to extend Fifth Avenue to connect with Ridge Road that could be joined with two tongues of land in the area of the Terra Linda High School. He noted that San Anselmo could join the interchange by extending San Francisco Avenue.

The building of a new roadway would eliminate "congestion in San Rafael and on the highway," Shirley said.

The chamber also voted to boost the idea of building a new city hall on a new building site during the next year, Shirley reported, and voted to confer with the city council on that matter.

The Marin Visitors Bureau was given approval to work on a new boating directory for the county, Shirley reported. Publication target is Jan. 1, he said.

Laundry Price Survey Dumped

Plans for a survey of Marin County laundry and dry cleaning prices have been abandoned by the board of the Marin County Laundry and Dry Cleaners Assn., according to Leonard Majore, president.

"It was decided to keep hands off on prices or regulations," said Majore, who indicated last week that a survey would be made to prove there had been only scattered increases for the past year and a half.

Majore said today that the board felt that the whole field of prices was "not our concern."

Salesman Linked To Hopps Accused Of Misrepresentation

NEW YORK (UPI) — A New York investment salesman linked with Belvedere financier Stewart B. Hopps' alleged fraudulent operation of a Morrocan insurance company was enjoined today in State Supreme Court from the securities business in New York State.

The injunction was issued in a court action brought by attorney general Louis J. Lefkowitz.

The attorney general's office charged Albert Harris of Investor Service and Investaservice, Inc., with "high pressure" sales of savings and loan investments worth more than a million dollars. Harris consented to the order.

According to an affidavit Harris misrepresented companies as federally insured when in fact the court papers said many were only privately insured and some not insured at all.

The attorney general's office characterized Harris as the "most disreputable savings and loan account solicitor in the United States."

Missile Explosion Alarms Ventura

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—An Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile exploded in the sky last night with a rumbling roar heard 25 miles.

A malfunction in the missile caused the blast, the Air Force said.

Flaming parts fell into the ocean five miles offshore. Hundreds of Ventura County residents were startled by the unexpected fireworks display and the thunderous rumble. Scores called police and sheriff's offices.

JET SCREECH CHOKERS COST SKY HIGH

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It costs $93,000 a year to suppress the screech of just a single jet transport plane, engineers were told today.

W. R. Walley of Douglas Aircraft Co., which makes DC-8 jets, told the annual aeronautic meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers:

"Over an expected life of 10 years the total cost attributable to suppressors on one airplane would amount to some $930,000—about 17 per cent of the purchase price."

When the expected total of 400 such transports is in operation, Walley said, the 10-year bill will be 370 million dollars.

He succeeds Rev. Oliver Riley, pastor of the Village Baptist Church in Santa Rosa.

Rev. Young Gerrard, pastor of the First Southern Baptist Church of Mill Valley, was elected vice moderator, and Rev. Edward Derr, pastor of San Anselmo Avenue Baptist Church in the Hub City, was named superintendent of Sunday school work.

The delegates also accepted the Tiburon Boulevard Baptist Church as a member of the Redwood Empire Baptist Assn., comprised of Southern Baptist churches in Marin and Sonoma counties.

The meeting will continue today and tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 1411 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

'Marijuana' Claim Ends In Jail Cell

If Fred Kitzmiller paid $20 for what he told San Anselmo police was marijuana, he bought some mighty expensive tobacco.

Kitzmiller was arrested in a Hub gas station Sunday night when he aroused the suspicion of two officers by acting strangely.

He was found to be carrying an ounce of what he said was marijuana and a bottle containing 75 multicolored pills. Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today the "marijuana" was merely tobacco, but the pills have been identified by the state crime laboratory as barbiturates.

Bagel Shop Very Squarely Closes Doors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco's focus of the Beat Generation founded six years ago as the Coexistence Bagel Shop ended as it began: A muffled howl against conformity and the contemporary American success race.

"You'll have to make less noise," ordered a policeman in the wee hours yesterday as he poked his head inside the Grant Avenue landmark. Three dozen young people were singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Finishing her beer—the shop wasn't so square as to sell bagels—a young woman writer mourned, "This is my home. I don't know where I'll live now."

Owner Jay Hoppe, whose running battle with square policeman William Bigarani became legend as he loaded the shop's furnishings into a rented truck:

"I'm tired of having to deal with a sick city administration and a psychopathic police department. I'm tired of San Francisco, and I never want to see it again."

Pianists Fail To Climb Coveted Ivory Tower

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Leventritt competition for pianists has once more lived up to its reputation for being the toughest trial of its kind to face young musicians in this country.

There were three finalists in the 21st annual run-off of this international competition last night in Carnegie Hall, but the distinguished jury decided that none of them quite merited the award—an award perhaps best known for having gone to Van Cliburn, the Moscow competition winner, in 1954, an award carrying a cash prize of $1,000 and solo appearances with numerous orchestras.

In the two-decade history of this competition, a first award has been given only 14 times.

Some in the audience on this occasion walked out with an air of disappointment. They had been, it is true, very generous in their applause of very superior piano playing by Kenneth Amada, 28, native of Orange, N.J.: Bela Szilagi, 26, of this city; and Michel Block, 23, born in Belgium of French parents and now living in Mexico.

Leonard Bernstein, announcing regretfully the jury's decision, noted that the competition was intended to find great talents, but "great talents who are fully equipped to assume the responsibilities of a professional career." On this larger basis no award was made.

One Red Rose Pays The Rent

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A woman telephoned police that she feared a friend with whom she had been talking on the telephone had collapsed. She asked that a squad car be sent to investigate.

When officers arrived they found the woman talking again on the telephone.

Her explanation: She suddenly remembered she had forgotten to turn off her washing machine, and in the midst of her conversation had dropped the telephone and ran to the basement.

U.C. Records Tremor In Bering Sea Area

BERKEKLEY (AP)—The University of California today recorded a series of strong earthquakes, apparently centering on Kamchatka Peninsula in the Bering Sea.

FAIRFAX WOMAN HONORED

Indian War Veterans Opens Big Reunion

By DOROTHY SLATTERY

An organization linked to a legendary period in American history opened a two-day national reunion today in San Francisco, with a small, vivacious 94-year-old Fairfax woman in one of the chairs of honor.

The organization is the United Indian War Veterans, made up of survivors of the wars in which the white man wrested the land from the red men—and of their descendants.

The woman is Mrs. Minnie Saunders, who remembers having her hair yanked by Chief Sitting Bull. She is national commander of the ladies' corps of the Indian War Veterans, which she joined in 1932.

Sitting in the living room of her home in the Fairfax Cascades before leaving for the convention, she wistfully recalled her days among the Indians when she was a 17-year-old bride 77 years ago.

Minnie Stafford met and married Julius Saunders, a 27-year-old Army sergeant with Company M of the Fifth Cavalry in Laramie, Wyo. in 1883. The young soldier took his bride to Fort Supply, Indian Territory (later to be the state of Oklahoma) the same year.

The western part of the country was a wilderness filled with Indians, reminisced Mrs. Saunders, but "they were wonderful people and I think they were treated cruelly in every manner."

During the years that Mrs. Saunders lived on army posts across the frontier, the Indians were at peace. Her husband, however, barely escaped with his life during the Ute campaign before their marriage, Mrs. Saunders related.

Young Indian squaws knocked on the doors of the army quarters every morning, Mrs. Saunders said, begging to do the family laundry in exchange for a piece of sugar for the papooses strapped to their backs.

"I walked to the Indian camp every day," Mrs. Saunders said. "I loved the Indians. . . . If they liked you, all right, and if they didn't, they had nothing to do with you." She turned her thumbs downward and said, "Then you were no good."

One day, however, the girl had her faith in the Indian tested. As she was walking through the center of the encampment, a strong pair of hands grabbed the long curls she wore down her back. She immediately thought her head was being sized up for a scalping party when the booming voice of Chief Sitting Bull resounded: "Fine papoose with beautiful hair."

Army forts were like little towns, Mrs. Saunders recalled, but one had to be a good horseman to get there. "I've been riding horseback since I was born," the spirited woman declared, but went on to stress that when she rode a horse as a girl, she wore flowing skirts. ("Never trousers!") and large hats. Women always rode sidesaddle, she emphasized.

The tiny woman who describes herself as "full of nonsense . . . always have been," saw cities and civilization grow in what had been wide open land.

She was born in the small mining town of Boulder, Colo., in 1866. Her father, Isaac Newton Stafford, had moved West after the Civil War. Her father was a carpenter, building log cabins and frame buildings in the Colorado boom towns when the cry "Pike's Peak or Bust" was ringing from New York to San Francisco.

She was sent to Denver when she was eight years old to go to school. Denver was nothing but a small town with wooden sidewalks, she recalls. "I would love to go back there and see it before I die. . . . They say it's one of the most beautiful cities in the West now."

The family later moved to a ranch at Sheep Mountain, Wyo. It was while here that Minnie met her cavalryman husband.

After Saunders retired from the Army in 1886, the couple moved back to Wyoming. They came to San Francisco in 1901.

In 1917, Mrs. Saunders went to work in the operating room of Stanford Hospital in San Francisco. She moved to her Fairfax home at 428 Cascade Drive 14 years ago after her retirement at the age of 80. Her husband died 25 years ago.

She now lives alone with her 17-year-old dog, Skipper, and two cats, Baby Tom and Little Tom. She has no living relatives but never has time to be lonely.

Every day the neighborhood youngsters flock to her living room to talk, draw pictures that cover her walls ("We'll have to put them on the ceiling next") or "drum on the piano."

Using her hands to make a point, she said, "You know you have to devote happiness to someone else or you can't expect to be happy yourself."

She expects to live to be 100 —"I've got the order in already."

Besides Mrs. Saunders, two other Marinites are playing prominent roles in the Indian War Veterans reunion.

General chairman of the reunion is Edward Snider of 99 Wood Labe, Fairfax, whose family is related to Gen. Philip (Little Phil) Sheridan, famed both as an Indian fighter and Union general in the Civil War. Attending as an Indian War Daughter is Mrs. Ruth Erfurth Schneider of 1849 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Bridgeman, who was at first unconscious and could not be interviewed, was in fair condition at San Rafael General Hospital today with a head injury. Williams suffered a cut chin and nose.

FAIRFAX WOMAN HONORED

Indian War Veterans Opens Big Reunion

By DOROTHY SLATTERY

An organization linked to a legendary period in American history opened a two-day national reunion today in San Francisco, with a small, vivacious 94-year-old Fairfax woman in one of the chairs of honor.

The organization is the United Indian War Veterans, made up of survivors of the wars in which the white man wrested the land from the red men—and of their descendants.

The woman is Mrs. Minnie Saunders, who remembers having her hair yanked by Chief Sitting Bull. She is national commander of the ladies' corps of the Indian War Veterans, which she joined in 1932.

Sitting in the living room of her home in the Fairfax Cascades before leaving for the convention, she wistfully recalled her days among the Indians when she was a 17-year-old bride 77 years ago.

Minnie Stafford met and married Julius Saunders, a 27-year-old Army sergeant with Company M of the Fifth Cavalry in Laramie, Wyo. in 1883. The young soldier took his bride to Fort Supply, Indian Territory (later to be the state of Oklahoma) the same year.

The western part of the country was a wilderness filled with Indians, reminisced Mrs. Saunders, but "they were wonderful people and I think they were treated cruelly in every manner."

During the years that Mrs. Saunders lived on army posts across the frontier, the Indians were at peace. Her husband, however, barely escaped with his life during the Ute campaign before their marriage, Mrs. Saunders related.

Young Indian squaws knocked on the doors of the army quarters every morning, Mrs. Saunders said, begging to do the family laundry in exchange for a piece of sugar for the papooses strapped to their backs.

"I walked to the Indian camp every day," Mrs. Saunders said. "I loved the Indians. . . . If they liked you, all right, and if they didn't, they had nothing to do with you." She turned her thumbs downward and said, "Then you were no good."

One day, however, the girl had her faith in the Indian tested. As she was walking through the center of the encampment, a strong pair of hands grabbed the long curls she wore down her back. She immediately thought her head was being sized up for a scalping party when the booming voice of Chief Sitting Bull resounded: "Fine papoose with beautiful hair."

Army forts were like little towns, Mrs. Saunders recalled, but one had to be a good horseman to get there. "I've been riding horseback since I was born," the spirited woman declared, but went on to stress that when she rode a horse as a girl, she wore flowing skirts. ("Never trousers!") and large hats. Women always rode sidesaddle, she emphasized.

The tiny woman who describes herself as "full of nonsense . . . always have been," saw cities and civilization grow in what had been wide open land.

She was born in the small mining town of Boulder, Colo., in 1866. Her father, Isaac Newton Stafford, had moved West after the Civil War. Her father was a carpenter, building log cabins and frame buildings in the Colorado boom towns when the cry "Pike's Peak or Bust" was ringing from New York to San Francisco.

She was sent to Denver when she was eight years old to go to school. Denver was nothing but a small town with wooden sidewalks, she recalls. "I would love to go back there and see it before I die. . . . They say it's one of the most beautiful cities in the West now."

The family later moved to a ranch at Sheep Mountain, Wyo. It was while here that Minnie met her cavalryman husband.

After Saunders retired from the Army in 1886, the couple moved back to Wyoming. They came to San Francisco in 1901.

In 1917, Mrs. Saunders went to work in the operating room of Stanford Hospital in San Francisco. She moved to her Fairfax home at 428 Cascade Drive 14 years ago after her retirement at the age of 80. Her husband died 25 years ago.

She now lives alone with her 17-year-old dog, Skipper, and two cats, Baby Tom and Little Tom. She has no living relatives but never has time to be lonely.

Every day the neighborhood youngsters flock to her living room to talk, draw pictures that cover her walls ("We'll have to put them on the ceiling next") or "drum on the piano."

Using her hands to make a point, she said, "You know you have to devote happiness to someone else or you can't expect to be happy yourself."

She expects to live to be 100 —"I've got the order in already."

Besides Mrs. Saunders, two other Marinites are playing prominent roles in the Indian War Veterans reunion.

General chairman of the reunion is Edward Snider of 99 Wood Labe, Fairfax, whose family is related to Gen. Philip (Little Phil) Sheridan, famed both as an Indian fighter and Union general in the Civil War. Attending as an Indian War Daughter is Mrs. Ruth Erfurth Schneider of 1849 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

State Ballot Issues Due Forum Argument

Representative of the California Department of Water Resources and of organized labor will argue the merits of the proposed $1,750,000,000 water bond issue, Proposition 1 on the November ballot Monday at 8 p.m. in College of Marin's Olney Hall.

But there is a question as to whether there will be two persons present to discuss Proposition 15, the state Senate rapportionment proposal, although that, too, is on the agenda.

Thus far, the Marin Branch, American Assn. of University Women, which is sponsoring the public meeting, has been unable to get anyone to speak in favor of the proposition. Marin State Sen. John F. McCathy will oppose the proposal, which would give Southern California 20 senators and Northern California 20 senators. But Mrs. William D. Fusselman and Mrs. Robert Rhoades, co-chairmen of the branch's legislative section, have been unable to find anyone in Northern California who will speak in behalf of the South-inspired proposition. If no one is found, the official pro arguments printed in the state's voters' handbook will be read by Mrs. Fusselman.

William H. Fairbanks Jr. assistant director of water resources, will speak in favor of Proposition 1, which would finance a state water system, delivering water from Northern California to Southern California, the Central Valley and coastal areas, including the North Bay Aqueduct to Marin.

Opposing the bond issue's passage will be Don Viol, research secretary for the California Federation of Labor.

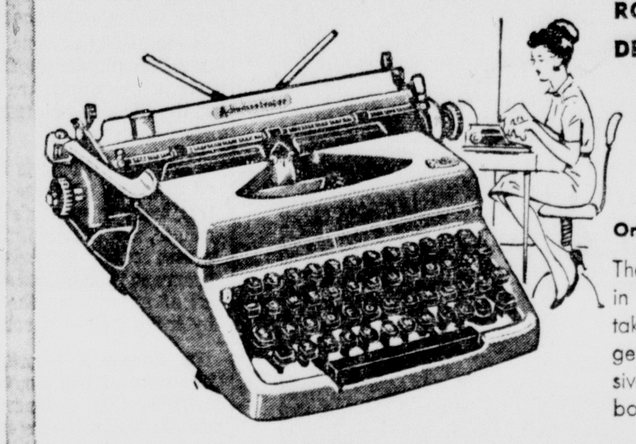

The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. Hugh Marchant, president of the AAUW branch.

The language of West Africa is Hausa, which is spoken by about 15 million people.

Boys Take Ax To Carport Just For Fun

Four teen-aged boys from Hamilton Air Force Base and Loma Verde were caught on Columbus Day, hacking away with axes at a carport in Loma Verda.

When Sheriff's Sgt. George Barnes nabbed them about 2:30 p.m., the boys admitted they were chopping down the four-by-four posts, "just to see the roof fall in." They said they were on vacation because Marin Catholic High School was closed for the holiday.

Three of the boys, from Hamilton Field, are aged 14, 15 and 16. The fourth boy, 16, is from Loma Verde.

The carport is located at the north end of Alameda Del Prado, near the Trousdale Construction Co. supply yard.

Three of the four posts had been hacked almost all the way through when Barnes pulled up in the patrol car. The boys ran and hid in some storage lumber but were ordered out by Sergeant Barnes.

The officer took the boys to the Trousdale office, where employee Dewitt Lambert said the damaged carport belonged to another contractor, whose name he did not know. The boys were released until the owner can be located and a complaint filed.

Steven Gutman, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gutman of Bridge Road, Ross, will give a piano recital in San Francisco Sunday afternoon.

Young Gutman has studied under Richard Norris, Tiburon concert pianist, for three years.

Mural Contains Error In Fact

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A mural depicting the cabin home of Solomon Juneau, founder of Milwaukee, has been seen by thousands of persons since the work was completed in the Milwaukee Auditorium in 1944.

But not until recently did anyone notice that muralist Thorsten Linberg placed the cabin on the west side of the Milwaukee River, instead of the east side where it really was. An amateur historian pointed out the error to officials.

State Ballot Issues Due Forum Argument

Representative of the California Department of Water Resources and of organized labor will argue the merits of the proposed $1,750,000,000 water bond issue, Proposition 1 on the November ballot Monday at 8 p.m. in College of Marin's Olney Hall.

But there is a question as to whether there will be two persons present to discuss Proposition 15, the state Senate rapportionment proposal, although that, too, is on the agenda.

Thus far, the Marin Branch, American Assn. of University Women, which is sponsoring the public meeting, has been unable to get anyone to speak in favor of the proposition. Marin State Sen. John F. McCathy will oppose the proposal, which would give Southern California 20 senators and Northern California 20 senators. But Mrs. William D. Fusselman and Mrs. Robert Rhoades, co-chairmen of the branch's legislative section, have been unable to find anyone in Northern California who will speak in behalf of the South-inspired proposition. If no one is found, the official pro arguments printed in the state's voters' handbook will be read by Mrs. Fusselman.

William H. Fairbanks Jr. assistant director of water resources, will speak in favor of Proposition 1, which would finance a state water system, delivering water from Northern California to Southern California, the Central Valley and coastal areas, including the North Bay Aqueduct to Marin.

Opposing the bond issue's passage will be Don Viol, research secretary for the California Federation of Labor.

The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. Hugh Marchant, president of the AAUW branch.

The language of West Africa is Hausa, which is spoken by about 15 million people.

Boys Take Ax To Carport Just For Fun

Four teen-aged boys from Hamilton Air Force Base and Loma Verde were caught on Columbus Day, hacking away with axes at a carport in Loma Verda.

When Sheriff's Sgt. George Barnes nabbed them about 2:30 p.m., the boys admitted they were chopping down the four-by-four posts, "just to see the roof fall in." They said they were on vacation because Marin Catholic High School was closed for the holiday.

Three of the boys, from Hamilton Field, are aged 14, 15 and 16. The fourth boy, 16, is from Loma Verde.

The carport is located at the north end of Alameda Del Prado, near the Trousdale Construction Co. supply yard.

Three of the four posts had been hacked almost all the way through when Barnes pulled up in the patrol car. The boys ran and hid in some storage lumber but were ordered out by Sergeant Barnes.

The officer took the boys to the Trousdale office, where employee Dewitt Lambert said the damaged carport belonged to another contractor, whose name he did not know. The boys were released until the owner can be located and a complaint filed.

Ross Youth, 16, To Give Recital

Steven Gutman, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gutman of Bridge Road, Ross, will give a piano recital in San Francisco Sunday afternoon.

He will perform before the Pacific Musical Society at the California Club at 2 p.m. The recital is open to the public.

Young Gutman has studied under Richard Norris, Tiburon concert pianist, for three years.

Mural Contains Error In Fact

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A mural depicting the cabin home of Solomon Juneau, founder of Milwaukee, has been seen by thousands of persons since the work was completed in the Milwaukee Auditorium in 1944.

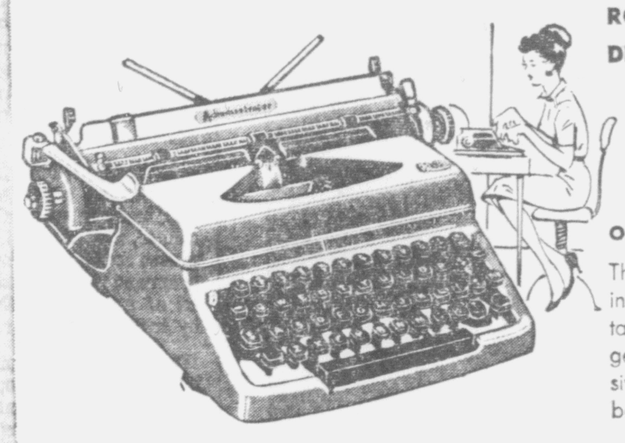

But not until recently did anyone notice that muralist Thorsten Linberg placed the cabin on the west side of the Milwaukee River, instead of the east side where it really was. An amateur historian pointed out the error to officials.

The 45-million-dollar Dresden Nuclear Power Station at Morris, Ill., was dedicated yesterday. It is the nation's first full-scale privately financed nuclear power plant. John A. Deputy Smashes Two Fingers On Jail Door

Deputy Sheriff Edward Klementovich suffered two smashed fingers of his left hand last night when his fingers were caught in a heavy iron door inside the jail.

He went to Marin General Hospital at 7 p.m. and was released after treatment. Chief Jailer Frank Christ said Klementovich was apparently closing the sliding door when his hand slipped.

A Mount Holyoke College student wrote of Thanksgiving Day, 1848: "We had the privilege of sleeping as long as we wished in the morning, providing we were ready for breakfast at 8 o'clock."

MEDICAL PROGRESS

Heart Stimulation By Radio Revealed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The 46th annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons today heard the latest reports on neurologic surgery, urology and the treatment of heart ailments and shock.

Some 10,000 persons, including 6,000 physicians from all parts of the world, are attending the five-day congress which ends tomorrow.

Yesterday's reports included startling progress in the treatment of women's breast cancer, new insight into what causes many difficulties in pregnant women, and a method of stimulating the heart by radio transmissions.

Dr. George E. Moore, of the University of Buffalo, told the delegates that the new treatment in breast cancer involved 590 women in 39 hospitals.

He said when breast tumors were removed surgically, a chemical compound known as TSPA was employed to inactivate any cancer cells loosened into the blood stream by the operation.

Dr. Moore said that in premenopause women, no cancer has recurred for at least 26 months among 95 per cent of them. In a control group, which was not given TSPA, only 46 per cent went that long without a recurrence.

Among post-menstrual women, the figures were 89 per cent with the chemical and 65 per cent without it, he said.

However, Dr. Moore said more testing would be necessary before scientists can be sure of the compound. He said it apparently is not effective with other kinds of cancer.

Dr. C. Douglas Ringrose of Edmonton, Canada, offered the insight into pregnancy difficulties. He said that on the basis of two studies in Detroit, toxemia of pregnancy may be caused by mental abnormalities.

Toxemia occurs in 5 per cent of women, usually in the last three months of pregnancy. It causes disturbances such as fits, convulsions, high blood pressure, headaches, abdominal pains and rapid weight gain.

Dr. Allan L. Toole of Yale University reported on stimulation of the heart by radio—a variation of the artificial pacemaker.

The device stimulates the heart ventricle by electrical charges transmitted through a wire connected to the organ itself.

Toole reported that a Yale group, working with animals, developed a method by which the wire is connected from the heart to a radio-type receiver placed just under the skin. The receiver has the diameter of a half dollar and is one centimeter thick.

The patient would carry a transistorized power unit in his pocket with a wire terminal taped to the skin just over the receiver. Toole said the frequency would be so exact that there would be no possibility of interference from frequency modulation radio stations or other sources.

Ridgeway Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Evelyn Grosbauer of 240 Ridgeway Avenue, Fairfax, was elected president of the Ridgeway Park Improvement Club Tuesday night to succeed Clyde P. McKinney of 120 Live Oak Avenue.

Mrs. Grosbauer's term of office will end next October.

Mrs. Douglas H. Johnson of 60 Live Oak Avenue was named publicity chairman.

The club's Nov. 8 meeting has been postponed until Nov. 15, Mrs. Johnson reported. The time and place have not been chose.

Ross Hospital Services Said At Highest Point

Total volume of Ross General Hospital services is now greatest in the institution's history, it was revealed by Dr. John Siemans, administrator, at the annual general meeting of stockholders Tuesday night.

Siemens said the volume of business is expected to exceed a million dollars for the calenwar year 1960. The hospital now has 112 beds, including 40 for tubercular patients with average daily occupancy of 92 during the past three months. There are 139 employees.

Dr. Warren Bostick, president-elect of the California Medical Assn., was among new directors elected.

Others were Drs. Ira Degenhardt, Carroll Russell, L. Martin Griffin, Joe Alderson and William Galeno, and Roderick P. Martinelli, attorney.

Seventy-two Ross stockholders are all practicing physicians of Marin County.

Terris Improving

John C. Terris, assistant chief of the Sausalito Fire Department, was reported to be improving today at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco, after a heart attack last Sunday at his home. Terris had been taken out of the oxygen tent but remained on the critical list and can receive no visitors.

IN ALASKA As in all 50 states, the vitality of busy Americans has moved our economy into a new age of action.

Take Alaska's oil industry, for example: Oil was discovered two years ago, is now flowing in commercial quantities. And starting this week, a new pipeline is speeding it to waiting tankers at Cook Inlet—which is a 22-mile journey through muskeg and swamp forests.

For Alaska, Standard's participation in the pipeline project is another step forward in an expanding oil industry, with new jobs and opportunities. For all America, it will add oil to our strategic reserves—new vigor and strength to our ever-accelerating economy.

Junior Museum Faces Extinction With Whopping $15,000 Deficit

Will the Junior Museum of Marin — the county showplace for natural history, become extinct this year?

The fate of the five-year-old institution is to be decided at a public forum next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Department 3 of Superior Court in the County Courthouse.

The board of directors at its latest meeting learned the museum is $15,000 in debt and is operating at a continuing deficit of $400 a month.

The directors are seeking annual appropriations totaling $12,000 from the county board of supervisors and the county board of education.

Conducting the forum will be Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., in whose courtroom it will be held. He is a member of the museum's advisory council.

A complete picture of the museum's functions and finances will be given by four or five speakers, he said. A question and answer period will follow.

A fund raising campaign launched three months ago failed to solve the junior museum's financial problem. A goal of $90,000 was sought. Directors have not announced how much the drive realized, but reported it fell far short of the goal.

The junior museum is located at 76 Albert Park Lane, across the lane from the city-owned Albert Park. It was established in 1955 by the Junior League of San Francisco.

It includes mounted exhibits of heron, wood duck, squirrels and other Marin wildlife. It also has a zoo, the animal population of which varies somewhat. At present there are sheep, skunks, an oppossum, porcupine, foxes, turtles, lizards and a 14-foot-long regal python, besides white rats, rabbits, guinea pigs, squirrels and several birds. Many of the harmless animals may be checked out — like library books—by school children.

Last year 10,000 youngsters visited the museum, according to S. Thompson Walker, its manager.

The museum provides a research library, laboratory facitities, natural history classes and movies. It answers 20,000 science questions every year, Walker said.

Walker has one fulltime assistant, Diane Francis, director of education. Their combined salaries amount to $12,000 a year. Much of the work at the museum is done by children on a volunteer basis.

Present income of the museum is about $3,000 a year. This is accumulated by seven school districts paying 10 cents per pupil, or about $1,000; 600 museum members donating $5 to $50 a year totaling another $1,000, and a county donation of $1,000 annually. The county gave $2,000 in 1956 but halved its contribution the following year. At last summer's county budget hearings, the museum board asked that the county raise its contribution to $3,500, but the board of supervisors refused.

Museum board members indicated that if the two salaries could be paid by the two county organizations, the membership could eventually pay off the $15,000 debt.

They suggested the museum serves 17 school districts. If all would contribute, $6,000 a year could be paid through the county board of education, they held.

Departing Hospital Officials To Be Feted

A breakfast honoring S. Ames Pence, administrator of Marin General Hospital, and Austin Turner, assistant administrator, both of whom are to leave their posts shortly, will be given Friday morning at San Rafael General Hospital.

Present will be John H. Prescott, San Rafael General administrator; Dan E. Andersen, acting president of the board of trustees; Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator of Ross General, and Mrs. Maxine Ferrario, Ross General business manager.

Junior Museum Faces Extinction With Whopping $15,000 Deficit

Will the Junior Museum of Marin — the county showplace for natural history, become extinct this year?

The fate of the five-year-old institution is to be decided at a public forum next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Department 3 of Superior Court in the County Courthouse.

The board of directors at its latest meeting learned the museum is $15,000 in debt and is operating at a continuing deficit of $400 a month.

The directors are seeking annual appropriations totaling $12,000 from the county board of supervisors and the county board of education.

Conducting the forum will be Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., in whose courtroom it will be held. He is a member of the museum's advisory council.

A complete picture of the museum's functions and finances will be given by four or five speakers, he said. A question and answer period will follow.

A fund raising campaign launched three months ago failed to solve the junior museum's financial problem. A goal of $90,000 was sought. Directors have not announced how much the drive realized, but reported it fell far short of the goal.

The junior museum is located at 76 Albert Park Lane, across the lane from the city-owned Albert Park. It was established in 1955 by the Junior League of San Francisco.

It includes mounted exhibits of heron, wood duck, squirrels and other Marin wildlife. It also has a zoo, the animal population of which varies somewhat. At present there are sheep, skunks, an oppossum, porcupine, foxes, turtles, lizards and a 14-foot-long regal python, besides white rats, rabbits, guinea pigs, squirrels and several birds. Many of the harmless animals may be checked out — like library books—by school children.

Last year 10,000 youngsters visited the museum, according to S. Thompson Walker, its manager.

The museum provides a research library, laboratory facitities, natural history classes and movies. It answers 20,000 science questions every year, Walker said.

Walker has one fulltime assistant, Diane Francis, director of education. Their combined salaries amount to $12,000 a year. Much of the work at the museum is done by children on a volunteer basis.

Present income of the museum is about $3,000 a year. This is accumulated by seven school districts paying 10 cents per pupil, or about $1,000; 600 museum members donating $5 to $50 a year totaling another $1,000, and a county donation of $1,000 annually. The county gave $2,000 in 1956 but halved its contribution the following year. At last summer's county budget hearings, the museum board asked that the county raise its contribution to $3,500, but the board of supervisors refused.

Museum board members indicated that if the two salaries could be paid by the two county organizations, the membership could eventually pay off the $15,000 debt.

They suggested the museum serves 17 school districts. If all would contribute, $6,000 a year could be paid through the county board of education, they held.

Unannounced Meeting Held By Highway Unit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Highway Commission held an unannounced meeting in Hayward Tuesday, it was disclosed today, to increase the state's share of the cost of the San Pedro-Terminal Island Bridge.

Four members of the commission, constituting a quorum, met in the law office of John J. Purchie, a member.

"The door of the meeting room was open, and there was no conscious effort at secrecy," said Les Koritz, public information officer for the Department of Public Works.

"I goofed in not notifying news media of the session," said Koritz.

"I thought it was of such a technical nature that it was of no news interest. This will not happen again."

He said the commission increased by $750,000 the 10 million dollars already allocated in state funds toward the 21-million-dollar San Pedro-Terminal Island Bridge. About seven million of the balance will be raised through bond sales and about four million dollars will come from gasoline tax allocations and local funds.

The state's share of the cost had to be increased, he said, because bids on the substructure and superstructure, totaling about 15 million, were about $750,000 higher than anticipated.

Full financing for the project had to be shown before the state can expect to sell the seven million dollars in bonds Oct. 18. A previous effort to sell the bonds earlier this month brought no bids.

Attending the Tuesday meeting in addition to Purchio were commission members Robert B. Bradford, director of the State Department of Public Works, and Chester H. Warlow of Fresno and Arthur T. Luddy of Sacramento.

Accident Backs Up Traffic, Clogs Streets Of San Rafael

Hundreds of homeward-bound San Rafael commuters fumed, waited and wondered at the afternoon rush hour yesterday when one of the most complicated traffic tieups in recent months developed.

The trouble didn't originate in San Rafael at all, but on Highway 101 at Puerto Suello Hill. The jam extended onto city streets because of San Rafael cars trying to enter the freeway and unable to do so because northbound traffic was stacking up for miles south.

Center of the trouble was a 4:40 p.m. crash involving two women drivers, both Air Force connected.

Mrs. Helen Marie Bott, wife of retired Maj. Edward Bott of 714 Del Ganado, San Rafael, had whacked into a car ahead driven by A/1c Fatima Scott of the 501st Field Maintenance Squadron at Travis Air Force Base.

Mrs. Bott told the California Highway Patrol that as she crested the hill she noticed brake-lights flashing in the traffic ahead, but was unable to stop before striking the Scott car.

She turned left in an effort to evade. This resulted in spinning the Scott car to block the highway at a time traffic was just building up behind.

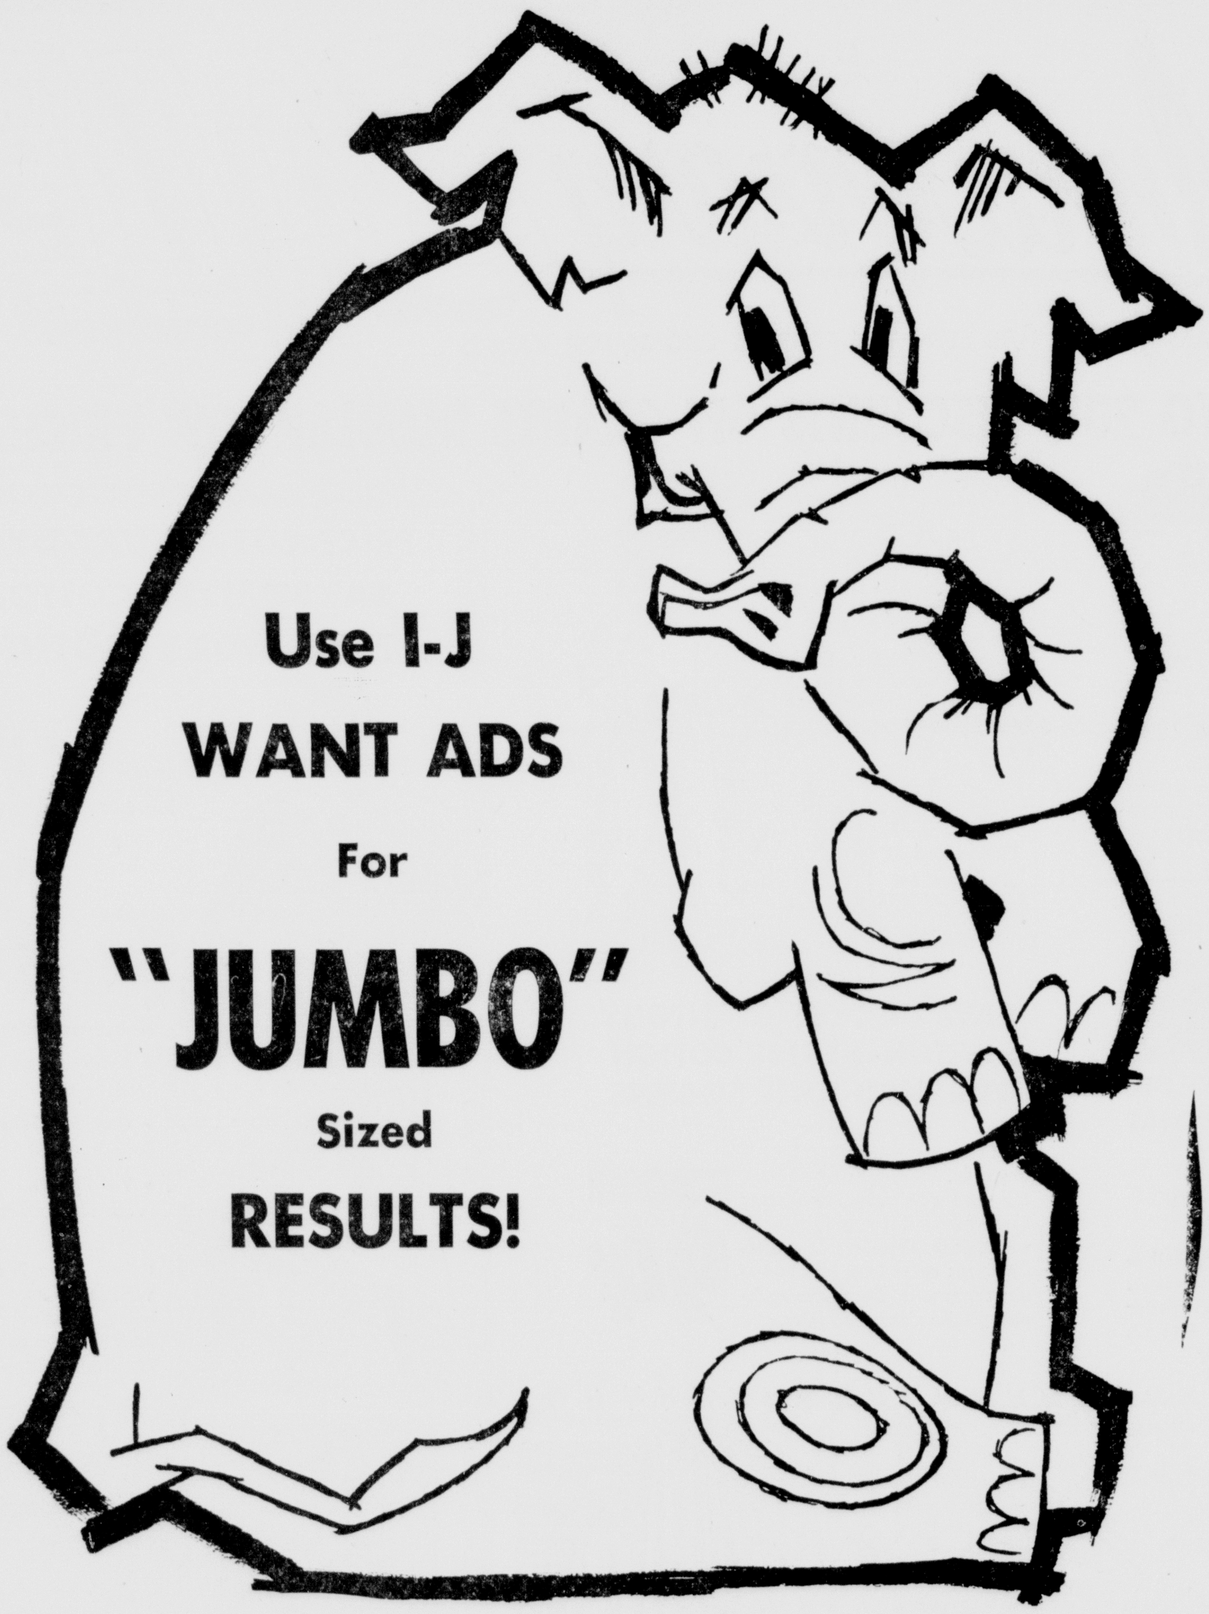

Mrs. Bott's 14-year-old daughter, Gail, suffered cuts on her left hand for which she was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

GRID ROUNDUP

Novato-Redwood Headlines Marin League Openers

By JIM GILMARTIN

Excitement was nearing its peak today on the eve of the opening of the Marin County Athletic League's 1960 football championship race.

With two of the pre-season favorites meeting head-on in San Rafael and the county's oldest rivals clashing at Kentfield in tomorrow night's openers, Marin's grid addicts are anticipating plenty of fireworks on the very first evening of the league season.

The San Rafael contest matches defending champion Redwood against the undefeated Hornets of Novato, co-favored with Drake in what is expected to be a very close title race. Over at Kentfield, meanwhile, San Rafael and Tamalpais renew their rivalry which started back in 1907.

The opening weekend of play continues Saturday night at Kentfield with Drake against the spunky but outmanned Marin Catholic Wildcats.

All varsity games start at 8 o'clock.

Word from Novato Coach Marlin Olsen today was, "We have a few bumps and bruises and may not be at full strength." However, the coach noted, "I think our line is tougher than Redwood's, all the way across, and that's where games are won and lost, in the line."

Olsen went on, "Redwood is a well-coached club and their execution of plays is excellent. But the line will tell the difference. I think we'll win."

Redwood Coach Bob Troppman said his Giants are in "pretty good" spirits for this big game and in good physical health, although 235-pound fullback Ben Chollar will not see action. The big converted tackle who had hoped to put some punch in Redwood's attack has been stricken with a virus and knocked out of action for the past two games.

Troppman has been impressed with Novato in its undefeated practice schedule, especially the passing of Bob Sparrow, the running of Bill Henderson and John Picchi and the Hornets' big, rugged line.

THE TAM-San Rafael game tomorrow night should stir some fond memories for old time residents of Marin who've followed this rivalry which started back in 1907.

The Tam Indians vs. San Rafael Bulldogs games once were the biggest sports attractions in the county. Why, even a lightweight game one year attracted some 6,000 fans to Kentfield and the varsity games would stack 'em three deep around the sidelines. It was THE "Big Game" as far as locals were concerned and "Big Game Week" meant plenty of excitement, rallies, parades and, oh yes, a fight or two.

The addition of new schools in the past decade has cooled the fierceness of this rivalry, but still the schools take pride in their records. Over the years the "Big Game" won-lost records have become buried somewhere and hard to find, but Mill Valley's Dick Powers says he studied the series carefully and discovered Tam holds the edge with 18 victories to 16 for San Rafael and there were five ties.

LAST WEEKEND'S "Prep of the Week" honors belong to Tom Yarborough, Tamalpais end for his play in Tam's big victor yover Ukiah.

The 5-foot-11, 175-pound senior transfer from Seattle sparkled on defense, either at wingback or linebacker, and has been appointed the team's defensive captain. On offense he's a good bet to catch a pass if it's anywhere near him.

PIRATE HOMER — Jubilant Pirates greet Rocky Nelson after his two run homer in today's final World Series game against the Yankees. (AP Wirephoto)

Whitey Didn't Even Know The Final Score

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — "What was that score?" This question was tossed by a perspiring Whitey Ford after his second shutout over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the World Series yesterday.

"It was 12-0—and are you kidding?" a writer replied.

"Kinda lost count out there," said Ford pushing his cap back on his head.

"That shutout was a little tougher than the one I had Saturday at Yankee Stadium," he said. "It took us longer to get the runs today."

Ford, whose seven-hit shutout evened the Series at 3-all, admitted he was shaky in the first two innings.

"They were hitting the ball on the ground. That's the kind of pitches I must make—make 'em hit on the ground. But in this infield the ball goes through like lightning."

Ford said he had some doubts about the third inning when his fingers were burning.

"I was afraid a blister was developing," he said. "So I took one finger off the seam and that relieved the pressure a bit. Course it had some effect — my fast ball wasn't as good as I wanted it and the curve came a bit tougher."

Ford said he never knew definitely that he would pitch the sixth game yesterday until 11 o'clock in the morning.

"Case just come up and said —'Here's the lineup.' I saw my name. In my mind last night I kinda thought I would pitch, though."

Whitey reflected a second when someone asked if this was the most satisfying victory in his baseball career.

"It will be if we win the Series tomorrow," he said.

"But getting back to the game. I was a little tired long about the second inning. But when we got that big inning—was it the third?—I kinda got my second wind and had a good rest.

"In the fifth inning I felt kind of a strain after (Hal) Smith got that single and (Don) Hoak walked. But when Mazeroski hit into the double play I got a lift. Then I was out of trouble when (Rocky) Nelson struck out."

Ford recalled that during the regular season he beat the Orioles after only two days rest.

"But it showed up later. I had trouble in the next four or five games. I'll tell you, I would never want to pitch with only two days rest except in a World Series."

Harney Captures Orange Co. Prelim

COSTA MESA (AP)—Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., won first money in yesterday's $3,000 Pro-Celebrity Tourney, warmup for the Orange County Open starting today.

The long-hitting Harney was 6-under-par with 35-30-65. He was two strokes under Billy Maxwell of Oceanside and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles.

MODESTO—Oscar Ortegen, 140, Corpus Christi, Tex., outpointed Dave Camacho, 137, Monterrey, Mexico, 10.

Coach's Advice Makes Richardson A Terror

PITTSBURGH (AP)—To paraphrase Shakespeare, upon what meat doth litle Bobby Richardson feed that he hath grown so great?

"No bar bells, no pep-up pills, no secret potions," the 166-pound New York Yankee second baseman said today, in explaining his transformation from a puny .250 hitter to a slugger who has erased some of the proudest and oldest batting records in World Series history.

"I guess it was a tip from Ralph Houk that did it. (Yankee coach) told me at the end of the season that I should spread my stance some more and concentrate on just meeting the ball.

"He told me to quit trying to kill the ball or hit home runs, but just try for placed base hits. He thought it would help me next season. I guess the returns have come a little early."

Richardson, a mild-mannered, soft-speaking YMCA worker from Sumter, S.C., said he still couldn't believe he had set the record for most runs-batted-in in a series. Three RBI yesterday in the 12-0 rout of Pittsburgh gave him a total of 12.

Richardson hit a grand slam home run and batted in six runs, also a record, in the third game in New York, won by the Yankees 10-0.

Yesterday against the Pirates he slammed two booming triples.

Richardson's current Series batting mark is .360 and includes the home run, his second of the year; the two triples and two doubles.

By contrast, his season's average was .252. In the 154 regular season games, he had only 26 RBI—little more than double what he has in the current series.

Richardson insisted he hadn't changed his diet or taken up secret trips to a neighborhood muscle emporium. He uses a normal bat—35 ounces—but a bit heavier than that of Mickey Mantle.

"Nothing has happened to me, except this little change which Ralph recommended," he said. "I'm surprised to find I've set a record. I never knew until after the game that 10 (by Yogi Berra in 1956 and Ted Kluszewski in 1959) was the record."

Bears Most Talkative Grid Team And Poor Rams Get All Shook Up

HANLEY

Best laugh of the week came from Chicago where the Rams bleated protests to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle that Bill George, the Bears' great linebacker and defensive captain, was guilty of unsportsmanlike conduct.

George was accused of jamming Ram signals, not clobbering anyone illegally. Ram halfback Jon Arnett said George kept hollering "hut" while Bill Wade was calling Ram signals. "We usually run on 'hut' and George kept yelling it ahead of Wade," said Arnett. "We were continually penalized for being in motion before the ball was snapped."

If called on the carpet by Rozelle, a most unlikely development, George probably would look the young commissioner straight in the eyes and tell him: "For Ram games we 'hut' into defensive alignment." George actually does call aloud Bear defensive signals but we doubt "hut" was among them until last Sunday.

Now, if the Rams had applied for a copyright or patent on "hut" before the season started, they conceivably could apply for an injunction prohibiting other NFL teams from using it in any manner that did not receive approval from the commissioner's office.

CLARK SHAUGHNESSY, the old T-master who now is defensive coach for the Bears, probably suggested to George that he add "hut" to his defense code. Several years ago Shaughnessy and George worked out a simple code of four words which enable George to send linebackers one way, the line another and the secondary still another if necessary. With one or two words George moves his team like pawns on a chessboard.

"The first thing we try to teach defensive players is communication with each other," Shaughnessy says. "By our terminology—or code—men on one end of the line can inform those on the other end about the opponents' setup. We have the most talkative team in football."

Whatever the four-word Bear defensive code is, it is a good one. As yet, none of the NFL teams has been able to crack it. Instead of bleating to Rozelle, the Rams should employ a cryptologist to go to work on George's mumbo-jumbo.

WE DOUBT that Rozelle, a real dandy with words, will issue any cloture ruling against the Bear defense, "hut" or no "hut." Pete once again demonstrated his ability with words the other day in discussing the "battle of Dallas" between the NFL and the new American Football League.

After admitting both leagues were taking a beating at the gate in Dallas, Rozelle blandly stated: "The only competition between us is the signing of players."

Oh, c'mon, now, Pete!

BOWLING

Dottie Rosso of the Delmas and Delmas sponsored team won the high game (194) and the high series (512) last week in competition at Greenbrae Lanes.

Several pins behind her was Clare Wagner of Solberg Painting with a 188 high game and 510 high series. Throwing in at the third slot was Ross Anne Carlton of Littleman's Super Market. She bowled a high game of 185.

Others on the Greenbrae honor roll were Lee Golsch 485, Val Berry 458-191, Chris Griffen 475-183, Nina Sabo 189, Eloise Simpson 479, Corina Bacigalupi 186, Millie Burgess 469-183, Dottie Rosso 451.

Raiders' Morris Named 'Doubtful' For Sunday Tilt

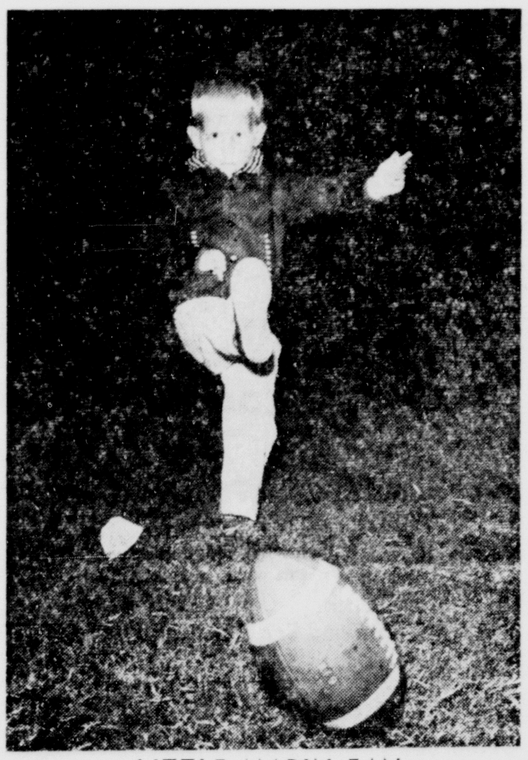

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland Raider linebacker Riley Morris, with a back injury, is on the doubtful list for Sunday's American Football League game with the Boston Patriots at San Francisco.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz said Morris was kneed in the back during a scrimmage.

The Raiders worked on both offense and defense yesterday. Erdelatz worked a few new plays into the Raiders' repertoire and also laid out defenses to prepare for a Boston backfield that features two passers —quarterback Butch Songin and halfback Dick Christy.

The Patriots are working out in Anaheim. They beat the Los Angeles Chargers 35-0 Saturday night.

Wedding Ring Is Hard To Keep

ETNA, Me. (AP) — In the 55 years Mrs. Leighton S. Sylvester has been married, her wedding ring has been lost more than 50.

She first lost it less than two years after her marriage while digging in her garden. Twenty years later her husband found the ring. Less than two years it was lost again.

Now, the ring is back in Mrs. Sylvester's possession once more. A tenant on the farm the Sylvester's formerly owned dug it up.

GRID ROUNDUP

Novato-Redwood Headlines Marin League Openers

By JIM GILMARTIN

Excitement was nearing its peak today on the eve of the opening of the Marin County Athletic League's 1960 football championship race.

With two of the pre-season favorites meeting head-on in San Rafael and the county's oldest rivals clashing at Kentfield in tomorrow night's openers, Marin's grid addicts are anticipating plenty of fireworks on the very first evening of the league season.

The San Rafael contest matches defending champion Redwood against the undefeated Hornets of Novato, co-favored with Drake in what is expected to be a very close title race. Over at Kentfield, meanwhile, San Rafael and Tamalpais renew their rivalry which started back in 1907.

The opening weekend of play continues Saturday night at Kentfield with Drake against the spunky but outmanned Marin Catholic Wildcats.

All varsity games start at 8 o'clock.

Word from Novato Coach Marlin Olsen today was, "We have a few bumps and bruises and may not be at full strength." However, the coach noted, "I think our line is tougher than Redwood's, all the way across, and that's where games are won and lost, in the line."

Olsen went on, "Redwood is a well-coached club and their execution of plays is excellent. But the line will tell the difference. I think we'll win."

Redwood Coach Bob Troppman said his Giants are in "pretty good" spirits for this big game and in good physical health, although 235-pound fullback Ben Chollar will not see action. The big converted tackle who had hoped to put some punch in Redwood's attack has been stricken with a virus and knocked out of action for the past two games.

Troppman has been impressed with Novato in its undefeated practice schedule, especially the passing of Bob Sparrow, the running of Bill Henderson and John Picchi and the Hornets' big, rugged line.

THE TAM-San Rafael game tomorrow night should stir some fond memories for old time residents of Marin who've followed this rivalry which started back in 1907.

The Tam Indians vs. San Rafael Bulldogs games once were the biggest sports attractions in the county. Why, even a lightweight game one year attracted some 6,000 fans to Kentfield and the varsity games would stack 'em three deep around the sidelines. It was THE "Big Game" as far as locals were concerned and "Big Game Week" meant plenty of excitement, rallies, parades and, oh yes, a fight or two.

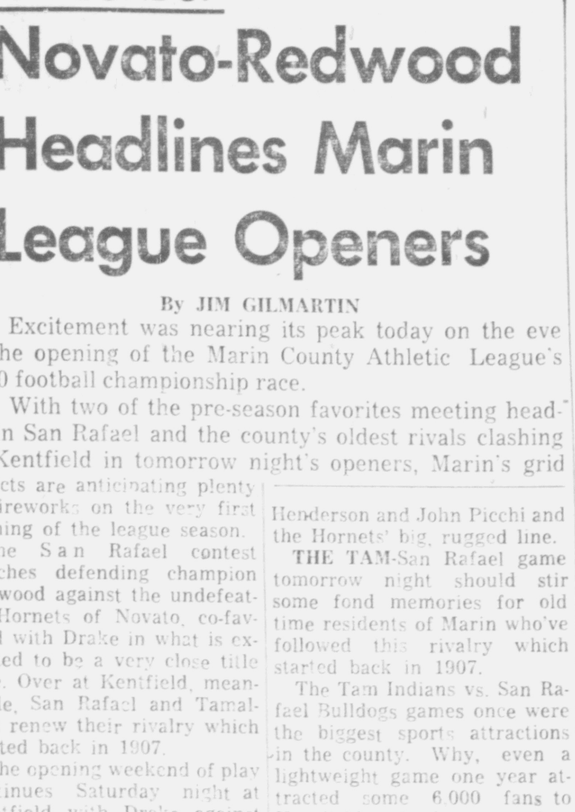

The addition of new schools in the past decade has cooled the fierceness of this rivalry, but still the schools take pride in their records. Over the years the "Big Game" won-lost records have become buried somewhere and hard to find, but Mill Valley's Dick Powers says he studied the series carefully and discovered Tam holds the edge with 18 victories to 16 for San Rafael and there were five ties.

LAST WEEKEND'S "Prep of the Week" honors belong to Tom Yarborough, Tamalpais end for his play in Tam's big victor yover Ukiah.

The 5-foot-11, 175-pound senior transfer from Seattle sparkled on defense, either at wingback or linebacker, and has been appointed the team's defensive captain. On offense he's a good bet to catch a pass if it's anywhere near him.

PIRATE HOMER — Jubilant Pirates greet Rocky Nelson after his two run homer in today's final World Series game against the Yankees. (AP Wirephoto)

Whitey Didn't Even Know The Final Score

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — "What was that score?" This question was tossed by a perspiring Whitey Ford after his second shutout over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the World Series yesterday.

"It was 12-0—and are you kidding?" a writer replied.

"Kinda lost count out there," said Ford pushing his cap back on his head.

"That shutout was a little tougher than the one I had Saturday at Yankee Stadium," he said. "It took us longer to get the runs today."

Ford, whose seven-hit shutout evened the Series at 3-all, admitted he was shaky in the first two innings.

"They were hitting the ball on the ground. That's the kind of pitches I must make—make 'em hit on the ground. But in this infield the ball goes through like lightning."

Ford said he had some doubts about the third inning when his fingers were burning.

"I was afraid a blister was developing," he said. "So I took one finger off the seam and that relieved the pressure a bit. Course it had some effect — my fast ball wasn't as good as I wanted it and the curve came a bit tougher."

Ford said he never knew definitely that he would pitch the sixth game yesterday until 11 o'clock in the morning.

"Case just come up and said —'Here's the lineup.' I saw my name. In my mind last night I kinda thought I would pitch, though."

Whitey reflected a second when someone asked if this was the most satisfying victory in his baseball career.

"It will be if we win the Series tomorrow," he said.

"But getting back to the game. I was a little tired long about the second inning. But when we got that big inning—was it the third?—I kinda got my second wind and had a good rest.

"In the fifth inning I felt kind of a strain after (Hal) Smith got that single and (Don) Hoak walked. But when Mazeroski hit into the double play I got a lift. Then I was out of trouble when (Rocky) Nelson struck out."

Ford recalled that during the regular season he beat the Orioles after only two days rest.

"But it showed up later. I had trouble in the next four or five games. I'll tell you, I would never want to pitch with only two days rest except in a World Series."

Harney Captures Orange Co. Prelim

COSTA MESA (AP)—Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., won first money in yesterday's $3,000 Pro-Celebrity Tourney, warmup for the Orange County Open starting today.

The long-hitting Harney was 6-under-par with 35-30-65. He was two strokes under Billy Maxwell of Oceanside and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles.

Coach's Advice Makes Richardson A Terror

PITTSBURGH (AP)—To paraphrase Shakespeare, upon what meat doth litle Bobby Richardson feed that he hath grown so great?

"No bar bells, no pep-up pills, no secret potions," the 166-pound New York Yankee second baseman said today, in explaining his transformation from a puny .250 hitter to a slugger who has erased some of the proudest and oldest batting records in World Series history.

"I guess it was a tip from Ralph Houk that did it. (Yankee coach) told me at the end of the season that I should spread my stance some more and concentrate on just meeting the ball.

"He told me to quit trying to kill the ball or hit home runs, but just try for placed base hits. He thought it would help me next season. I guess the returns have come a little early."

Richardson, a mild-mannered, soft-speaking YMCA worker from Sumter, S.C., said he still couldn't believe he had set the record for most runs batted-in in a series. Three RBI yesterday in the 12-0 rout of Pittsburgh gave him a total of 12.

Richardson hit a grand slam home run and batted in six runs, also a record, in the third game in New York, won by the Yankees 10-0.

Yesterday against the Pirates he slammed two booming triples.

Richardson's current Series batting mark is .360 and includes the home run, his second of the year; the two triples and two doubles.

By contrast, his season's average was .252. In the 154 regular season games, he had only 26 RBI—little more than double what he has in the current series.

Richardson insisted he hadn't changed his diet or taken up secret trips to a neighborhood muscle emporium. He uses a normal bat—35 ounces—but a bit heavier than that of Mickey Mantle.

"Nothing has happened to me, except this little change which Ralph recommended," he said. "I'm surprised to find I've set a record. I never knew until after the game that 10 (by Yogi Berra in 1956 and Ted Kluszewski in 1959) was the record."

Bears Most Talkative Grid Team And Poor Rams Get All Shook Up

PREP OF WEEK—End Tom Yarborough, defensive captain and star for the Tamalpais Indians, has been named "Prep of the Week" by the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM for his role in last week's victory over Ukiah. Here he goes over some plays with defensive coach Al Power, preparatory to tomorrow night's game with San Rafael. (Jim Kean photo)

Marin Football Roundup: Big Games Friday Night

Radio KTIM will present him with a "Prep of the Week" certificate.

TAM COACH Jim Hanretty likes to put his body and soul into showing his footballers the proper fundamentals of the game.

Monday Hanretty was participating in a blocking drill and was jarred pretty hard by one of his players.

Yesterday, finding it difficult to breath, the coach visited his doctor for a checkup.

Today, he's home in bed, heavily taped — three cracked ribs.

SAN RAFAEL'S DICK Read had a similar experience three years ago when he was coaching at St. Mary's in Berkeley. Dissatisfied with his team's pass defense, Read got out on the field in practice and really showed his players how to break up a pass pattern. In the scrimmage the spirited young coach charged at a player — missed — kept going — and KONK — hit his head on the grandstand. Seventeen stitches!

SAN RAFAEL suffered a jolt this week when little (5-7, 145) Billy Roberts, the club's best ball-toter, suffered a pulled groin muscle and is listed as "questionable" for the Tam tilt. The rugged little halfback suffered the injury by merely running through plays Monday.

If he can't play, fullback Alan Finley will take over left half and second string fullback Bob Mile will step into the starting role.

SAM HELMS, Tam halfback, is still out of action with an injury and probably won't see action tomorrow night.

DRAKE COACH Bob Franceschini said last week's loss to Analy "probably did us more good than harm and our kids are really looking forward to making a comeback."

With the exception of end Bill Collins, ill with the flu, the entire Drake lineup appears to be healthy. Larry Kline will start in Collins' spot.

Franceschini said he's scouted Marin Catholic twice and "I have a lot of respect for them. They have a lot of team spirit and good talent on their small squad. We're not taking them lightly."

Last week at Sebastopol Analy scored three first half touchdowns on long passes for a 19-2 halftime lead, but had to hang on to hold off the infuriated Pirates for a final 19-15 score. Needless to say the Pirates have worked on pass defense this week and have displayed some improvement.

MARIN CATHOLIC will be without its two first string halfbacks — Gary Ragghianti and George Nunes—both on the injury list.

That leaves Marin with just 10 reserves on the bench and when the Wildcats scrimmage Coach Harry Moore has to get in there and play a position.

Moore said the Drake game "should be close, but I'm looking forward to a victory."

COLLEGE OF MARIN received a further jolt this week when its already undermanned squad lost the services of star lineman Nat Johnson on an ineligibility ruling.

Halfback Russ Cook is still definitely out of action with his bum knee and tackle Harry Hersch is listed as questionable, also with a knee.

Last week Marin's reserve list lost a member when tackle Steve Stover broke a hand in scrimmage and will be out for three weeks.

For Saturday night's game at Auburn against Sierra, Marin Coach Harry Pieper is looking to a close game, judging by a comparative score with Menlo. The Menlo team beat Sierra 13-6 and beat Marin 16-6. And, like Marin, Sierra is winless.

If numbers mean anything, Sierra has a whopping advantage with 48 men on the squad, just about twice as many as Marin.

SAN RAFAEL Military Academy's 7-2 victory over Lick-Wilmerding last Friday came on a 55-yard touchdown romp by George Booth and extra point kick by Doug Silva in the final minutes of the half.

San Rafael completely dominated the game with 260 yards on offense to 30 for Lick.

Bear Star Injured; McKeever Doubtful

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

BERKELEY—California's Bo MacAdam, second team right guard, will be the only major gap in the Bears' lineup for Saturday's game against Southern California. He suffered a knee injury in Tuesday's practice and was replaced by Sam Stassi, 190-pound sophomore from Sacramento.

But returned to the team in time for the game were Alex Jamile, reserve right half, who was recovering from a concussion, and John Papani, first-team end who was out with a charley horse.

McKEEVER ILL

LOS ANGELES — Trojan guard Mike McKeever wants to play against California here Saturday but may not make it.

The Southern California lineman, hospitalized by a sinus infection that struck him during last week's game against Georgia, has lost 20 pounds. He wasn't able to eat for three days and had severe headaches. Doctors told him they believe a virus intensified the sinus pain.

McKeever worked briefly yesterday, but became dizzy and had to quit. He said he thought he might make it into the game and that he doesn't anticipate any trouble from California over last year's incident in which his tackle of Steve Bates put the Bear halfback out for the season.

Mike and Bates are co-captains of their teams this year.

Roger Mietz is expected to play much of the time at McKeever's guard spot. He made some outstanding defensive plays against Georgia, Coach John McKay says.

INJURED INJUN

STANFORD—Stanford will have to do without sophomore wingback Tim Hansel for the San Jose State game Saturday. Hansel suffered a separated shoulder in Tuesday's practice and will be out for the season.

Coach Jack Curtice put the Indians through tough passing, running and defensive drills Wednesday.

SPARTANS PLOT

SAN JOSE—San Jose State plotted yesterday against Stanford, the Spartans' foe next Saturday, by running offenses and testing defenses against the Indians' plays.

Coach Bob Titchenal reported halfback Dough McChesney and end Jim Cadile out of practice, but said that both would be ready to play Saturday. McChesney had a sprained neck while Cadile was shelved with a fever.

BRUINS READY

LOS ANGELES—When the UCLA Bruins line up against Washington in Seattle Saturday they should be familiar with every formation and move the Huskies make.

Scout Johnny Hermann has studied the Huskies intensively in their last two games and the Bruins have extensive dope sheets on every play used. The reserve team has been running these plays for the regulars and the squad has had re-runs of Stanford-Washington game films.

So UCLA is adequately prepared for the game that may decide the Big Five title and the West's representation in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Trainer Ducky Drake says the Bruins are physically ready for the game "and they're a dedicated group that set their minds on doing a job and then get it done."

There's a sign in the Bruin dressing room that says: "The season begins Saturday. Be ready."

"We've had fine practice sessions this week and I'm encouraged," says Head Coach Bill Barnes.

The Bruins fly to Seattle Friday morning and will hold a light workout there that afternoon.

Celts Top L.A. Again

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—Boston's Celtics now hold an 8-4 lead over the Los Angeles Lakers in their National Basketball Assn. exhibition series.

Boston won at Long Beach last night 117-113, tying the ccore at 102 in regulation time, and winning in an overtime period as Tom Heinsohn, Bill Russell and Bill Sharman provided the scoring punch.

DAVIS BOOTS TWO 60-YARD FIELD GOALS

DETROIT (AP) — San Francisco 49er kicker Tommy Davis, who had been suffering back pains, lofted two 60-yard field goals yesterday in practice for Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears at Wrigley Field.

Coach Red Hickey put the team through "confusion practice" to prevent the 49ers from being drawn offside by the opponents calling phony signals while the 49ers have the ball.

Hickey had the defenders yelling "go" while the quarterbacks were calling signals. The coach said offensive linemen were less bothered by the tactic yesterday than they were the day before.

Free Ski School Starts Tomorrow

A "Dry Ski School," featuring exercises and the new Wedln method of skiing, will begin a series of Friday night classes tomorrow at "E" Street School in San Rafael, Instructor John Yonkow announced yesterday.

Sponsored by the Marin Ski Club, the course is open free to the public. Class will be conducted from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

HUSKIES DRILL

SEATTLE—Speedball Charlie Mitchell ran with the first team backfield today as Washington tapered off for the clash with UCLA here Saturday. The game may decide this year's Big Five Rose Bowl team.

A long defensive scrimmage against UCLA's single wing type of attack yesterday wound up this week's last heavy drill.

"It was a good practice . . . They're perking up," Coach Jim Owens said.

Mitchell, who has run a kick-off and punt return back for touchdowns in four games, worked in the spot held by George Fleming, Rose Bowl veteran. It was to give him experience with quarterback Bob Schloredt and the other backs, aides said.

10 TEAM CIRCUIT?

American League Will Expand, Too

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The first expansion in the 60-year history of the major leagues will become a reality next week when the National League names Houston and New York as its ninth and 10th clubs and the American League does the same by plucking Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Houston and New York made formal application to join the N. L. Tuesday and will be selected at the senior circuit's meeting in Chicago Monday. The A. L. will meet either next Wednesday or Thursday and is expected to name Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St. Paul as its ninth and 10th teams.

There was some speculation that one of the new berths in the A. L. would go to Toronto. The Canadian city has gone ahead and made formal application, but Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, here for the World Series, indicates that the application would be turned down.

"It's just a guess, of course," Frick said, "but I would say Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St .Paul stand a good chance of obtaining a franchise."

Del Webb, Yankee co-owner and chairman of the A. L. expansion committee, said that his group already "had made its recommendations and it is up to the league as a whole to approve them. Joe Cronin (A. L. president) will announce the date and site in a day or two."

Acceptance of the four new franchises would mean that the two leagues will begin play under a 10-team setup in 1962. It would be virtually impossible to get underway in 1961 because of the enormous amount of work to be done procuring player personnel, setting up minor league farm systems and building ball parks.

DALLAS STADIUM

"Dallas is building a splendid ball park and the plans are on the board at Houston calling for a stadium with 45,000 seat capacity with possible expansion to 60,000," Frick said.

Minneapolis has one of the finest ball parks in the minors, now being used by the city's American Assn. affiliate. The park is only a few years old and easily could be converted to major league dimensions. New York, thus, remains the only city with a park problem.

The city already has spent considerable money for plans to build a 45,000-50,000 seat stadium at the old World Fair site in Flushing Meadows, Queens. However, the Yankees are known to be displeased with this setup and would like to have the New York N. L. entry share Yankee Stadium with them.

The city has said on a number of occasions that work on the park will begin only after New York has formally been accepted in the N. L. or the proposed Continental League, from which the four new franchises will emerge.

Also, it is known that the Yankees at one time were dickering for support from the other A. L. clubs to hold up N. L. expansion until the American League could get a franchise in Los Angeles. This problem, apparently has been resolved.

Men On High Level Report Low Theft

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — What happens when men up high see a low theft?

Here they called police—and their voices were heard from the 14th floor of a new building on which they were working. They say a young boy get into a car parked by a man and drive away. They shouted to police its route which they could see from their vantage point. The car was found abandoned. The boy had disappeared.

Bear Star Injured; McKeever Doubtful

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

BERKELEY—California's Bo MacAdam, second team right guard, will be the only major gap in the Bears' lineup for Saturday's game against Southern California. He suffered a knee injury in Tuesday's practice and was replaced by Sam Stassi, 190-pound sophomore from Sacramento.

But returned to the team in time for the game were Alex Jamile, reserve right half, who was recovering from a concussion, and John Papani, first-team end who was out with a charley horse.

McKEEVER ILL

LOS ANGELES — Trojan guard Mike McKeever wants to play against California here Saturday but may not make it.

The Southern California lineman, hospitalized by a sinus infection that struck him during last week's game against Georgia, has lost 20 pounds. He wasn't able to eat for three days and had severe headaches. Doctors told him they believe a virus intensified the sinus pain.

McKeever worked briefly yesterday, but became dizzy and had to quit. He said he thought he might make it into the game and that he doesn't anticipate any trouble from California over last year's incident in which his tackle of Steve Bates put the Bear halfback out for the season.

Mike and Bates are co-captains of their teams this year.

Roger Mietz is expected to play much of the time at McKeever's guard spot. He made some outstanding defensive plays against Georgia, Coach John McKay says.

INJURED INJUN

STANFORD—Stanford will have to do without sophomore wingback Tim Hansel for the San Jose State game Saturday. Hansel suffered a separated shoulder in Tuesday's practice and will be out for the season.

Coach Jack Curtice put the Indians through tough passing, running and defensive drills Wednesday.

SPARTANS PLOT

SAN JOSE—San Jose State plotted yesterday against Stanford, the Spartans' foe next Saturday, by running offenses and testing defenses against the Indians' plays.

Coach Bob Titchenal reported halfback Dough McChesney and end Jim Cadile out of practice, but said that both would be ready to play Saturday. McChesney had a sprained neck while Cadile was shelved with a fever.

BRUINS READY

LOS ANGELES—When the UCLA Bruins line up against Washington in Seattle Saturday they should be familiar with every formation and move the Huskies make.

Scout Johnny Hermann has studied the Huskies intensively in their last two games and the Bruins have extensive dope sheets on every play used. The reserve team has been running these plays for the regulars and the squad has had re-runs of Stanford-Washington game films.

So UCLA is adequately prepared for the game that may decide the Big Five title and the West's representation in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Trainer Ducky Drake says the Bruins are physically ready for the game "and they're a dedicated group that set their minds on doing a job and then get it done."

There's a sign in the Bruin dressing room that says: "The season begins Saturday. Be ready."

"We've had fine practice sessions this week and I'm encouraged," says Head Coach Bill Barnes.

The Bruins fly to Seattle Friday morning and will hold a light workout there that afternoon.

DAVIS BOOTS TWO 60-YARD FIELD GOALS

DETROIT (AP) — San Francisco 49er kicker Tommy Davis, who had been suffering back pains, lofted two 60-yard field goals yesterday in practice for Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears at Wrigley Field.

Coach Red Hickey put the team through "confusion practice" to prevent the 49ers from being drawn offside by the opponents calling phony signals while the 49ers have the ball.

Hickey had the defenders yelling "go" while the quarterbacks were calling signals. The coach said offensive linemen were less bothered by the tactic yesterday than they were the day before.

Free Ski School Starts Tomorrow

A "Dry Ski School," featuring exercises and the new Wedln method of skiing, will begin a series of Friday night classes tomorrow at "E" Street School in San Rafael, Instructor John Yonkow announced yesterday.

Sponsored by the Marin Ski Club, the course is open free to the public. Class will be conducted from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

HUSKIES DRILL

SEATTLE—Speedball Charlie Mitchell ran with the first team backfield today as Washington tapered off for the clash with UCLA here Saturday. The game may decide this year's Big Five Rose Bowl team.

A long defensive scrimmage against UCLA's single wing type of attack yesterday wound up this week's last heavy drill.

"It was a good practice . . . They're perking up," Coach Jim Owens said.

Mitchell, who has run a kickoff and punt return back for touchdowns in four games, worked in the spot held by George Fleming, Rose Bowl veteran. It was to give him experience with quarterback Bob Schloredt and the other backs, aides said.

Celts Top L.A. Again

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—Boston's Celtics now hold an 8-4 lead over the Los Angeles Lakers in their National Basketball Assn. exhibition series.

Boston won at Long Beach last night 117-113, tying the ccore at 102 in regulation time, and winning in an overtime period as Tom Heinsohn, Bill Russell and Bill Sharman provided the scoring punch.

10 TEAM CIRCUIT?

American League Will Expand, Too

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The first expansion in the 60-year history of the major leagues will become a reality next week when the National League names Houston and New York as its ninth and 10th clubs and the American League does the same by plucking Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Houston and New York made formal application to join the N. L. Tuesday and will be selected at the senior circuit's meeting in Chicago Monday. The A. L. will meet either next Wednesday or Thursday and is expected to name Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St. Paul as its ninth and 10th teams.

There was some speculation that one of the new berths in the A. L. would go to Toronto. The Canadian city has gone ahead and made formal application, but Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, here for the World Series, indicates that the application would be turned down.

"It's just a guess, of course," Frick said, "but I would say Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St .Paul stand a good chance of obtaining a franchise."

Del Webb, Yankee co-owner and chairman of the A. L. expansion committee, said that his group already "had made its recommendations and it is up to the league as a whole to approve them. Joe Cronin (A. L. president) will announce the date and site in a day or two."

Acceptance of the four new franchises would mean that the two leagues will begin play under a 10-team setup in 1962. It would be virtually impossible to get underway in 1961 because of the enormous amount of work to be done procuring player personnel, setting up minor league farm systems and building ball parks.

DALLAS STADIUM

"Dallas is building a splendid ball park and the plans are on the board at Houston calling for a stadium with 45,000 seat capacity with possible expansion to 60,000," Frick said.

Minneapolis has one of the finest ball parks in the minors, now being used by the city's American Assn. affiliate. The park is only a few years old and easily could be converted to major league dimensions. New York, thus, remains the only city with a park problem.

The city already has spent considerable money for plans to build a 45,000-50,000 seat stadium at the old World Fair site in Flushing Meadows, Queens. However, the Yankees are known to be displeased with this setup and would like to have the New York N. L. entry share Yankee Stadium with them.

The city has said on a number of occasions that work on the park will begin only after New York has formally been accepted in the N. L. or the proposed Continental League, from which the four new franchises will emerge.

Also, it is known that the Yankees at one time were dickering for support from the other A. L. clubs to hold up N. L. expansion until the American League could get a franchise in Los Angeles. This problem, apparently has been resolved.

Men On High Level Report Low Theft

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — What happens when men up high see a low theft?

Here they called police—and their voices were heard from the 14th floor of a new building on which they were working. They say a young boy get into a car parked by a man and drive away. They shouted to police its route which they could see from their vantage point. The car was found abandoned. The boy had disappeared.

Radio KTIM will present him with a "Prep of the Week" certificate.

TAM COACH Jim Hanretty likes to put his body and soul into showing his footballers the proper fundamentals of the game.

Monday Hanretty was participating in a blocking drill and was jarred pretty hard by one of his players.

Yesterday, finding it difficult to breath, the coach visited his doctor for a checkup.

Today, he's home in bed, heavily taped — three cracked ribs.

SAN RAFAEL'S DICK Read had a similar experience three years ago when he was coaching at St. Mary's in Berkeley. Dissatisfied with his team's pass defense, Read got out on the field in practice and really showed his players how to break up a pass pattern. In the scrimmage the spirited young coach charged at a player — missed — kept going — and KONK — hit his head on the grandstand. Seventeen stitches!

SAN RAFAEL suffered a jolt this week when little (5-7, 145) Billy Roberts, the club's best ball-toter, suffered a pulled groin muscle and is listed as "questionable" for the Tam tilt. The rugged little halfback suffered the injury by merely running through plays Monday.

If he can't play, fullback Alan Finley will take over left half and second string fullback Bob Mile will step into the starting role.

SAM HELMS, Tam halfback, is still out of action with an injury and probably won't see action tomorrow night.

DRAKE COACH Bob Franceschini said last week's loss to Analy "probably did us more good than harm and our kids are really looking forward to making a comeback."

With the exception of end Bill Collins, ill with the flu, the entire Drake lineup appears to be healthy. Larry Kline will start in Collins' spot.

Franceschini said he's scouted Marin Catholic twice and "I have a lot of respect for them. They have a lot of team spirit and good talent on their small squad. We're not taking them lightly."

Last week at Sebastopol Analy scored three first half touchdowns on long passes for a 19-2 halftime lead, but had to hang on to hold off the infuriated Pirates for a final 19-15 score. Needless to say the Pirates have worked on pass defense this week and have displayed some improvement.

MARIN CATHOLIC will be without its two first string halfbacks — Gary Ragghianti and George Nunes—both on the injury list.

That leaves Marin with just 10 reserves on the bench and when the Wildcats scrimmage Coach Harry Moore has to get in there and play a position.

Moore said the Drake game "should be close, but I'm looking forward to a victory."

COLLEGE OF MARIN received a further jolt this week when its already undermanned squad lost the services of star lineman Nat Johnson on an ineligibility ruling.

Halfback Russ Cook is still definitely out of action with his bum knee and tackle Harry Hersch is listed as questionable, also with a knee.

Last week Marin's reserve list lost a member when tackle Steve Stover broke a hand in scrimmage and will be out for three weeks.

For Saturday night's game at Auburn against Sierra, Marin Coach Harry Pieper is looking to a close game, judging by a comparative score with Menlo. The Menlo team beat Sierra 13-6 and beat Marin 16-6. And, like Marin, Sierra is winless.

If numbers mean anything, Sierra has a whopping advantage with 48 men on the squad, just about twice as many as Marin.

SAN RAFAEL Military Academy's 7-2 victory over Lick-Wilmerding last Friday came on a 55-yard touchdown romp by George Booth and extra point kick by Doug Silva in the final minutes of the half.

San Rafael completely dominated the game with 260 yards on offense to 30 for Lick.

The FISHIN' FOOL

I-J Fish and Game Writer

Anglers Scored In Spite Of Storm; Still Plenty Of Bass In The Bay

STEVENS

We said we were sad for the guys and gals who hoped to win a prize in the Rodeo Bass Derby on Sunday, because of the storm. Maybe we were a bit premature in our emotion. It is true that compared to Saturday (the first day of the derby) Sunday's results were mighty slim, but in spite of high winds, rough and dirty water, at least five of Sunday's entries made the grade. John Hathaway of Richmond won fifth prize with a 16-pound, four-ounce bass; Gene Phillips of Vallejo came in sixth with an even 16-pound fish; the 10th prize was taken by a Sunday fisherman with a 14- five-ounce fish. Ray Bow took a prize for a 13-pound 14-ounce bass and Frank Rubino came all the way from Stockton to place with a 13-pound one-ounce striper.

Of the 20 prizes the top fish was a 35-pounder and the 20th weighed 12 pounds four ounces.

We couldn't find the name of a Marin County angler among the winners for fish caught nor for winning a door prize. Incidentally, perhaps the happiest angler in the lot was a guy named Chris Kiteas: He didn't place with a fish, but he did win the top door prize of $500.

AS MENTIONED, the vast majority of fish caught in the Derby as well as hither and yon in San Pablo Bay were taken on Saturday. It was windy, but nothing compared to Sunday. Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia reported H. B. Norris and Lyle Phinney limited with bass to eight pounds at the Sisters on Saturday. And those regulars (limits nearly every time out), the William McGowans, (Mac, Ma and daughter) unloaded nine nice stripers to six pounds, taken off Buoy six Saturday.

Joe had no boats out on Sunday and only one on Monday. But, while we can understand Sunday's blank, why on Monday? The storm didn't chase the fish away. We learned that every boat out of Crockett, for example, took limits or near limits for its customers. We checked on one boat, the Dowrelio No. 6, and know that it accounted for 33 bass to nine pounds on Monday. It fished off Buoy 10.

NERVANI told us of a rumor that the area off Buoy Four was yielding some big fish (to 18 pounds) and plenty of them. We imagine that rumor is based on fact.

By the way, Nervani also reported seeing several large flocks of ducks in the air in his sector of the San Pablo Bay. Bluebills and sprigs mainly, with some ruddy-ducks and quite a few coots. The old timers are lamenting the restriction on canvasbacks, but, after all, we seldom see the cans until the third of fourth week after the season opens, so why not fill up on blues and sprig and be satisfied?

WE RECENTLY received a letter from R. H. Butler, a former resident of San Rafael, now residing in Detroit, Mich. Seems Robert Butler read a couple excerpts from our columns in the I-J. Made him homesick for the good old days in and around the bay and sloughs where he was wont to hunt and fish.

A GAL'S FISH STORY

Miss Bettie Sears of El Cajon, California, stands beside 419-pound sea bass she caught from a sports fishing boat off the Coronado Islands, 20 miles southwest of San Diego this week. Experts reported it was largest fish of record caught with medium tackle. (AP Wirephoto)

Tamalpais Swim Club Tops Curtis Team In Dual Meet

Remembering the dunking they got when they lost by 43 points to the Ann Curtis Swim Club in their last meeting, the Tamalpais Swim Club in a recent rematch at the Tam swimming pool splashed some water back at the Curtis swimmers to the liquid weight of 173-140, Tam.

Bill Cuneo, 10, and his sister Carol Cuneo, 8, of San Rafael were high point winners from Curtis for the boy and girl events respectively, but were unable to combat Tam's strong effort in the 12 and under, and the 14 and under class events.

Bill Cuneo won the 50-yard free-style (32.5); the 50-yard butterfly (41.2), and was on the winning relay team in the 200 medley and the 100 medley race.

His sister, Carol, in the 8 and under class won the 25-yard free-style; in the 10 and under class, won the 50-yard freestyle and placed second in the 50-yard backstroke and the 50-yard butterfly. Her time in the winning freestyle events were 17 seconds for the 25 yards and 39.5 seconds for the 100 yard event. The Cuneo children's mother is former Olympic swimming champion Ann Curtis Cuneo.

The brother and sister winners for the Tam swim club were Emily and Bruce Thomson. The pair won in identical races of their gender. Bruce outtouched Bill Verron in the 50-yard backstroke with a time of 46.5, while Emily beat Carol Cuneo in the girls', 50-yard backstroke with 44.8 on the stopwatch. The Thompson pair also won the 50-yard breaststroke. In the girls' race Emily outswam Val Gross with a time of 47.3, and Bruce Thomson beat Will Guthrie of the Curtis Club with 48.9.

High point girl contestant for Tam was Susan Krieger. She won two events: the girls' 50-yard freestyle in the 12 and under class (34.4), and the 50-yard butterfly in the same class (43.1). She was also on the Tam team that won the 200-ard medley relay race in the girls' 12 and under class with the time of two minutes and 44.3 seconds.

Chargers' Sears Hurts Shoulder

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defensive back Jim Sears, a former Trojan, has a torn shoulder muscle and may not play for the Los Angeles Chargers again this season.

Coach Sid Gillman has signed Charley McNeil of Compton College as as replacement for Sears.

"Things should be better for us against Denver," said Gillman. "We'll have Jack Kemp back at quarterback. That should make a big difference. Our left halfback, Charlie Flowers, also may be able to play some of the game, although we plan to start Paul Lowe."

Special Meeting

A special meeting of the San Rafael Sanitation District board will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the San Rafael City Council chamber to consider the Latipac-Perini Co. proposals for a treatment plant at Marin Bay subdivision.

South Marin Cage League Is Organized

A Southern Marin Basketball League has been assembled this season covering the areas from San Quentin to Sausalito, including the Mill Valley area.

The new league, working without any local sponsors, will begin league play the last week of November, but will hold its tryouts and practices in the next few weeks.

The League's board of directors met recently, electing Dick Powers as president of the league with Bill Purtell of Corte Madera, Lt. Ernest Brawley of San Quentin, Harry Bears of the Sausalito area, Frank Heavern of Tiburon, Dale Tupper of Mt. Carmel School of Mill Valley, and Stan Woodward of the Mill Valley Boys Club on the board of directors.

The league will include teams from the Mill Valley Boys Club, Mt. Carmel School of Mill Valley, Twin Cities Boys Club, Richardson Bay School and teams from the Tiburon Peninsula. San Quentin will only enter the sixth grade level competition.

There will be three leagues composed of eighth graders, and the fifth and sixth graders. Some of the clubs will have unlimited teams of the high school level.

The Mill Valley Boys Club opens the Tamalpais High School girls gym to all boys interested in the program tonight at 7 o'clock. The Boys Club will have Mondays and Thursday this year at the gymnasium.

Twin Cities will begin next Monday night in the Redwood High School gym at 7 o'clock, and all boys from that area are urged to attend.

All league games will be played on Monday, Wednesday or Thursday nights, but only one league game each week.

The support of the Southern Marin parents are asked this year so that the winter program will be a success.

Giants' Publicist Schumacher Ill

Gary Schumacher, the San Francisco Giants' veteran promotion director, entered St. Luke's Hospital yesterday for an operation, his second in recent months.

Schumacher was operated on in June for a perforated colon.

He was rushed back from Pittsburgh, where he was attending the World Series, when peritonitis followed an abdominal attack.

Schumacher, expected to be at St. Luke's three weeks, will miss the Giants' tour of Japan, which begins Saturday.

The FISHIN' FOOL

STEVENS

We said we were sad for the guys and gals who hoped to win a prize in the Rodeo Bass Derby on Sunday, because of the storm. Maybe we were a bit premature in our emotion. It is true that compared to Saturday (the first day of the derby) Sunday's results were mighty slim, but in spite of high winds, rough and dirty water, at least five of Sunday's entries made the grade. John Hathaway of Richmond won fifth prize with a 16-pound, four-ounce bass; Gene Phillips of Vallejo came in sixth with an even 16-pound fish; the 10th prize was taken by a Sunday fisherman with a 14- five-ounce fish. Ray Bow took a prize for a 13-pound 14-ounce bass and Frank Rubino came all the way from Stockton to place with a 13-pound one-ounce striper.

Of the 20 prizes the top fish was a 35-pounder and the 20th weighed 12 pounds four ounces.

We couldn't find the name of a Marin County angler among the winners for fish caught nor for winning a door prize. Incidentally, perhaps the happiest angler in the lot was a guy named Chris Kiteas: He didn't place with a fish, but he did win the top door prize of $500.

AS MENTIONED, the vast majority of fish caught in the Derby as well as hither and yon in San Pablo Bay were taken on Saturday. It was windy, but nothing compared to Sunday. Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia reported H. B. Norris and Lyle Phinney limited with bass to eight pounds at the Sisters on Saturday. And those regulars (limits nearly every time out), the William McGowans, (Mac, Ma and daughter) unloaded nine nice stripers to six pounds, taken off Buoy six Saturday.

Joe had no boats out on Sunday and only one on Monday. But, while we can understand Sunday's blank, why on Monday? The storm didn't chase the fish away. We learned that every boat out of Crockett, for example, took limits or near limits for its customers. We checked on one boat, the Dowrelio No. 6, and know that it accounted for 33 bass to nine pounds on Monday. It fished off Buoy 10.

NERVANI told us of a rumor that the area off Buoy Four was yielding some big fish (to 18 pounds) and plenty of them. We imagine that rumor is based on fact.

By the way, Nervani also reported seeing several large flocks of ducks in the air in his sector of the San Pablo Bay. Bluebills and sprigs mainly, with some ruddy-ducks and quite a few coots. The old timers are lamenting the restriction on canvasbacks, but, after all, we seldom see the cans until the third of fourth week after the season opens, so why not fill up on bluies and sprig and be satisfied?

WE RECENTLY received a letter from R. H. Butler, a former resident of San Rafael, now residing in Detroit, Mich. Seems Robert Butler read a couple excerpts from our columns in the I-J. Made him homesick for the good old days in and around the bay and sloughs where he was wont to hunt and fish.

A GAL'S FISH STORY

Miss Bettie Sears of El Cajon, California, stands beside 419-pound sea bass she caught from a sports fishing boat off the Coronado Islands, 20 miles southwest of San Diego this week. Experts reported it was largest fish of record caught with medium tackle. (AP Wirephoto)

A special meeting of the San Rafael Sanitation District board will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the San Rafael City Council chamber to consider the Latipac-Perini Co. proposals for a treatment plant at Marin Bay subdivision.

Tamalpais Swim Club Tops Curtis Team In Dual Meet

Remembering the dunking they got when they lost by 43 points to the Ann Curtis Swim Club in their last meeting, the Tamalpais Swim Club in a recent rematch at the Tam swimming pool splashed some water back at the Curtis swimmers to the liquid weight of 173-140, Tam.

Bill Cuneo, 10, and his sister Carol Cuneo, 8, of San Rafael were high point winners from Curtis for the boy and girl events respectively, but were unable to combat Tam's strong effort in the 12 and under, and the 14 and under class events.

Bill Cuneo won the 50-yard free-style (32.5); the 50-yard butterfly (41.2), and was on the winning relay team in the 200 medley and the 100 medley race.

His sister, Carol, in the 8 and under class won the 25-yard free-style; in the 10 and under class, won the 50-yard freestyle and placed second in the 50-yard backstroke and the 50-yard butterfly. Her time in the winning freestyle events were 17 seconds for the 25 yards and 39.5 seconds for the 100 yard event. The Cuneo children's mother is former Olympic swimming champion Ann Curtis Cuneo.

The brother and sister winners for the Tam swim club were Emily and Bruce Thomson. The pair won in identical races of their gender. Bruce outtouched Bill Verron in the 50-yard backstroke with a time of 46.5, while Emily beat Carol Cuneo in the girls', 50-yard backstroke with 44.8 on the stopwatch. The Thompson pair also won the 50-yard breaststroke. In the girls' race Emily outswam Val Gross with a time of 47.3, and Bruce Thomson beat Will Guthrie of the Curtis Club with 48.9.

High point girl contestant for Tam was Susan Krieger. She won two events: the girls' 50-yard freestyle in the 12 and under class (34.4), and the 50-yard butterfly in the same class (43.1). She was also on the Tam team that won the 200-ard medley relay race in the girls' 12 and under class with the time of two minutes and 44.3 seconds.

Chargers' Sears Hurts Shoulder

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defensive back Jim Sears, a former Trojan, has a torn shoulder muscle and may not play for the Los Angeles Chargers again this season.

Coach Sid Gillman has signed Charley McNeil of Compton College as as replacement for Sears.

"Things should be better for us against Denver," said Gillman. "We'll have Jack Kemp back at quarterback. That should make a big difference. Our left halfback, Charlie Flowers, also may be able to play some of the game, although we plan to start Paul Lowe."

South Marin Cage League Is Organized

A Southern Marin Basketball League has been assembled this season covering the areas from San Quentin to Sausalito, including the Mill Valley area.

The new league, working without any local sponsors, will begin league play the last week of November, but will hold its tryouts and practices in the next few weeks.

The League's board of directors met recently, electing Dick Powers as president of the league with Bill Purtell of Corte Madera, Lt. Ernest Brawley of San Quentin, Harry Bears of the Sausalito area, Frank Heavern of Tiburon, Dale Tupper of Mt. Carmel School of Mill Valley, and Stan Woodward of the Mill Valley Boys Club on the board of directors.

The league will include teams from the Mill Valley Boys Club, Mt. Carmel School of Mill Valley, Twin Cities Boys Club, Richardson Bay School and teams from the Tiburon Peninsula. San Quentin will only enter the sixth grade level competition.

There will be three leagues composed of eighth graders, and the fifth and sixth graders. Some of the clubs will have unlimited teams of the high school level.

The Mill Valley Boys Club opens the Tamalpais High School girls gym to all boys interested in the program tonight at 7 o'clock. The Boys Club will have Mondays and Thursday this year at the gymnasium.

Twin Cities will begin next Monday night in the Redwood High School gym at 7 o'clock, and all boys from that area are urged to attend.

All league games will be played on Monday, Wednesday or Thursday nights, but only one league game each week.

The support of the Southern Marin parents are asked this year so that the winter program will be a success.

Giants' Publicist Schumacher Ill

Gary Schumacher, the San Francisco Giants' veteran promotion director, entered St. Luke's Hospital yesterday for an operation, his second in recent months.

Schumacher was operated on in June for a perforated colon.

He was rushed back from Pittsburgh, where he was attending the World Series, when peritonitis followed an abdominal attack.

Schumacher, expected to be at St. Luke's three weeks, will miss the Giants' tour of Japan, which begins Saturday.

PG&E Engineer Given Rickey Medal For '60

J. B. Cooke of San Rafael, supervising civil engineer of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., was presented the 1960 Rickey medal by the American Society of Civil Engineers at its convention in Boston yesterday.

The medal is awarded annually to a member of the society who has contributed importantly to the progress of hydroelectric engineering. Cooke won it with a technical paper on PG&E's Kings River Project and his advancement of the technology of rockfill dams.

Cooke, who resides at 515 Los Cerros Drive, has participated in all the large postwar hydroelectric developments of PG&E.

He will go from Boston to a meeting of engineers of 42 countries in Japan on Sunday, as representative of the United States Committee on Large Dams.

Last December, he flew to Africa on special leave from PG&E to serve as consultant on a Ghana government hydroelectric project on the Volta River.

Cooke has been with PG&E since his graduation in 1939 from University of California.

$1.5 Billion In Property Exemptions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — More than 1.5 billion dollars in private property is exempt from taxes this year, the State Board of Equalization reported today.

That's $1 for every $17 on local tax rolls and an increase of 5 per cent, or 73.5 million dollars over last year.

Most of the exempted property—about a billion dollar's worth—is owned by veterans. More than a million of them hold an average of $842 each in exempt property, meaning their property taxes will be an average $61 lower in 1960-61.

For the first time in 20 years, the number of veterans eligible for state property tax exemptions declined—by 26,300, the board said. But the 1960 total is about double that of 1950.

Other exempt property includes that owned by hospitals, schools, governmental agencies, churches and other religious and charitable groups, householders' personal holdings and other goods.

U.N. Halloween Treat Chairman Appointed

Appointment of 15 area chairmen to handle the annual children's Halloween "trick or treat" collection for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) was announced today by Mrs. Eric Moeller, Marin president of the American Assn. for the United Nations.

"This year we've adopted the slogan, 'the trick is to treat,'" said Mrs. Moeller. "The funds raised go for medicines, food and milk, and the recipients are kids in real need in Africa, Asia or Latin American—children with leprosy, trachoma, tuberculosis or just plain malnutrition."

Carrying UNICEF labeled milk cartons, for collecting coins instead of candy and cookies, hundreds of Marin children will ring doorbells on Halloween in the hopes of topping the $2,452 raised last year.

Parents, organizations or children interested in participating may notify the chairman in their community.

Following are area chairmen: Belvedere—Mrs. George Banning, 7 Tamalpais Avenue; Corte Madera — Mrs. Harold Kling, 37 Buena Vista; Fairfax —Mrs. Ward Duffy, 377 Scenic Road; Kentfield—Mrs. Lionel Harwin, 219 North Almenar, Greenbrae; Larkspur — Mrs. Rodger Gerhardt, 138 Hawthorne; Lagunitas—Mrs. John Bonnar; San Geronimo, Mill Valley—Mrs. Richard Aldrich, 64 Alta Vista Avenue; Novato—Mrs. Earl Siegel, 1137 Fourth Street; Ross—Mrs. Nancy Ingalls, 1 East Road; San Anselmo—Mrs. Everett McKeage, 27 Legend Road, and Mrs. Maria Weintke, 51 Ross Avenue; San Rafael—Mrs. M. South Sea Island Enchantment Will Be Theme For 'Tiki-Ti'

South Sea isle enchantment is the theme of the "Tiki-Ti," dessert-card party to be held Friday, Oct. 21, at 1 o'clock in the Corte Madera Recreation Center, by the Marin Chapter of the National Council of Catholic Women.

Exotic red and rich-hued leaves will simulate the tropical "ti" on-stage for the performance of The Nani-Iolani Dancers, Mesdames John Del Mar, Harold Green, Gerald Frellson and George Berticewich (who was born in Tahiti.) Their numbers, based on ancient native rhythms, will be accented with plumaged gourds, cocoanut shells and "puilis" which are flexible circlets of split bamboo sticks used as percussion instruments to dramatize the beat.

Mrs. Kelly Wheeler, who will introduce the dancers (all of Tiburon), will also show some examples of Tahitian art and craftsmanship, such as the "tiki," itself, and the "pareu," a versatile winding cloth used as garment for men, women or infants, as luggage carrier or blanket.

Table hostesses are asked to provide their own cards and prizes, if desired for bridge, canasta or whist to complete the afternoon in a Tahitian spirit of "easy, relaxed companionship."

Reservations can be made with Mrs. Hubert Trembley, 14 McAllister Avenue, Kentfield. Liaision representatives of the many council affiliates are asked to get their group reservations in by Oct. 17. Individuals also are invited to entertain friends and the affair is open to the public on reservation.

Mrs. Ralph Tobener of Larkspur is chairman, with Mrs. Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera , co-chairman. Assisting them are Mesdames Joseph Keller of Tiburon, decorations; Kenneth Larkins of Greenbrae, refreshments; Clifford Elder of Larkspur, properties, and Cletus Fitzharris of San Rafael, publicity.

Women In Congress Holding Their Own

The Congressional Quarterly reports from Washington DC, that women in Congress are holding their own. It states: "While an unprecedented number of women are working in the 1960 election campaign to "get that vote" for their favorite Presidential candidate, there is a small group of 27 women working to get that vote for themselves—the women candidates for Congress.

"The 27 women include 18 Democrats and nine Republicans. The Democrats include two seeking Senate seats and the Republicans include one incumbent candidate for the Senate New women candidates on the Democratic slate far outnumber their Republican counterparts—the GOP has only two new women candidates, both seeking House seats, while the Democrats have 10—eight for the House and two for the Senate. Women incumbents running to retain their seats total 15 — eight Democrats and seven Republicans.

"For the first time in history, the 1960 election will see two women fighting it out for a Senate seat—in Maine. In that race, incumbent Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R) is opposed by Miss Lucia M. Cormier (D), currently Minority Leader in the Maine House of Representatives, where she is serving her sixth term. The third woman candidate for the Senate is Mrs. Maurine Neuberger (D Ore.), widow of the late Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (1954-60). Mrs. Neuberger is running against GOP candidate Elmo Smith, a former Oregon interim Governor (1956-57) who now publishes a newspaper.

"The women Democratic candidates also include one former Congresswoman, Mrs. Coya Knutson (Minn., 1954-58) and two making second tries for seats they came close to winning in the 1958 election—Mrs. Rudd Brown of California and Miss Dorothy O'Brien of Illinois. Mrs. Knutson lost in 1958 after a much publicized family squabble in which her husband campaigned against her with a "Coya come home" plea.

"Mrs. Brown is running against her 1958 opponent, GOP Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand. She's a daughter of the late Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, a former Congresswoman from Florida and Minister to Norway, and a granddaughter of famed orator William Jennings Bryan. Miss O'Brien, trying her luck a second time against GOP Rep. Noah M. Mason, has been Democratic state vice chairman for Northern Illinois since 1958.

"Women in key political positions regard the progress of women in gaining Congressional seats as slow and theorize that the only woman who can win is one of three types: a widow first named to fill the unexpired term of her late husband; a women with very substantial financial means, or a woman whose husband has a business that is so flexible her career will not wreck her home life.

"But there are signs the "widow's peak" in Congress is receding. Of the 65 women who have served in Congress, 21 first filled unexpired terms of their late husbands, but 12 of these won reelection on their own. The 15 women incumbents seeking reelection include nine widows, with four who succeeded their husbands, then won reelection. Among new candidates there is but one widow, Mrs. Neuberger, who did not fill out her late husband's term. And bachelors in Congress will be happy to hear there are three unmarried candidates.

Here are the new women candidates: Republicans—House, Mrs. Lois V. Nair (Mich.), Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly (Ill.); Democrats—Senate, Miss Lucia M. Cormier (Maine), Mrs. Maurine Neuberger (Ore.); House, Mrs. Rudd Brown (Calif.), Mrs. Julia Butler Hansen (Wash.), Miss Mary M. Harden (Mich.), Miss Mary Kennedy (Mass.), Mrs. Coya Knutson (Minn.), Miss Dorothy O'Brien (Ill.), Mrs. Margaret Lee Walgren (Pa.), and Mrs. Katharine Elkus White (N. Y.).

"Incumbent candidates: Republicans—Senate, Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith (Maine); House, Mrs. Frances P. Bolton (Ohio), Mrs. Marguerite Stitt Church (Ill.), Mrs. Florence P. Dwyer (N. J.), Mrs. Catherine May (Wash.), Mrs. Katharine St. George (N. Y.), and Mrs. Jessica McC. Weis (N. Y.); Democrats — House, Mrs. Iris F. Blitch (Ga.), Mrs. Kathryn E. Granahan (Pa.), Mrs. Edith Green (Ore.), Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths (Mich.), Mrs. Elizabeth Kee (W. Va.), Mrs. Edna F. Kelly (N. Y.), Mrs. Gracie Pfost (Idaho), and Mrs. Leonor Kretzer Sullivan (Mo.)."

Marin Delta Zeta's Stop Traffic At Tuesday's Fashion Focus

"Stop! Look! Listen!" said the Marin County alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority on Tuesday when they were honored as the outstanding organization of the week at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon.

A large, appreciative audience were delighted to comply and find out how to make a right turn to a fashionable fall and to learn more about the work of the Delta Zeta's with the Marin Hearing Society.

Philanthropically they heard of the Delta Zeta volunteers assisting at the Marindale school in the deaf children's classes, participating in the National Hearing Month each May, aiding the society through fund raising events, plus working on a national level to aid the hard of hearing. They met Mrs. Thomas Mellon, dedicated head of the United Crusade in Marin, and the Delta Zeta "Woman of the Year," and Mrs. Guy Hale, past national president of the Delta Zeta's.

Fashionably, the Tuesday guests found it easy to stop chatting and admire the fashion flair of Nancy Levy and a versatile, colorful cross section of town and country classics from a San Rafael shop. They looked at each of the attractive Delta Zeta models from all areas of Marin and listened as the models talked informally at the tables to tell the many assets of each fashion.

The concensus of opinion: If you just stop, look and listen a little more often you'll have a wardrobe that stays on a carefreeway through fall and winter with no detours!

To attract second glances in town or country, the models showed the creative new coiffures of a San Anselmo salon, distinct fall of 1960 emphasizing the short, saucy cut.

Fashionable signals for fall if you stop, look and listen:

"School Zone," coordinates for carpooling, slim, sleek slacks in textured wool striped in moss, purple and saffron to ride with a heavenly purple bulky sweater plus Mrs. Thomas Coates. "Intersection" of red, black and gray stripes knitted from hem to neckline going round and round with the traffic to a turn over collar; Mrs. Harold Chamberlain to model it.

"Yield Right of Way" to Mrs. Robert Pritchard in a russet textured wool town ensemble inspired by the French; the slim, collarless sheath covered by a boldly cut collarless jacket accenting a deep V, and long, loose straight sleeves.

"One Way Traffic" for Mrs. Frank Brown, pretty Peggy promenading in purple partners, the easy, slim skirt teamed with a matching cashmere pullover and cardigan banded in white.

"Pedestrian Crossing" in red and gray tartan checks on a wool skirt chaperoned by a bold, bright and beautiful red bulky cardigan with a sizable collar and Mrs. George Mallory.

"City Limits," a theater duo in terra cotta and gold brocade, the figure flattering sheath matched by a collared demi-fitted jacket and Mrs. Robert McKenzie. "Soft Shoulders" lightly touched by a black silk sheath and butterfly sleeves of black organza and silk; the accent, Mrs. Byron Jones.

St. Raphael's Guild Plans Bombay Buffet

St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild will hold its annual luncheon on Wednesday Oct. 28 in the school auditorium. The exotic theme "Bombay Buffet" will be carried out.

At the organ to entertain the guests will be Korla Pandit of radio and television fame. Pandit, now in semi-retirement, is readying a new series to appear soon on television. He received his early education in India and is now a resident of Marin County.

For the guests who attend "Bombay Buffet" a unique and authentic decorating scheme will be seen. As the guests enter the foyer it will be transformed into a replica of an old and ancient palace drawing room, resplendent with Persian rugs, elephants, tigers, brass vases and many objects of art of India.

Hostesses will greet the guests in saris, and will, through the mystery and magic of India, seat the guests in a most unusual setting. The auditorium will be transformed into an ancient dining room with murals on the walls. A huge painting of the Taj Mahal will grace one wall. Paintings of famous palaces and buildings in India will be seen. The color scheme for the day will be vivid purples, oranges, greens, golds — with the autumn foliage used throughout.

Mrs. Frank Soares Jr., general chairman, has announced the following committee chairmen: co-chairman, Mrs. Harry Barbier; reservations, Mesdames Emil Borrachia, Marius Cordone; decorations, Mesdames Richard O'Brien, Paul Jones Harry Barbier; table decorations, Mesdames William Muzinich, John Strockfus; awards, Mrs. Albert Bonfiglio; posters, Mrs. John McNear; music, Mrs. Dino Ghilotti; equipment, Mrs. Angelo Colombo; awards, Mrs. James Kean; program, Mrs. John T. Marin Delta Zeta's Stop Traffic At Tuesday's Fashion Focus

"Stop! Look! Listen!" said the Marin County alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority on Tuesday when they were honored as the outstanding organization of the week at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon.

A large, appreciative audience were delighted to comply and find out how to make a right turn to a fashionable fall and to learn more about the work of the Delta Zeta's with the Marin Hearing Society.

Philanthropically they heard of the Delta Zeta volunteers assisting at the Marindale school in the deaf children's classes, participating in the National Hearing Month each May, aiding the society through fund raising events, plus working on a national level to aid the hard of hearing. They met Mrs. Thomas Mellon, dedicated head of the United Crusade in Marin, and the Delta Zeta "Woman of the Year," and Mrs. Guy Hale, past national president of the Delta Zeta's.

Fashionably, the Tuesday guests found it easy to stop chatting and admire the fashion flair of Nancy Levy and a versatile, colorful cross section of town and country classics from a San Rafael shop. They looked at each of the attractive Delta Zeta models from all areas of Marin and listened as the models talked informally at the tables to tell the many assets of each fashion.

The concensus of opinion: If you just stop, look and listen a little more often you'll have a wardrobe that stays on a carefreeway through fall and winter with no detours!

To attract second glances in town or country, the models showed the creative new coiffures of a San Anselmo salon, distinct fall of 1960 emphasizing the short, saucy cut.

Fashionable signals for fall if you stop, look and listen:

"School Zone," coordinates for carpooling, slim, sleek slacks in textured wool striped in moss, purple and saffron to ride with a heavenly purple bulky sweater plus Mrs. Thomas Coates. "Intersection" of red, black and gray stripes knitted from hem to neckline going round and round with the traffic to a turn over collar; Mrs. Harold Chamberlain to model it.

"Yield Right of Way" to Mrs. Robert Pritchard in a russet textured wool town ensemble inspired by the French; the slim, collarless sheath covered by a boldly cut collarless jacket accenting a deep V, and long, loose straight sleeves.

"One Way Traffic" for Mrs. Frank Brown, pretty Peggy promenading in purple partners, the easy, slim skirt teamed with a matching cashmere pullover and cardigan banded in white.

"Pedestrian Crossing" in red and gray tartan checks on a wool skirt chaperoned by a bold, bright and beautiful red bulky cardigan with a sizable collar and Mrs. George Mallory.

"City Limits," a theater duo in terra cotta and gold brocade, the figure flattering sheath matched by a collared demi-fitted jacket and Mrs. Robert McKenzie. "Soft Shoulders" lightly touched by a black silk sheath and butterfly sleeves of black organza and silk; the accent, Mrs. Byron Jones.

St. Raphael's Guild Plans Bombay Buffet

St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild will hold its annual luncheon on Wednesday Oct. 28 in the school auditorium. The exotic theme "Bombay Buffet" will be carried out.

At the organ to entertain the guests will be Korla Pandit of radio and television fame. Pandit, now in semi-retirement, is readying a new series to appear soon on television. He received his early education in India and is now a resident of Marin County.

For the guests who attend "Bombay Buffet" a unique and authentic decorating scheme will be seen. As the guests enter the foyer it will be transformed into a replica of an old and ancient palace drawing room, resplendent with Persian rugs, elephants, tigers, brass vases and many objects of art of India.

Hostesses will greet the guests in saris, and will, through the mystery and magic of India, seat the guests in a most unusual setting. The auditorium will be transformed into an ancient dining room with murals on the walls. A huge painting of the Taj Mahal will grace one wall. Paintings of famous palaces and buildings in India will be seen. The color scheme for the day will be vivid purples, oranges, greens, golds — with the autumn foliage used throughout.

NOW MARIN CHURCH WORKER

German Details Hardships Of Religion Under Reds

By BRUCE COLEMAN

JUTTA REICH
'Berlin is door of hope'

To Jutta Reich, although several years and many miles from her native Silesia, "Berlin is the door of hope to the East Germans."

"I would like to keep Berlin free," the blonde, bespectacled Miss Reich said. "If it gets over to Russia, then the only escape for East Germans is cut off. It is their last thread of hope."

Miss Reich recently took over the position of director of Christian education at the Mill Valley Community Church at 8 Olive Street. She is keenly interested in Germany for good reasons. Her immediate family lives in West Berlin, and friends and relatives are still in East Germany.

"The church in East Germany has become smaller all the time because most people are lured away and forced away by Communist pressures," she said. "Youth has a hard time to keep to the church. It takes real courage to stand up to Communism.

"The hope for freedom is connected with their faith. It is very hard to hold to your faith if reality is so rough, and these people have lived under pressure since 1933—since Nazism started, and now for 15 years under the Russians.

"These people ask, they hope, that people in the West will never give them up."

Born in Silesia on the famous Oder-Neisse line, Miss Reich knew the German province when it became a Polish territory by the Yalta Agreement of World War II.

Jutta (pronounced You-tah) said that "everybody was expelled from Silesia unless he was a Polish citizen." Her family went to West Germany, but she stayed in the Eastern Zone.

"I decided to go into religious work while in high school," she said, "because Nazi education was atheistic."

She worked in religious education in East Germany three years with children, teen-agers and in family education in a church with 16,000 members. One of these years was under the Russian occupation—and that is why she left.

"The church was suppressed in every way possible under the Nazis and new problems of similar kind arose as soon as the Russians came," Miss Reich said.

For example, she added, "all meetings and church life were much inhibited by curfews. There was a great fear that the same thing would happen as in 1919 happened to the Russian people—the complete extinction of church life and church leaders."

In 1945, she left the East and went to Western Berlin.

Here, she said, "I picked up my English" at jobs with CARE, the U. S. government and the Lutheran World Federation.

In 1951, she went to Paris to study and do missionary work, and in 1952 came to the United States on a scholarship to a small Arkansas college. She received her bachelor's degree in Bible and modern languages.

Miss Reich worked for a while, saving money, then entered Syracuse University, getting her master's degree in personnel and office management in 1955. Then she attended Hartford Seminary to receive another master's degree, in religious education. She then became director of religious education at the First Congregational Church at Winchester, Mass., and remained three years prior to coming to Mill Valley.

Miss Reich, who lives in a guest cottage at 343 Summit Avenue, said "California reminds me of the Riviera in Spain and France. I love it."

She is energetic, blonde, and has the strong, quick handshake of a European. Her duties in her new job include home visits, counseling, training adult leadership for youth, working with teachers and with the youth group, the Redwood League.

Of American young people, she says: "I believe they have a tremendous responsibility for world peace. We have to make them aware of it."

She said East German compatriots wrote her that taking part in the Olympic Games in Rome and coming to the West was like "coming out of hell into heaven."

"Through very close experience of war and suffering connected with it and through Bible study and philosophies of life, I have come to believe that the non-violent ways of love are the only way to fulfill the will of God on this earth," declared Miss Reich.

WHO'S ON FIRST?—Scott Wright has a problem. He plays Charles Condomime in the Novato Players' production of "Blithe Spirit." His first wife, Elvira, played by his real life wife, Lois Wright, has come back from the grave to haunt him. He is the only one who can see the cuddling ghost, as his present wife, played by Sallie Paskow, looks on in bewilderment. (Independent-Journal photo)

County Construction

Twenty-seven building permits, ranging from $18,000 dwellings to $300 repair jobs, were issued by the Marin County Building Inspection Department for the week ending Oct. 7. Seven dwellings comprise the major category. Others include carports, additions, pools, fireplaces, and minor repairs.

'Blithe Spirit' Set In Novato Tomorrow

The Novato Players are preparing for Halloween with Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," a spirited farce with ghostly overtones.

The play will run tomorrow and Saturday and Oct. 21-22 at the Novato Community Clubhouse, 906 Machin Avenue.

The husband and wife team of Lois and Scott Wright lead off the cast. Wright plays Charles Condomime, married to his second wife when the ghost of the first (Lois Wright as Elvira) returns to make a cozy threesome.

The couple, in real life, met while acting in "The Tender Trap," and were married during rehearsals of "Three Men on a Horse." Wright is a teacher in Novato.

Sallie Paskow, a drama teacher in Novato schools, plays the second wife, Ruth. Vivienne Terry is the catalyst for the play as Madame Arcati, who brings back first wife Elvira, dead for seven years. Others in the cast are Maggie Feldstein, Grace Dolan and Dick Fuller. The play is directed by Russell Droesch.

Legal Opinion Handed Down On College Publicity Man

Employment by the College of Marin of a "publication" director would be legal but "community services" couldn't come with his jurisdiction, according to an opinion prepared by Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire.

Dr. Stephen E. Epler, college director, had queried as to the legality of hiring a "coordinator of college-community relations" for a junior college district, whose job would include publications, public information and community services.

McGuire found that school districts are "decidedly limited in their powers, including the right to expend public funds entrusted to their care."

McGuire found specific authorization regarding "publication," to include installation and maintenance of exhibits of educational programs and activities at county fairs, publication of financial and other reports and distribution of material prepared by the school district in connection with curricular and special services.

"It is quite obvious," said McGuire, "that there is sufficient authority for a school district to keep the public well informed" in ways covered by the term "publication."

But McGuire could find no such authorization for "community services," while under "public information" he could include only what might come under the "publication" category.

He suggested that if somebody is hired, the list of responsibilities be revised to keep within clear legal boundaries.

How to
OUTWIT YOUR APPETITE
Try The Profile Bread Method Of "Planned Nibbling" To Help Avoid Overeating At The Table And Going On Wild Calorie Binges Between Meals

IF you want to avoid overeating at meals, or avoid going on hog-wild calorie binges between meals—then the "Profile Bread Method" to outwit your appetite may prove most helpful.

Because the Profile Bread Method depends upon "planned nibbling"—a dietetic approach to the problem of overeating.

"PLANNED NIBBLING"

Remember what your mother used to say: "Don't eat it now, it will spoil your dinner."

Many dieticians recognize the same principle in "planned nibbling." Which means eating about 150 calories of any carbohydrate-protein food about 30 minutes before a meal. Or, when tempted, between meals. The carbohydrate acts fast; the protein keeps working longer.

Try a tablespoonful of sugar in a half glass of skim milk. Or a couple of slices of Profile Bread. Or a slice of Profile with jam on it. Anything light that spoils your appetite and keeps you from overeating at the table or between meals.

PROFILE BREAD

Profile Bread contains about 40% more complete protein than many white breads. It's flecked with tiny bits of cracked wheat and the flavor is fine—plain or toasted.

In addition, Profile Bread is fortified with calcium, phosphorus, iron and Vitamins B_1, B_2 and niacin, and has about 65 calories per slice. For "planned nibbling" you may find Profile Bread ideal.

Get a loaf of Profile Bread fresh at your favorite grocer's today. And try the Profile Bread Method of "planned nibbling" to outwit your appetite. You may be very glad you did.

NOW MARIN CHURCH WORKER

German Details Hardships Of Religion Under Reds

By BRUCE COLEMAN

JUTTA REICH
'Berlin is door of hope'

To Jutta Reich, although several years and many miles from her native Silesia, "Berlin is the door of hope to the East Germans."

"I would like to keep Berlin free," the blonde, bespectacled Miss Reich said. "If it gets over to Russia, then the only escape for East Germans is cut off. It is their last thread of hope."

Miss Reich recently took over the position of director of Christian education at the Mill Valley Community Church at 8 Olive Street. She is keenly interested in Germany for good reasons. Her immediate family lives in West Berlin, and friends and relatives are still in East Germany.

"The church in East Germany has become smaller all the time because most people are lured away and forced away by Communist pressures," she said. "Youth has a hard time to keep to the church. It takes real courage to stand up to Communism.

"The hope for freedom is connected with their faith. It is very hard to hold to your faith if reality is so rough, and these people have lived under pressure since 1933—since Nazism started, and now for 15 years under the Russians.

"These people ask, they hope, that people in the West will never give them up."

Born in Silesia on the famous Oder-Neisse line, Miss Reich knew the German province when it became a Polish territory by the Yalta Agreement of World War II.

Jutta (pronounced You-tah) said that "everybody was expelled from Silesia unless he was a Polish citizen." Her family went to West Germany, but she stayed in the Eastern Zone.

"I decided to go into religious work while in high school," she said, "because Nazi education was atheistic."

She worked in religious education in East Germany three years with children, teen-agers and in family education in a church with 16,000 members. One of these years was under the Russian occupation—and that is why she left.

"The church was suppressed in every way possible under the Nazis and new problems of similar kind arose as soon as the Russians came," Miss Reich said.

For example she added, "all meetings and church life were much inhibited by curfews. There was a great fear that the same thing would happen as in 1919 happened to the Russian people—the complete extinction of church life and church leaders."

In 1945, she left the East and went to Western Berlin.

Here, she said, "I picked up my English" at jobs with CARE, the U. S. government and the Lutheran World Federation.

In 1951, she went to Paris to study and do missionary work, and in 1952 came to the United States on a scholarship to a small Arkansas college. She received her bachelor's degree in Bible and modern languages.

Miss Reich worked for a while, saving money, then entered Syracuse University, getting her master's degree in personnel and office management in 1955. Then she attended Hartford Seminary to receive another master's degree, in religious education. She then became director of religious education at the First Congregational Church at Winchester, Mass., and remained three years prior to coming to Mill Valley.

Miss Reich, who lives in a guest cottage at 343 Summit Avenue, said "California reminds me of the Riviera in Spain and France. I love it."

She is energetic, blonde, and has the strong, quick handshake of a European. Her duties in her new job include home visits, counseling, training adult leadership for youth, working with teachers and with the youth group, the Redwood League.

Of American young people, she says: "I believe they have a tremendous responsibility for world peace. We have to make them aware of it."

She said East German compatriots wrote her that taking part in the Olympic Games in Rome and coming to the West was like "coming out of hell into heaven."

"Through very close experience of war and suffering connected with it and through Bible study and philosophies of life, I have come to believe that the non-violent ways of love are the only way to fulfill the will of God on this earth," declared Miss Reich.

County Construction

Twenty-seven building permits, ranging from $18,000 dwellings to $300 repair jobs, were issued by the Marin County Building Inspection Department for the week ending Oct. 7. Seven dwellings comprise the major category. Others include carports, additions, pools, fireplaces, and minor repairs.

WHO'S ON FIRST?—Scott Wright has a problem. He plays Charles Condomime in the Novato Players' production of "Blithe Spirit." His first wife, Elvira, played by his real life wife, Lois Wright, has come back from the grave to haunt him. He is the only one who can see the cuddling ghost, as his present wife, played by Sallie Paskow, looks on in bewilderment. (Independent-Journal photo)

Legal Opinion Handed Down On College Publicity Man

Employment by the College of Marin of a "publication" director would be legal but "community services" couldn't come with his jurisdiction, according to an opinion prepared by Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire.

Dr. Stephen E. Epler, college director, had queried as to the legality of hiring a "coordinator of college-community relations" for a junior college district, whose job would include publications, public information and community services.

McGuire found that school districts are "decidedly limited in their powers, including the right to expend public funds entrusted to their care."

McGuire found specific authorization regarding "publication," to include installation and maintenance of exhibits of educational programs and activities at county fairs, publication of financial and other reports and distribution of material prepared by the school district in connection with curricular and special services.

"It is quite obvious," said McGuire, "that there is sufficient authority for a school district to keep the public well informed" in ways covered by the term "publication."

But McGuire could find no such authorization for "community services," while under "public information" he could include only what might come under the "publication" category.

He suggested that if somebody is hired, the list of responsibilities be revised to keep within clear legal boundaries.

'Blithe Spirit' Set In Novato Tomorrow

The Novato Players are preparing for Halloween with Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," a spirited farce with ghostly overtones.

The play will run tomorrow and Saturday and Oct. 21-22 at the Novato Community Clubhouse, 906 Machin Avenue.

The husband and wife team of Lois and Scott Wright lead off the cast. Wright plays Charles Condomime, married to his second wife when the ghost of the first (Lois Wright as Elvira) returns to make a cozy threesome.

The couple, in real life, met while acting in "The Tender Trap," and were married during rehearsals of "Three Men on a Horse." Wright is a teacher in Novato.

Sallie Paskow, a drama teacher in Novato schools, plays the second wife, Ruth. Vivienne Terry is the catalyst for the play as Madame Arcati, who brings back first wife Elvira, dead for seven years. Others in the cast are Maggie Feldstein, Grace Dolan and Dick Fuller. The play is directed by Russell Droesch.

The Singing Commercial Is Old One But Oldsmobile Has Something New

The first car ever to be "immortalized" by a singing commercial made its 1961 debut at Scripture Oldsmobile salesrooms in San Rafael last Thursday, and except that the fanfare which might have been expected for such an occasion was no more and no less than at any of the other Marin showrooms displaying their new models it made reasonably good inroads in an overcrowded market.

"The day is past for a big flourish," explained Jim Scripture. "We all used to get together on our display dates, then along came the preview and someone else had a preprevieu. Now the official release day is pretty much like any other."

One thing Oldsmobile has done to play down the music is to refuse to bill its new F-85 as a "compact" car, although by this year's standards it certainly should qualify among the others. It is heralded simply as a small Oldsmobile and as such it will remain until the fogginess of ambiguity in the word "compact" clears away.

So far, according to Scripture, the F-85 has attracted buyers from the ranks of low-priced car owners by virtue of its basic price difference of some $500 from the Olds 88. The fact that most of these buyers have chosen the F-85 equipped with the new lightweight hydromatic transmission rather than manual shift indicates, however, that $3,000 plus for the options is not considered out of line for what they're getting.

Its similarity to the Buick Special in body design and innards is not all inclusive. The overall weight is slightly less, giving it a fraction less poundage per horsepower. There are differences in torque, displacement and some interior dimensions. There is a different valve system and a different manifold.

The latter features Scripture attributes to Oldsmobile general manager J. F. Wolfram who, he says, has done much to maintain its quality and performance as well as agency service.

I notice, also, that comparative figures on all of this year's small cars issued by another source give the F-85 a surprisingly high rating in gas economy.

The tune-up of "My Merry Oldsmobile" is still the same refrain, but certain variations in the harmonics make it a strong contender for today's hit parade in autos.

I SEE that Marin County was given credit for its cheeses at the 1960 Newspaper Food Editors Conference in New York Oct. 2.

Geographically the credit line was not drawn too accurately, thought at that distance I don't suppose it makes much difference. Flown by jet plane to the affair were Camenbert, breakfast and Schloss cheeses from the Marin French Cheese Co.

The name's all right, but said firm is located in Petaluma, Sonoma County.

EDWIN CECHETTINI, who plans to move his San Rafael store (Luana's) from 1220 Fourth Street to a new building being constructed for him by Schwartz Brothers at 915 Fourth Street about November first has been staging a removal sale at his present location and the results (by his own admission) have been staggering.

It's more profitable, he says, to discount his 1220 stock by 25 per cent than move it down to 915.

Not according to my arithmetic: 25 per cent off of 1220 IS 915.

Auto Dealers Fined

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Fines of $5,000 were levied against two auto dealers associations yesterday for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act dealing with price fixing.

The fines were imposed in federal court against the Chevrolet Dealers Assn. Inc., and the Ford Dealers Advertising Assn., Inc. The organizations have members in Northern California, southern Oregon and western Nevada.

Lodge's Remarkable Speech Challenges Each One Of Us

In a day when political speeches are becoming more bitter, more personal and more biting, Henry Cabot Lodge's calm description of what the American people individually can do to help this country fight the Cold War and communism was most welcome.

The Republican vice presidential nominee, speaking to 3,700 Northern Californians at a $100 per plate dinner, left no doubt but that he felt Richard M. Nixon is "our very ablest, our most experienced, our most talented" leader.

Yet his speech was peculiarly nonpartisan, particularly so for the violently partisan gathering he was addressing.

Rather than being campaign bombast, it was more of a lecture on America's ideals. Rather than a rousing indictment of the opposition and a defense of the Administration, it was a personal lesson to everyone who heard it as to what part he can play in keeping America great.

The audience had come there to applaud and cheer one of its banner-bearers. There were a few times when they did break into his speech with applause, and he received a standing ovation at its conclusion. But with many of them, he left a little personal uneasiness, a challenge that perhaps they individually were not doing quite all they could to help their country.

And what was he asking? More campaign workers? More contributions? More Kaffee Klatsches?

No. He asked the Republicans and the Democrats and the independents to live up to the American ideals just a little bit better; to show the world how well democracy can work here; to make sure each one of us lives up to our Declaration that all men are created equal and that all, wherever they may be, whatever the color of their skin, whatever religion, whatever their race, are entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The idea that all men are created equal is much more appealing and much more magnetic than communism—"if we live up to it," he stressed. Four fifths of all human beings are not white and "they watch what we do."

Yet we "should not do this to improve our foreign relations, although it certainly would do that," Lodge continued. "We should do it in order to carry out our national purpose . . . and because we believe in it and like it.

"While we have a dangerous struggle with the Soviet Union, we have in another sense a more difficult struggle with ourselves—to live up to our ideals; to do the best we are capable of doing and, if we do our best, the menace of the communist revolution will wither away."

Altogether, it was a remarkable and moving political speech.

Our's Is An Evergreen County

Although autumn is galloping down upon us and the leaves of many trees are starting to take on the vivid colors of fall, the landscape of this part of California is not nearly as brilliant as in most eastern states.

The main reason for this is the simple fact Marin has so many lovely evergreen trees. Among our native evergreens are a wide variety of conifers, including our fabulous redwoods.

We are fortunate in also having a large number of broadleaf evergreens. Among the indigenous kinds, the live oak and bay stand out. Myriad acacias and eucalypti from Australia add to the spectrum. Our large flowered magnolia from the South is another immigrant.

When those from the East complain about the scarcity of brilliance in the Marin autumn, we beg them to remember that the trees which are so colorful now will soon be skeletal. The evergreens, on the other hand, are symbolic of verdant beauty all through the year.

"Martinis always make me want to take off my shoes. What do they do to you?"

Anxious To Warn Marin About Fire

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We read with great interest your editorial of Sept. 29, cautioning the people of Marin County to be particularly careful with fires.

We of Redwood Region Conservation Council are continually on guard against potential fire hazard from an uninformed public. Our slogan "Keep the Redwood Region Green" used with fire prevention messages is issued to all region press, TV, and radio stations periodically throughout the months of greatest fire danger.

This year has seen a long dry summer extending well into fall. The occasional foggy morning or night tends to lull people into forgetting the ever present fire hazard. Our recent rain fill be another factor to lull people even further.

Our thanks to you and your staff for your editorial, and all coverage given the fire prevention material contributed by RRCC throughout the year. We have always been particularly anxious to reach the people in Marin County, who might be visiting the northern counties on vacations, Sunday drives, hunting trips, etc. One careless match or cigarette not put dead out is all that is needed to send our forests up in smoke.

Again, our thanks for your support of our continuing forest fire prevention message.

40-Foot Bolinas Mesa Lots Urged

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On the 11th of October, 1960, a hearing is to be held by the board of supervisors regarding the rezoning of lots on the Bolinas Mesa.

I feel I express in the enclosed letter the conclusion of a large majority of the Mesa lot owners. The enclosed is a copy of a letter I sent to the Marin County Board of Supervisors in lieu of a personal protest which was impossible to make at the time.

I would like to ask why the Board of Supervisors cannot call some meetings in the evening so they could be attended by working persons? Thus giving them a fair chance to be heard.

MARTHA J. FALNEY
San Francisco

(NOTE: Reader Falney's letter to the supervisors urged that 40-foot building lots be permitted on the Bolinas Mesa rather than the proposed 60-foot lots. She charged that "special interests and speculators" own "most of the outstanding odd lots" and "you can be sure that they will make hay of the situation as regards price." Present size of most Mesa lots is 20 feet.)

$155,000 FOR TWO HOURS

Work Starting On Inaugural Platform

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ordinarily, Architect J. George Stewart, the man in charge of construction at the Capitol, takes pleasure in presiding at ground-breakings, flag-raisings and ribbon-cuttings commemorating the start or finish of various projects.

I was rather surprised, therefore, when I saw some workmen unceremoniously unloading some lumber in front of the Capitol steps. I was surprised, that is, after I learned what they were doing.

A FEW DISCREET inquiries elicited the information that they were beginning work on the platform for the 1961 presidential inauguration and that there would be no plank-nailing ceremony.

When I got in touch with Stewart, he explained that for security reasons it is customary not to publicize the platform plans. The purpose of keeping the blueprints secret is to prevent any would-be assassins from pinpointing far in advance of the inauguration the exact spot where the new President will be standing next January.

I CAN ONLY TELL you that the platform will cost about $155,000 and will be used for about two hours.

It may seem premature to be planning the inauguration when we have not yet elected the inauguree. But a girl doesn't wait for a proposal to start selecting her trousseau.

Bridegrooms and Presidents we can always get. Platforms and trousseaux take time.

The west side of the Capitol is widely regarded as the ideal place for an inauguration. Therefore, inaugurations always are held on the east side.

This may strike some of our more impressionable citizens as a quaint way of doing things. I can only say in defense of the practice that the side of tradition is on the east side.

The tradition dates back to the time when the east side was regarded as the front. With the passage of the years, it became apparent that the west side was a better front. But rather than downgrade the east side, it was decided to let the Capitol have two fronts.

The west front has a natural inauguration platform with an impressive view of the Mall, the Washington Monument and the rear of General Grant's horse.

The east front overlooks a parking lot.

A highlight in the long run of TV's "I've Got a Secret" came when a very fat contestant appeared with a claim that he could blow up an inner tube of an automobile tire, using only lung power, until it exploded. He proved his point, too. The explosion knocked Panelist Audrey Meadows off her chair, and sent the successful contestant flying straight out of camera range.

Another aspirant showed the panel about seven miles of string, all knotted together. "Is collecting string your great secret?" scoffed Panelist Henry Morgan. "Oh, no," chuckled the string-fancier. "That just the work I do. My secret is, I collect lead pencils."

A Japanese applied to Victor Borge for the job of secretary-valet. "I speak nine languages," he announced, "and I charge $18 a day."

"I'll only need three languages," countered Borge, "so I'll pay you $6." At last reports, negotiations still were in progress.

Things Were Rather Sticky There For Awhile At The State Fair

Next year, when State Fair time rolls around, County Administrator Don Jensen will make sure there are brooms, rags and other housekeeping supplies on hand at the Marin County exhibit.

Jensen told the board of supervisors this story of the sticky stage last week in his final report on this year's exhibit.

group of Kentfield Boy Scouts, as their part in the "live" exhibit," decided to cook hotcakes and pass them out to visitors.

The Marin exhibit became a very popular place. Thousands of persons lined up, and the boys finally ran out of batter and had to go out and buy more makings. In all, they cooked and gave away about 10,000 hotcakes, related Jensen.

At one point, they ran out of plastic containers of syrup and had to pour syrup out for each person. There was syrup, syrup everywhere . . . over everything.

Then, continued Jensen, some Kentfield Campfire Girls came out to do on Indian dance in their bare feet.

Next year, reported the administrator, there must be paper or canvas available to cover the stage where there is a messy exhibit.

CHAMBER OF Commerce representatives on duty at the fair to answer questions were all prepared to talk about the glories of Marin. Somewhat to their surprise, most of the questions asked by visitors were about taxes.

"We'd love to live there, but taxes are so high we can't afford to," was a frequently heard remark about the county.

More material should be available next year on county government, particularly the tax rate, Jensen told the supervisors, to counter the "misinformation as to exorbitant taxes."

Marin's exhibit at the fair, incidentally, attracted many more visitors than any other county exhibit, with a minimum expenditure, according to the administrator. The appearance of volunteer "live" exhibitors was a huge success, he said.

THAT 14-YEAR-OLD boy who lost control of his parents' car and smashed into a mailbox, shrubbery and rocks in Strawberry Manor last Saturday—at 3 in the morning—bragged to the highway patrolman who took him into custody that he had drunk four beers, taken from the refrigerator at his home.

Later he told a shocked nurse at the hospital: "Don't be so naive. All us kids drink." Commented another nurse: "I was still playing with dolls at his age."

ONE OF OUR I-J reporters is Irish and superstitious. Much to her dismay, she has been seeing hearses wherever she goes. Driving to an interview in Sausalito last week, she quickly passed a hearse ahead of her in the highway.

On her way back, she pulled onto Highway 101 and what was what ahead of her? Another hearse. She tried to pass it—but the hearse kept right up alongside. Finally she moved back into the slow lane. The hearse shifted into the fast lane, shot ahead, passing everyone else on the road.

The next day she went over to the sheriff's office to check reports. Across the street was parked a hearse. She came back to the office shaking her head:

Is there a curse, she mused poetically, on thrice seeing a hearse?

TV Debates Proving Invaluable Even Though Neither Man Wins

WASHINGTON—The television debates are proving an invaluable innovation in presidential campaigning. The third one is today.

There is room for improvement in the "ground rules," but even without any changes, I vote for their continuance.

Another act of Congress will be required as well as the willingness of the future presidential nominees. Congressional approval ought to be readily forthcoming since the present debates are both useful and popular.

When Congress considers a new law allowing the networks to put on these joint appearances—without having to guarantee equal time to minor candidates—it should give television and radio the right to offer similar debates, on a state or regional basis, to senatorial and congressional candidates.

CONCEIVABLY, FOUR years hence one of the debators may be President of the United States, and may tend to resist the debate technique of campaigning. No President likes to give over his audience to his opponent. This was one of the reasons why President Roosevelt refused Wendell Willkie's challenge to debate him in 1940.

But, as I see it, these debates ought to be viewed, not as primarily serving the candidates, but as primarily serving the voters.

If the nation's voters like these debates and want them, they will be continued, whether the candidates like them or not.

SO FAR, I SEE no reason why either Richard Nixon or Jack Kennedy should feel dissatisfied. The Senator has handled himself so well as to virtually erase the argument of youth. The Vice President put on such an improved performance the second time that he has little reason to fear the next ones.

My own feeling is that the debates could be improved at two points. I would like to see the candidates have the opportunity to ask questions of the other. A candidate's questions can sometimes be as revealing as his answers.

Also, it would be desirable if the panelists were given a chance to ask follow-up questions. Often the debaters slide over the question and, since the panelist must address the other candidate, there is no good opportunity to pin anybody down.

These are not intended as major complaints. I think the networks are rendering a superb public service in bringing these debates into being and there will be plenty of time for improvement.

IT IS NOW evident that neither Nixon nor Kennedy is going to "win" the debate in the sense that one will score so decisively or show himself so manifestly superior as to remove all doubt how the voting will go on Nov. 8.

This is good. It would be bad if one candidate greatly outshone the other just because of debatting skill. Fortunately the debates have demonstrated that both are able and resourceful and well informed.

Through these debates the differences between the candidates come more clearly into focus and are giving the voters a better basis for making their choice.

"I may forget a name but I never forget a face."

"So I told the boss right to his face, 'J.P., this company isn't big enough for the both of us, so . . .' "

"Yeah, I had the 24-hour virus, too, but in my case it only lasted 23 hours. My doctor thought maybe daylight saving time had something to do with it."

"If he tells that story just one more time, I'll scream, right here and now."

"That fellow over there must be in bad shape. He's been talking to his own wife for a full hour—and the only way I can explain it is that he doesn't recognize her."

"Then you strain off the fat, pour in the skimmed milk, put it in the oven and—"

"We never have any trouble with our baby sitter. We give her $5 a week, she does the dishes, helps clean the house—but, of course, since she's my wife's mother."

"YOUR DRESS looks familiar. Haven't we met somewhere before?"

"What does my wife need with a maid? She's got me, hasn't she?"

"Be sure and give me a ring when you're not doing anything for lunch sometime. Seriously, I mean it."

"OKAY, I'VE had one for the road. Now, where's the road?"

Work Starting On Inaugural Platform

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ordinarily, Architect J. George Stewart, the man in charge of construction at the Capitol, takes pleasure in presiding at ground-breakings, flag-raisings and ribbon-cuttings commemorating the start or finish of various projects.

I was rather surprised, therefore, when I saw some workmen unceremoniously unloading some lumber in front of the Capitol steps. I was surprised, that is, after I learned what they were doing.

A FEW DISCREET inquiries elicited the information that they were beginning work on the platform for the 1961 presidential inauguration and that there would be no plank-nailing ceremony.

When I got in touch with Stewart, he explained that for security reasons it is customary not to publicize the platform plans. The purpose of keeping the blueprints secret is to prevent any would-be assassins from pinpointing far in advance of the inauguration the exact spot where the new President will be standing next January.

I CAN ONLY TELL you that the platform will cost about $155,000 and will be used for about two hours.

It may seem premature to be planning the inauguration when we have not yet elected the inauguree. But a girl doesn't wait for a proposal to start selecting her trousseau.

Bridegrooms and Presidents we can always get. Platforms and trousseaux take time.

The west side of the Capitol is widely regarded as the ideal place for an inauguration. Therefore, inaugurations always are held on the east side.

This may strike some of our more impressionable citizens as a quaint way of doing things. I can only say in defense of the practice that the side of tradition is on the east side.

The tradition dates back to the time when the east side was regarded as the front. With the passage of the years, it became apparent that the west side was a better front. But rather than downgrade the east side, it was decided to let the Capitol have two fronts.

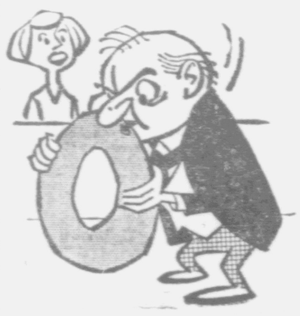

The west front has a natural inauguration platform with an impressive view of the Mall, the Washington Monument and the rear of General Grant's horse.

The east front overlooks a parking lot.

A highlight in the long run of TV's "I've Got a Secret" came when a very fat contestant appeared with a claim that he could blow up an inner tube of an automobile tire, using only lung power, until it exploded. He proved his point, too. The explosion knocked Panelist Audrey Meadows off her chair, and sent the successful contestant flying straight out of camera range.

Another aspirant showed the panel about seven miles of string, all knotted together. "Is collecting string your great secret?" scoffed Panelist Henry Morgan. "Oh, no," chuckled the string-fancier. "That just the work I do. My secret is, I collect lead pencils."

A Japanese applied to Victor Borge for the job of secretary-valet. "I speak nine languages," he announced, "and I charge $18 a day."

"I'll only need three languages," countered Borge, "so I'll pay you $6." At last reports, negotiations still were in progress.

Coast Chamber Lists Nominees For Election

A nominating committee of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce included an incumbent Marin County supervisor and his successor-elect in a list of nominees reported Tuesday night. The election will be Nov. 8.

Don DeWolfe, of Point Reyes Station, incumbent president, was nominated to succeed himself, with Supervisor James Marshall of Tomales as vice president and Mrs. Harriet M. Greene of Stinson Beach to succeed herself as secretary-treasurer.

Three nominees for directorships were Supervisor-elect George Ludy of Inverness, Mrs. Emma Benevenga of Olema and Lee Sefton of Stinson Beach. Ludy will succeed Marshall as supervisor from West Marin in January.

Marshall spoke to the meeting on behalf of the county farm and hospital bond issue and the group passed a resolution favoring it.

After a talk by Henry Hankins, president of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Assn., Northern Division, the meeting voted in favor of licensing boat operators and coordination of boating laws throughout the state.

Fish Fry Planned

An annual fish fry, sponsored by the Methodist Men, an organization of the San Rafael Methodist Church, will be held tomorrow from 5:30 to 9 p.m. in Turley Hall at the Church, 9 Ross Valley Drive, announced Edward Shoemaker, member.

Our Hard-Working Teachers Have Earned Their Day Of Praise

"Could we have a Teacher's Day?" a little girl asks.

"We have Mothers' Day and Fathers' Day. I think we should have a Teachers' Day too. Don't you?"

Yes, I do. I'm going to break a rule and print your name. Others will want to know who you are. I'll bet you enjoy school. Don't you?

Since you wrote I've been checking. I wanted to find out if any places already had a Teachers' Day. Can you guess what I found? Several cities do. Often it comes during National Education Week. Service clubs invite teachers to luncheons. A "teacher of the year" is given special honors. Newspapers print editorials. Radio and TV stations pay tribute to teachers.

However, most towns and cities don't do this. Apparently there is no nation-wide Teachers' Day. You suggest we have one. It is a wonderful idea. Others will agree, I'm sure.

Friends, what do you think of Patricia Ann's suggestion? Teachers are hard workers. They are devoted to our children. In many parts of the country they are underpaid. They deserve recognition. Shall we try to give it to them?

Let's write to President Eisenhower suggesting that he designate a National Teachers' Day.

Meeting Held To Iron Out Sewage Pact

Larkspur City Council members met with directors of the Ross Valley Sanitary District Tuesday night in the first of a series of meetings to iron out a new contract for sewage treatment.

The city is concurrently paying $29.50 per million gallons on a monthly quota of eight million gallons.

District manager Ralph C. Noah said the city overproduces its quota by 80,000 to eight million gallons per month, depending on the weather. Most of the excess is caused by storm water and salt water infiltration from the Corte Madera marshlands, he said.

Larkspur sewage is handled under a contract signed with the sanitary district in 1948.

"The first thing is to decide what the city's requirements are now," Noah said. "Much has changed in the last 12 years."

The date for the next joint meeting of the two groups was not set last night.

Two Pledged

Two Marin students have been pledged to Dartmouth College fraternities. They are Howard W. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Allen of 226 Woodland Road, Kentfield, to Alpha Theta, and Stephen C. Francis, son of Dr. C. H. Francis of 4 San Pedro Road, San Rafael to Sigma Nu. Both are sophomores at the college in Hanover, N. H.

Planners Approve Apartment Project

The Mill Valley Planning Commision has approved plans for a 20-unit apartment project at 179 Throckmorton Avenue.

The apartments, to be started within about 60 days, are to be built for James Stragnola of San Rafael by William H. McDevitt Co., San Rafael. There will be 14-one bedroom and six two-bedroom apartments. Architect is Michael Wornum.

The so-called "treehouse," something of a landmark on the property near the street, may or may not remain, according to James W. Fahrner, representing McDevitt. "Plans are under consideration to do something with the treehouse," he said.

UNITED CRUSADE SUPPORT

Marin City Social Progress Aided By Community Group

By FRANK CAMERON

(This United Crusade feature story was written by Frank Cameron of Kentfield, free lance author of books and articles, as a contribution to the United Crusade.)

A housing experiment, unusual in the United States, is under way in Marin County.

Here, Marin City is the only American community where redevelopment includes economic as well as racial integration. The economic success of this untried pattern will be the problem of the redevelopers. The social well-being of the new Marin City, however, as well as its healthier relationship to the rest of the county, is currently the concern of the United Crusade-supported Marin Council of Community Services working in cooperation with other county agencies.

While other racially integrated communities and areas throughout America fill the needs of a single economic level, Marin City's houses and apartments will range from public housing units renting as low as $35 a month, up to detached homes selling for $30,000 and possibly more.

To meet the challenges of this unprecedented plan, the Marin Council of Community Services has already put into practice a four-point program. Although, this program is being carried out for the first one and two-thirds years under a $24,000 grant from San Francisco's Columbia Foundation, such a gift would probably not have been made without the existence of the Marin Council which receives its major support from Crusade funds plus nominal membership dues from its 52 member-agencies, both public and private.

Six well-attended meetings have been held to date in Marin City to implement the points in the Marin Council's program. These have served to answer a wide variety of questions about rents, leases, parking, the community center, shopping and at the same time have quelled rumors that have plagued that isolated community. These meetings have also begun to arouse a new interest in community pride through home improvement programs.

One of the several concrete indications that Marin City will one day lose this isolation and take its place among Marin communities came this year when—as another point in their program — the Marin Council cooperated with other county agencies in an unusual project. Through a "teen-time assembly" the Marin Council discovered what activities most interested young Marin citizens.

Prior to this assembly, outlets for youth had not been strongly encouraged either from within or without the community. The assembly, however, showed a marked tendency among the younger residents to reach out to the larger community through increased interests in organized sports, social and civic activities.

As a result of this—to cite just one instance of the new trend—the Junior Red Cross encouraged recruitment in Marin City and capped 13-year-old Shirley Fowler as the first Junior Grey Lady ever to come out of the community. Shirley, a shy, attractive girl, was assigned to work with a 12-year-old victim of cerebral palsy in the Marindale School for Handicapped Children. The benefits were reciprocal for each of the two children.

Shirley's sympathetic nature was able to reach and stimulate the stricken child in new and meaningful ways, while the effect she was thus able to produce helped Shirley to overcome some of her own shy traits.

Recently the Marin Council has also played a prominent part in establishing a service for youth-in-trouble (and their parents) through the sheriff's department new juvenile bureau, scheduled to begin operation by January, 1961. On the basis of a Marin County study of probation services made by the California Youth Authority, the council—through its board of directors—at the request of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the probation committee appointed a citizens' committee to look at the preventive services directed at youth in the county.

Chairmanned by Rex Silvernale, San Rafael civic leader and businessman, this group called the Council for Prevention of Crime and Delinquency has made several recommendations to the supervisors, including the establishment of the juvenile bureau.

This step forward in the handling of youth problems will deal largely with first and minor offenders in an attempt to settle difficulties quickly. The new bureau will work principally through the offending youth's parents without the necessity of calling in the probation department or placement in juvenile hall as is now done, reserving these agencies for more difficult cases. Deputies trained in handling youth will be assigned to the detail.

Future plans of the Council for Prevention of Crime and Delinquency call for an investigation of ways to find employment for high school drop-outs, of means to help the "fringe kids" who are on the borderline of delinquency, and the possible establishment of a youth council with representation from high schools in the county.

The Marin Council of Community Services has also, with the help of United Crusade funds, established a committee on aging. Dr. Russell R. Klein of Kentfield, president-elect of the Marin County Medical Society, has been appointed chairman of this group. Working with other county agencies concerned with this problem, the committee will explore housing, health needs, health services and recreational potentials for Marin's aging citizens. These problems are made all the more serious because of the county's lack of public transportation, hindering oldsters from reaching the necessary service centers.

While these are but three of the several fields in which the Marin council lends a helping hand throughout the county, the council also serves as a local clearing house for information to residents covering a wide range of human welfare problems. The council has existed in Marin since 1941 but has only been incorporated with a paid, professional staff for about the past three years.

Its services—made possible through United Crusade funds—include: consultation with citizen's committees and agencies about community problems; gathering and maintaining basic facts about the community as these facts relate to health and social welfare planning; working on special studies of services; maintaining an information center and directing persons seeking services to an appropriate agency.

HOW IT WILL LOOK — Proposed housing for Marin City is explained by George Goheen, chairman of the Marin County Redevelopment Commission. Inspecting the architect's drawing are Mrs. Jacqueline Smith, director of the Marin City Program of the Marin Council of Community Services (left), and Shirley Fowler, the first Marin City Junior Red Cross Gray Lady.

Principal Asks Parents Club Keep Going

Bolinas School principal Richard A. Miller made a plea today to parents interested in keeping the Bolinas Parents' Club alive to volunteer to meet with him and help in its reorganization.

The club, functioning for many years, lost its president when Mrs. Ruth Scruggs resigned in June and meetings, which normally start again in September, have not been resumed.

Miller said the club is still legally in existence and has money in the bank. "I think it is too bad that a club which has done so much good is not continuing to function," he said.

He added that, at a school open house Oct. 5, he sent around a questionnaire which received 100 per cent response in favor of continuing the club.

Californian In England Holds Key To A-War

NORTH LUFFENHAM, England (AP)—A husky Californian at this quiet RAF base holds one of the two keys that could unleash nuclear war.

He's Maj. Walter B. Lull, a career Air Force officer who got the flying bug as a youngster at an old air field at Carpenteria.

Around his neck, Lull wears a key as innocent looking as the one you use to open your front door. Lull's key turns a switch that — when coupled with another key kept by a British officer—begins the inexorable countdown of a nuclear - armed Thor missile launch.

Executive editor Paul Veblen of the Santa Barbara News Press toured the base recently and then wrote in a series of three special articles in his paper:

"The tidy base with its tan-brick buildings is tucked well away in the rolling, green back country of England. But you find in a hurry that it has a strong kinship with Santa Barbara County, U.S.A., thousands of miles away, and Vandenberg Air Force Base in particular.

"You hear nostalgic conversation about Lompoc, Santa Maria and Santa Barbara. You hear reminiscent talk about Refugio Beach, King's Supper Club and "that beautiful girl I saw on State Street in Santa Barbara—I never met her but I'll never forget her . . ."

More than 1,200 of the Englishmen who man this missile rampart of the free world trained with the First Missile Division at Vandenberg AFB in California. Many return for refresher courses.

This is one of four bases in England equipped to launch the 65-foot Thor. Under a partnership arrangement, American and British misslemen can send the needlenosed Thor with its nuclear warhead whooshing 1,700 miles into the heartland of Russia.

"There's a sense of mission about this place," says British Squadron Leader W. J. Hibbert, who has the sister key to Lull's. "The men realize that they are part of the most powerful operational force in existence. The way they do their job could mean victory or defeat for the West."

Veblen wrote that this is what would happen if the West is attacked:

The President and the British prime minister would give the joint order: turn the keys.

Squadron Leader Hibbert inserts his key and turns it: The countdown has begun. Lull's key begins a second phase.

Lights flash. The shelter slides back on two rails and the Thor is lifted on a carriage so the deadly nose points at the sky. Refrigerated tanks feed highly volatile liquid oxygen into the missile. The steel trailer that was the Thor's bed pulls away and then comes the awesome cry of the missilemen:

"Fire in the tail!"

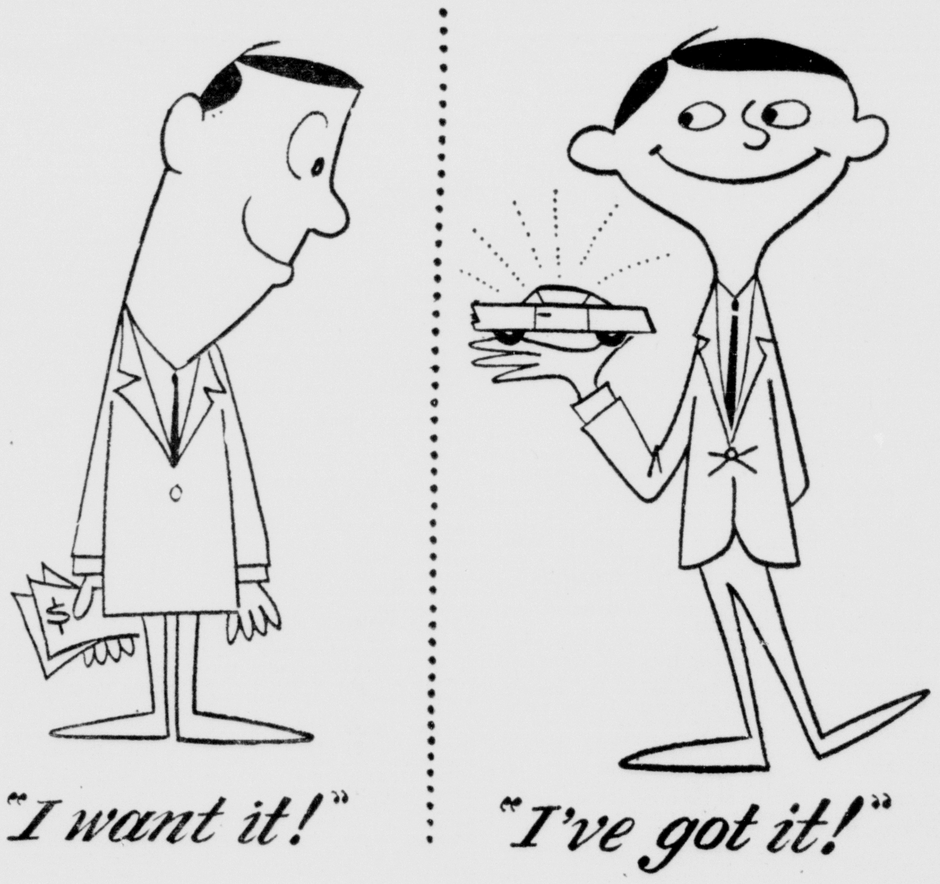

And the Free World's nuclear counterpunch zooms away. Total time from the time the first key turning to blastoff: Less than 15 minutes.

The launching procedure can be stopped up to the last minute of the countdown. After that there's no turning back.

The Sausalito Gate Theater will sponsor an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the theater lobby for Republicans and Democrats, to stimulate members of both parties to think more seriously about the campaign.

Punch and cookies will be served, said Mrs. Marion Wilcox, chairman. She said the party is being given as a good will gesture by the theater management.

Prior to this assembly, outlets for youth had not been strongly encouraged either from within or without the community. The assembly, however, showed a marked tendency among the younger residents to reach out to the larger community through increased interests in organized sports, social and civic activities.

As a result of this—to cite just one instance of the new trend—the Junior Red Cross encouraged recruitment in Marin City and capped 13-year-old Shirley Fowler as the first Junior Grey Lady ever to come out of the community. Shirley, a shy, attractive girl, was assigned to work with a 12-year-old victim of cerebral palsy in the Marindale School for Handicapped Children. The benefits were reciprocal for each of the two children.

Shirley's sympathetic nature was able to reach and stimulate the stricken child in new and meaningful ways, while the effect she was thus able to produce helped Shirley to overcome some of her own shy traits.

Recently the Marin Council has also played a prominent part in establishing a service for youth-in-trouble (and their parents) through the sheriff's department new juvenile bureau, scheduled to begin operation by January, 1961. On the basis of a Marin County study of probation services made by the California Youth Authority, the council—through its board of directors—at the request of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the probation committee appointed a citizens' committee to look at the preventive services directed at youth in the county.

Chairmanned by Rex Silvernale, San Rafael civic leader and businessman, this group called the Council for Prevention of Crime and Delinquency has made several recommendations to the supervisors, including the establishment of the juvenile bureau.

This step forward in the handling of youth problems will deal largely with first and minor offenders in an attempt to settle difficulties quickly. The new bureau will work principally through the offending youth's parents without the necessity of calling in the probation department or placement in juvenile hall as is now done, reserving these agencies for more difficult cases. Deputies trained in handling youth will be assigned to the detail.

Future plans of the Council for Prevention of Crime and Delinquency call for an investigation of ways to find employment for high school drop-outs, of means to help the "fringe kids" who are on the borderline of delinquency, and the possible establishment of a youth council with representation from high schools in the county.

The Marin Council of Community Services has also, with the help of United Crusade funds, established a committee on aging. Dr. Russell R. Klein of Kentfield, president-elect of the Marin County Medical Society, has been appointed chairman of this group. Working with other county agencies concerned with this problem, the committee will explore housing, health needs, health services and recreational potentials for Marin's aging citizens. These problems are made all the more serious because of the county's lack of public transportation, hindering oldsters from reaching the necessary service centers.

While these are but three of the several fields in which the Marin council lends a helping hand throughout the county, the council also serves as a local clearing house for information to residents covering a wide range of human welfare problems. The council has existed in Marin since 1941 but has only been incorporated with a paid, professional staff for about the past three years.

Its services—made possible through United Crusade funds—include: consultation with citizen's committees and agencies about community problems; gathering and maintaining basic facts about the community as these facts relate to health and social welfare planning; working on special studies of services; maintaining an information center and directing persons seeking services to an appropriate agency.

HOW IT WILL LOOK — Proposed housing for Marin City is explained by George Goheen, chairman of the Marin County Redevelopment Commission. Inspecting the architect's drawing are Mrs. Jacqueline Smith, director of the Marin City Program of the Marin Council of Community Services (left), and Shirley Fowler, the first Marin City Junior Red Cross Gray Lady.

Principal Asks Parents Club Keep Going

Bolinas School principal Richard A. Miller made a plea today to parents interested in keeping the Bolinas Parents' Club alive to volunteer to meet with him and help in its reorganization.

The club, functioning for many years, lost its president when Mrs. Ruth Scruggs resigned in June and meetings, which normally start again in September, have not been resumed.

Miller said the club is still legally in existence and has money in the bank. "I think it is too bad that a club which has done so much good is not continuing to function," he said.

He added that, at a school open house Oct. 5, he sent around a questionnaire which received 100 per cent response in favor of continuing the club.

Californian In England Holds Key To A-War

NORTH LUFFENHAM, England (AP)—A husky Californian at this quiet RAF base holds one of the two keys that could unleash nuclear war.

He's Maj. Walter B. Lull, a career Air Force officer who got the flying bug as a youngster at an old air field at Carpenteria.

Around his neck, Lull wears a key as innocent looking as the one you use to open your front door. Lull's key turns a switch that — when coupled with another key kept by a British officer—begins the inexorable countdown of a nuclear - armed Thor missile launch.

Executive editor Paul Veblen of the Santa Barbara News Press toured the base recently and then wrote in a series of three special articles in his paper:

"The tidy base with its tan-brick buildings is tucked well away in the rolling, green back country of England. But you find in a hurry that it has a strong kinship with Santa Barbara County, U.S.A., thousands of miles away, and Vandenberg Air Force Base in particular.

"You hear nostalgic conversation about Lompoc, Santa Maria and Santa Barbara. You hear reminiscent talk about Refugio Beach, King's Supper Club and "that beautiful girl I saw on State Street in Santa Barbara—I never met her but I'll never forget her . . ."

More than 1,200 of the Englishmen who man this missile rampart of the free world trained with the First Missile Division at Vandenberg AFB in California. Many return for refresher courses.

This is one of four bases in England equipped to launch the 65-foot Thor. Under a partnership arrangement, American and British misslemen can send the needlenosed Thor with its nuclear warhead whooshing 1,700 miles into the heartland of Russia.

"There's a sense of mission about this place," says British Squadron Leader W. J. Hibbert, who has the sister key to Lull's. "The men realize that they are part of the most powerful operational force in existence. The way they do their job could mean victory or defeat for the West."

Veblen wrote that this is what would happen if the West is attacked:

The President and the British prime minister would give the joint order: turn the keys.

Squadron Leader Hibbert inserts his key and turns it: The countdown has begun. Lull's key begins a second phase.

Lights flash. The shelter slides back on two rails and the Thor is lifted on a carriage so the deadly nose points at the sky. Refrigerated tanks feed highly volatile liquid oxygen into the missile. The steel trailer that was the Thor's bed pulls away and then comes the awesome cry of the missilemen:

"Fire in the tail!"

And the Free World's nuclear counterpunch zooms away. Total time from the time the first key turning to blastoff: Less than 15 minutes.

The launching procedure can be stopped up to the last minute of the countdown. After that there's no turning back.

Gate Theater Sets Open House

The Sausalito Gate Theater will sponsor an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the theater lobby for Republicans and Democrats, to stimulate members of both parties to think more seriously about the campaign.

Punch and cookies will be served, said Mrs. Marion Wilcox, chairman. She said the party is being given as a good will gesture by the theater management.

"I want it!"

"I've got it!"

He told sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine that the thefts have been occurring for some time.

Ross Valley 4-H Names Officers

Joanne Lally is newly elected president of the Ross Valley 4-H Club.

Other new officers are: Patty Miller, vice president; Maryellen Taylor, treasurer; Carla Pincini, secretary; Sonja Grange, corresponding secretary; Darlene Velasco, membership secretary; Claire Hansen, property director; Mary Lou Lally, historian; Virginia Lally, hostess chairman; and Lorelyn Youngclaus, reporter.

Members will participate in a year-round anti-litter campaign this year under the leadership of Richard Brown.

Next meeting is set for Nov. 12.

Novato Lighting Charge Approved

Novato city councilmen and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. have agreed on a $28,000 yearly contract for city street lighting.

The contract, for five years, is a standard one for cities, and is based on a flat monthly charge per light. The contract cost will rise as more lights are installed.

Lights now are missing, primarily, in the northwest portion of the city. Further light extension will come following a master lighting plan being prepared by PG&E engineers. The plan is expected to be completed in two months.

GIFT FROM CHILE—This statue by Chilean artist Luis Guzman will be displayed at the Sausalito Art Festival this weekend, then placed in Vina del Mar Plaza as a gift from Sausalito's "sister city." (Independent-Journal photo)

Scouts To Assist In Terra Linda Cleanup Program

An army of Scouts will overrun Terra Linda's public areas Saturday in "Operation Cleanup," the Terra Linda Community Services District announced today.

The concentrated effort to spruce up more than 30 public areas will begin at 9 a.m., with volunteers meeting at the rear of Scotty's Market. Boy Scout Troops 67 and 76, Cub Scout Packs 67 and 76, Terra Linda Brownie and Girl Scout troops will take part in the clean-up drive. Adult scout leaders will supervise.

Free passes to Rafael Theater will be given to youngsters who assist in "Operation Cleanup."

A truck from Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District will be supplied and manned by volunteer workers.

SAUSALITO STAGE SET

Chile Artist's Statue To Be Art Feature

A statue by Chilean artist Luis Guzman will be at the center of the stage at the Sausalito Art Festival when it opens at 9 a. m. Saturday at the city parking lot at Bridgeway and Bay Street.

All other exhibits, by some 70 artists, will be by Marin County artists.

The statue is of a woman holding a fish. It is to be a gift to the city when the festival is over, to be placed at the pool in Vina Del Mar Plaza.

The honor of allowing Guzman to exhibit his paintings, pottery and six sculptures was given, according to Mrs. M. Justin Herman, chairman of the Sausalito people-to-people program, as part of the exchange between the sister cities of Vina Del Mar, Chile, and Sausalito.

Guzman returned, with his wife, recently to Santiago to resume teaching art. He has been a recipient of a United Nations fellowship to the United States, and lived in San Francisco while working with the Mills College Guild in Oakland.

"We are very fortunate to have an outstanding artist such as Mr. Guzman represented in Sausalito," Sausalito ceramist Mary Lindheim said. She said he is one of Chile's finest artists. His works have been exhibited in the U. S., Europe and South America.

The festival, co-sponsored by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce and the Sausalito Art Festival committee, will run Saturday and Sunday from 9 a. m. to dark.

Four cash prizes will be awarded to artists, according to Mrs. Elsie Milne of the chamber. William Fleshman is chairman of the festival lot.

Six-Cent Robbery Means Eight Years

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Three men convicted of robbing a sailor of six cents will serve eight-year prison terms. The armed robbery occurred in a parking lot and the three men said they were trying to get 30 cents for passage through the Norfolk-Portsmouth tunnel.

Novato Lighting Charge Approved

Novato city councilmen and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. have agreed on a $28,000 yearly contract for city street lighting.

The contract, for five years, is a standard one for cities, and is based on a flat monthly charge per light. The contract cost will rise as more lights are installed.

Lights now are missing, primarily, in the northwest portion of the city. Further light extension will come following a master lighting plan being prepared by PG&E engineers. The plan is expected to be completed in two months.

SAUSALITO STAGE SET

Chile Artist's Statue To Be Art Feature

A statue by Chilean artist Luis Guzman will be at the center of the stage at the Sausalito Art Festival when it opens at 9 a. m. Saturday at the city parking lot at Bridgeway and Bay Street.

All other exhibits, by some 70 artists, will be by Marin County artists.

The statue is of a woman holding a fish. It is to be a gift to the city when the festival is over, to be placed at the pool in Vina Del Mar Plaza.

The honor of allowing Guzman to exhibit his paintings, pottery and six sculptures was given, according to Mrs. M. Justin Herman, chairman of the Sausalito people-to-people program, as part of the exchange between the sister cities of Vina Del Mar, Chile, and Sausalito.

Guzman returned, with his wife, recently to Santiago to resume teaching art. He has been a recipient of a United Nations fellowship to the United States, and lived in San Francisco while working with the Mills College Guild in Oakland.

"We are very fortunate to have an outstanding artist such as Mr. Guzman represented in Sausalito," Sausalito ceramist Mary Lindheim said. She said he is one of Chile's finest artists. His works have been exhibited in the U. S., Europe and South America.

The festival, co-sponsored by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce and the Sausalito Art Festival committee, will run Saturday and Sunday from 9 a. m. to dark.

Four cash prizes will be awarded to artists, according to Mrs. Elsie Milne of the chamber. William Fleshman is chairman of the festival lot.

APARTMENT BUILDING RISES — Taking shape as another addition to the burgeoning apartment district in East San Rafael near the canal are the Marina Gardens Apartments at 137 Canal Street. They are being built by Custom Builders (Parnow Brothers), who also built the 60-unit Marina Landings Apartments across the street. This is the first of two buildings, each of which will have 20 two-bedroom unfurnished apartments.

Catholic Educators Seeking Way To Cut School Program To 10 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholic educators, caught between rising costs and booming enrollments, are looking for ways to cut the traditional 12-year elementary and secondary school to 10 years.

The 12-man program and plans committee of the National Catholic Education Assn., meeting here this week took a long, hard look at the ways by which even more water may be squeezed out of what is generally a very basic program of academic subjects.

Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, executive secretary of the NCEA, said: "We know it is possible for many students to do in 10 years what they now get in 12, although that isn't necessarily true for all of them.

"We are looking into new classroom techniques — teaching machines, nongraded primaries, and educational television—as well as the idea of longer school days and school years. We have known for a long time that all the schools, both public and private, waste too much time. The traditional three-month summer vacation isn't realistic, based as it is on the idea that children must be free in the summer to help their parents on the farm,' he said.

On the touchy question of federal aid to private and parochial schools, Msgr. Hochwalt said, "We only desire what would be constitutional." He noted that Catholic schools everywhere participate in the government's hot school lunch program, and that in some areas school bus costs are paid from public funds.

Msgr. Hochwalt added that federal loans for classroom construction would be "most helpful but outright federal grants would be even better."

Personal Debt Volume Rising In America

NEW YORK (AP)—The American people have built up a record volume of personal debt over reecnt years, the Institute of Life Insurance said yesterday.

This debt takes a billion dollars a week in contractural repayments, the organization stated. This is close to a sixth of all personal income after taxes and is more than double that of 10 years ago.

"Debt repayment today," the institute said, "amounts to a substantially greater sum than the personal income tax bill (federal, state and local combined), and next to food and shelter expenditures represents the biggest single charge on the consumer's pocketbook."

The institute added:

"The people at large are continuing to save regularly in the more usual forms of thrift and have built up a record backlog of about 300 billion dollars in life insurance and other long-term accumulated savings of individuals."
